

Sen. Lorimer Denies Charges

NEARLY DROWNED WHILE IN BATHING

Boy Was Rescued by Patrolman Considine and Edward Carney

Joseph Schofield, aged 11 years of Beverly, who is visiting in this city, narrowly escaped death by drowning in the Concord river yesterday afternoon, when he was suddenly seized with cramps while swimming. He was saved by Edward Carney of 73 Billerica street, and Patrolman Joseph Considine, who fortunately were on the spot in the nick of time, and pulled him out of the treacherous waters when he was sinking for the third time.

Young Schofield and several other boys about his age were having a splendid time taking a dip in the Concord river opposite the Six Arch bridge. Schofield was about in the middle of the river, when he was suddenly seized with cramps. He called for help

ILLINOIS SENATOR MADE A BITTER NEW MARKS MADE ATTACK UPON HIS ENEMIES IN STRONG SPEECH

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Renewing his attack upon his opponents, Senator Lorimer today began the conclusion of his speech of defense in the senate. His belligerent attitude of yesterday, when he asked for no quarter but assailed those who had been active in prosecuting the case against him, was apparent from the outset. He launched once more into an attack upon Col. Roosevelt and characterized as "inaccurate and unreliable" the report of the minority members of the committee which investigated his election.

Well filled galleries and an attentive audience of senators and house members heard Mr. Lorimer. Dramatic gestures again characterized his delivery as he strode back and forth in the center aisle of the senate chamber.

The attack on Col. Roosevelt, when he opened his speech, was based on testimony given by George B. Corleau yesterday before a senate committee regarding the $1,500,000 campaign fund raised for the republican political campaign in 1904.

Mr. Lorimer referred to Col. Roosevelt as "the custodian of all the morals of the country, private and public."

"Of course," he exclaimed, "not a cent of that $1,500,000 could have been contributed by the predatory wealth of the country. Surely all of it was the free gift of the common people for whom this man is the great champion. No malefactor contributed to that fund—only the common people of whom he was the guardian."

The letter from President Taft to Col. Roosevelt, expressing the hope that Lorimer would be ousted, which became public in the pre-convention campaign, was again taken up by Lorimer. He drew attention to President Taft's phrase emphasizing the "necessity of winning." He declared his enemies had tried to win "not by a free and fair fight, but by 'sneaking up behind like a thief in the night.'"

"Was ever mortal man ever more completely surrounded by conspiracy and intrigue?" exclaimed Lorimer dramatically.

"The president of the United States, William Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, the ex-president, a former democratic candidate for the presidency, William Jennings Bryan, and the trust press of the country all were in it—all joined in the conspiracy to poison the minds of the citizenship in order that one man might be destroyed to satisfy the rancor of the most corrupt set of newspaper owners known to the history of the country."

Mr. Lorimer claimed that the Helms committee of the Illinois legislature was a subterfuge to bring about a second inquiry by the United States senate.

He contended that the Helms inquiry had not been conducted by Illinois legislators, by "Editor Kohlzaat, John J. Hesley and the Hearst newspapers." He declared the hearing had been neither impartial nor thorough, and asserted it was conducted only for the purpose of bringing the matter into the senate again in order that it might be tried by a new set of judges.

Mr. Lorimer explained his failure to take the stand as a witness in the first Lorimer investigation by the senate, by saying that even the Chicago Tribune had not counted upon connecting him with any corrupt practices.

"You cannot strike out the former verdict of the senate," he exclaimed, "and I believe that I have a title that has been declared valid."

Senator Lorimer then announced that he proposed to discuss for the first time in his address to the senate some of the evidence in the case. He began by reading an affidavit by former state Representative Clark, who was alleged to have voted for him on a promise that he would be allowed to name a new postmaster at Vandallia, Illinois. The affidavit denied the charge flatly.

Lorimer charged Senator Kern with attempting to make it appear that Charles S. Luke, a dead member of the Illinois legislature, had testified in the case. Luke had died, he said, before any of the hearings began.

Soon, Lorimer took up the allegations against Jandus, Shepherd and Tippit, also members of the Illinois legislature. The implication attached to the fact that Shepherd and Tippit had rented safe deposit boxes at the time of his election, he denounced as mere insinuations. Senators opposed to him, he declared, did not care for the facts.

Then Lorimer took up the four so-called confessions of men said to have been bribed to vote for him. The first of these was Charles A. White.

"If you have any case here it must stand or fall on White's testimony," he said.

He declared White was a perjurer, that he had admitted perjury under oath. Lee O'Neill Browne had been bribed to vote for him.

Lorimer contended it had been shown that White had announced his intention of voting for him before the alleged bribing transaction took place. Ten days before his election White had voluntarily come to him and promised his vote, he said.

Senator Lorimer appeared to have recovered from the weakened condition in which his vigorous speech yesterday had left him and he continued through a spirited denunciation of his enemies with energy.

These opposed to him declared his fight a futile one and said that the final vote would show a substantial majority against him. His friends, grave and silent for the most part, made no predictions.

Senator Lorimer took up the criticisms made by Senator Reed in his speech yesterday on Lorimer's contribution of $10,000 to the defense of Lee O'Neill Browne, charged with bribing White. Mr. Lorimer explained this act with much display of feeling toward Senator Reed. He intimated that the latter had praised his attack in terms calculated to convey suspicion where the facts did not.

"I know that Lee O'Neill Browne never paid out one dollar to influence a vote for Lorimer. I know that the state's attorney, the Tribune, and the governor were in conspiracy to destroy Lorimer," he shouted.

He declared he had contributed to Browne's defense because he knew that "if Brown was convicted it would be hard to make anyone believe that Lorimer had not bought his seat. They thought, Browne could not escape. All the power of the third degree was to be used upon him by State's Attorney Wayman."

Returning to White, Mr. Lorimer declared no one had a right to accept the testimony of a man who had said he would sell his soul for money.

"If you are to believe there is anything in this case you must settle this question in your mind and then you have settled it all. You don't need to go to Link, Beckmeier or Holstlaw. That is all there is in the case," declared the accused senator.

Mr. Lorimer complained that the tendency was to believe men only who testified against him and to disbelieve all who testified for him. He declared that he would see that the truth should become known and believed.

Mr. Lorimer explained his presence at Springfield during the sitting of the legislature as due to his interest in the case of deep waterway project.

The allegation in the minority report that Browne had been his (Lorimer's) agent he dismissed as an insinuation. Accounting for his support by democrats, Mr. Lorimer declared nearly all the Illinois democrats who voted for him were his personal friends, while the republicans who had voted for Senator Lea in Tennessee, he said, "were delivered to him by the leaders of the republican organization."

Several dramatic moments occurred during the senator's speech. He aided White, he said because the latter had supported him.

"The minority of the committee would have you believe such a course wrong," he said. "All right, Senators Lea and Kenyon and Kerr" pointing to each in turn, "you may live by that rule if you will, but all my life I have tried to make a reputation for never having gone back on, or turned down a friend."

Throwing up his hands and turning his face upward, Senator Lorimer dramatically cried: "Let him judge who shall be the final judge, whether it is correct to do unto others as you would have them do unto you. By that rule have I lived, and by that rule shall I die, though all the world, including the senate, shall condemn me."

NEW MARKS MADE BY YANKEE ATHLETES

Runners and Jumpers From the United States Make an Excellent Showing

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 12.—

The seventh day of the athletic section of the Olympic games opened this morning with the prospect of providing a more interesting session than that of yesterday. Delightful weather continued to prevail and the temperature was favorable to the American competitors.

Early this morning a large group of big men gathered for the unfinished rounds of the discus throwing contest, best hand. Shortly afterward the 900 meters entered for the 400 metres flat race turned out to compete in the 15 heats of that event, the semi-final heats of which are also set for decision today. The 3000 metres team race, also run in heats, the final of the 110 metres hurdle race, the running long jump and the 4000 metres cross country run, gave great variety to the program.

The morning started by a fine performance by the Finn, A. R. Taipale, in the discus throwing best hand, final. He beat with his throw of 45 metres 21 centimetres (148 feet 1 1/2 inches) not only the Olympic record of 135 feet 1-3 inch, made by the American, Sheridan, in Athens in 1896, but also the world's record of 145 feet 3 1/2 inches, established by James Duncan at Celtic park on June 2, this year. R. L. Byrd's throw of 42 metres 32 centimetres (138 feet 9 5/8 inches and James H. Duncan's throw of 42 metres 28 centimetres (138 feet 8 3/8 inches) also exceeded the standing Olympic record.

The first try-outs for the 400 metres flat race were largely formalities. In several of the heats there were only two entries and what races there were usually occurred between the second and third men. The first and second in each trial heat, qualified for the semi-finals run later in the day. The members of the American team who secured places in the semi-finals were: James M. Hosenberger, I. A. C. C.; Melvin W. Sheppard, I. A. C. C.; Donald B. Young, Boston A. C.; Har- old B. Hart, University of Michigan; Edward P. Lindberg, Chicago A. C.; Clarence S. Edmundson, Seattle A. C.; Ira N. Davenport, University of Chicago, and Charles D. Reidpath, Syracuse university. England secured six representatives in the semi-finals, Sweden five, France and Norway two each, while South Africa, Italy, Germany, Japan and Hungary were all represented.

No attempt was made to run fast in the heats where only two men competed and it was noticeable that Melvin W. Sheppard and E. W. Haley, England, who ran a dead heat in the second heat merely covered the course at a jog trot, taking 66 2/5 seconds, to cover the 400 metres.

The appearance of the army officers in the arena for the cross country run of about 4,000 metres (nearly two miles and a half) clad in regulation running clothes proved the popularity of the military.

The men were sent off at intervals of one minute. The officers started in front of the Royal box. They ran a third of a lap round the track and then disappeared through the entrance. There were 22 starters, 10 of them Swedes, 3 British, 3 Russians, 2 French, 2 Danes, and 1 American and 1 Austrian.

Lieut. George S. Patton, Jr., U. S. A., took the regulation sprinters' start. He got off more like a runner than most of the starters and was given a hearty cheer. He was the ninth to be sent off.

The first four officers to start re-entered the stadium in the following order: Brule, France; Godtfred, England; Bernhardi, Austria; and Stranne, Sweden. Then came Haaggstrom, a Swede; Jolder, a Dane; and Versaell, a Swede, in order but Durant of England, who started fifth, entered eighth.

Lieut. Patton had a head of 25 yards in front of Ashbrink, Sweden, when he re-entered the stadium but lost ground in the last 50 yards and finished tenth. The Swedish officer who had started tenth passed him two yards from the tape. Lieut. Patton threw himself forward and fell almost fainting on the grass at the finish. A number of men went to his assistance and rubbed his legs and arms and after a few minutes he was able to walk off, holding the arm of a friend. The remainder of the officers re-entered the stadium practically in their starting order but Littlehook, Sweden, passed Hohenkhal, Russia, on the home stretch.

The winners in the modern Pentathlon long are reckoned according to the lowest number of points made by them in the whole of the five events. The first in each event is credited with one, the second with two, etc.

When the announcement of the result of the Modern Pentathlon was made and three Swedish flags rose at the same moment to the top of the flagstaffs at the end of the stadium the whole assembly of 25,000 people rose to their feet and sang the Swedish National Anthem. Then they gave three cheers for the winners while the American competitors gave an American yell followed by "Sweden" three times, after which the Swedes applauded Lieut. Patton.

The outcome of the discus throwing was another disappointment to the American athletes who had counted upon a clean sweep in that event. The story Finn, A. R. Taipale, was too much for the American competitors.

The United States soon had her turn however, when the megaphone announced that Albert L. Guttererson of the University of Vermont, at his very first attempt at the running long jump, which was then beginning, had well beaten the Olympic record of 24 feet 6 1/2 inches made by Irons of the United States team in London in 1908. Guttererson cleared 24 feet 11 inches and a small fraction.

In the 3000 metres team race the first heat was won by the United States team, consisting of Abel R. Kiviat, I. A. C. C.; Tel. S. Berna, Cornell university; Norman S. Taber, Brown university; Louis Scott, South Paterson Y. M. C. A. and George V. Bonhag, I. A. C. C. But H. Kolehmainen, Finland, came in first. Kolehmainen's time was 8 minutes 30 9/10 seconds.

In the second heat Germany won, outdistancing the Swedish team, which was merely giving an exhibition, the five Swedes running breast to breast.

The British team ran alone in the third heat, South Africa, Russia, Italy and France had all entered teams, but they failed to start.

In the same event a Canadian, C. D. Bricker, secured second place, scoring two points for his team, and Sweden registered a point by G. Aberg securing third place.

The discus throwing competition was something of a disappointment for the American team, who met a powerful opponent in the Finn, A. R. Taipale, who obtained first place with a world's record throw of 148 feet 1 1/2 inches. Two United States men, H. L. Byrd and James H. Duncan, were second and third respectively.

Nine American runners qualified for the semi-finals of the 400 metres flat race and when these were being run off the record was broken twice, the first time by Charles D. Reidpath, who, with his time of 48 7/10 seconds, knocked five-tenths of a second off the standing Olympic record of 49 1/5 seconds. This new record, however, not to stand long, as James E. Meredith of Merceburg Academy whittled it down by another seven-tenths of a second. He secured the distance in 48 seconds.

GREAT CROPS

HIGH COST OF LIVING TO BE REDUCED

CHICAGO, July 12.—Nature is rendering valuable assistance in the solution of the high cost of living problem, according to Chicago provision dealers. Abundant rainfall throughout the country gives promise of bumper crops and the practical effect already being manifested in the local market. Vegetables of all kinds are selling 50 per cent lower than the price quoted a year ago and a still further decline is expected by dealers.

The fruit crop appears to be as promising from the consumers' standpoint as vegetables and cereals.

WOODSON TO RETIRE

CHICAGO, July 12.—Urey Woodson, former secretary of the democratic national committee, came here and made arrangements for headquarters for the different chiefs, who will meet here next Monday to deliberate on plans for Woodrow Wilson's campaign.

Mr. Woodson said that when the campaign committee formally organized his duties will have been completed and that he would then retire from active politics.

DISCUSSED NEW PARTY

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 12.—Timothy L. Woodruff and A. P. Moore of Pittsburgh called on Col. Roosevelt at Sagamore Hill today. Mr. Woodruff talked over the work of organizing the new party in Manhattan, and Mr. Moore discussed the situation generally.

Col. Roosevelt was asked if he would comment on Senator Lorimer's attack on him in the senate. "I certainly have no comment to make on Mr. Lorimer," was the reply.

PRISONERS ESCAPED

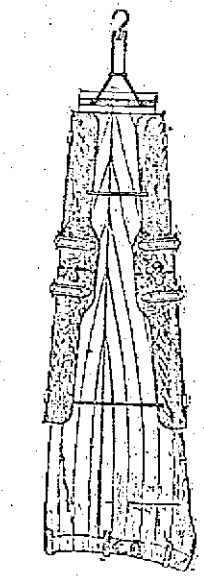

PORTLAND, Me., July 12.—A sharp watch was being kept throughout Cumberland county and in other sections of the five short term prisoners who escaped from the county jail last evening. Up to noon no trace of them had been found since they broke jail and separated.

Man Was Found Guilty in Police Court by Judge Pickman Today

Willfred Aubrey and Angeline Pepin were arraigned before Judge John J. Pickman in police court this morning on a complaint charging them with adultery. James C. Reilly appeared for the government and the defendants were represented by Daniel J. Donahue. Several witnesses were heard and the court overruled a motion of counsel to have the charge dismissed.

After counsel had argued Judge Pickman found both defendants guilty and ordered each to be sentenced to three months in jail. They appealed and were held for the superior court.

Neglected His Wife

John M. Ryan was charged with failing to provide proper support for his wife. At the conclusion of the testimony offered by both parties, the court found the defendant guilty and placed him on probation on condition that he would pay his wife $5 a week.

The court yesterday on a complaint charging him with the larceny of a pair of shoes, razor and 25 cents in money, the property of Thomas Willett, and entered a plea of not guilty, changed his plea to that of guilty this morning and after the court had considered the testimony in the case he was sentenced to two months in jail.

Drunken Offenders
Edward Hebert denied that he was drunk, but after Patrolmen Ganley, Abbott and Hogan had testified as to the man's condition he was found guilty and a fine of $2 was imposed.

Joseph J. Burke was sentenced to one month in jail. Henry C. Dixon was fined $8, and five first offenders were fined $2 each.

Assault and Battery

Charles Williams of Tyngsboro was charged with assault and battery on Mosca Israel and the case was continued for one week by request of counsel for the defense. He was held under $500 bonds for his appearance at that time.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE DENOUNCES ROOSEVELT

Says Thousands of Republicans Favor Wilson

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Under the caption "The Case of Mr. Roosevelt," Senator La Follette has written the following editorial in the current number of La Follette's Weekly:

"Bryan at Baltimore, foregoing all chance of his own nomination, marshaling all his forces, braving Tammany and the trusts, to rescue his party from their destination, carrying the convention for the adoption of the most progressive democratic platform yet offered, and the nomination of the most progressive democratic candidate available, was a towering figure of moral power and patriotic devotion to civic righteousness.

"Roosevelt at Chicago, backed by money derived from the stock watering operations of the steel trust and the Harvester trust, organizing what are now confessed to have been fake contests as to nearly two hundred delegates in order to control the republican convention and secure his own nomination, refusing to add in making a progressive platform bound to have the nomination or destroy the republican party, was a most striking example of misdirected power and unworthy ambition.

"Roosevelt had as great an opportunity to serve the progressive cause at Chicago, as Bryan had at Baltimore. But Roosevelt was serving the man, not the cause. He wanted one thing—he wanted the nomination. And yet he did not have enough votes to nominate himself upon any honest basis. He did have enough delegates in that convention ultimately to have nominated a real progressive and adopted a strong progressive platform. He could even have nominated Hadley on such a platform, and progressive republicans could have supported Hadley in much the same spirit as hundreds of thousands of them will now support Wilson. Neither Hadley nor Wilson are veterans in the progressive ranks. Neither of them has been tried by the several tests. Both appear to be men of high ideals whose records, though short, give promise.

"But Roosevelt would not consider Hadley. He would have none but himself. At the first suggestion of Hadley, he ordered the third party manoeuvres, lest he lose his followers. If he had the evidence to prove that Taft could not be honestly and fairly nominated, why did he not direct his headquarters to present that evidence to the national committee and then to the convention and the country so clearly that the convention would not have dared to nominate Taft, and that Taft could not, in honor, have accepted the nomination if made?

"The reason is obvious. An analysis of the testimony will, I am convinced, show that neither Taft nor Roosevelt had a majority of honestly or regularly elected delegates. This the managers upon both sides well understood. Each candidate was trying to seat a sufficient number of fraudulently elected delegates, and to those regularly chosen to support him, to secure control of the convention, and 'steam roll' the nominations. It was a proceeding with which each was acquainted, and which each had sanctioned in prior conventions.

"This explains the extraordinary conduct of Roosevelt. He could not enter upon such analysis of the evidence as would prove Taft's regularly elected delegates in the minority, without necessarily subjecting his own spurious credentials to an examination so critical as would expose the falsity of his own contention that he had an honest election majority of the delegates. He therefore deliberately chose to chain everything, to cry fraud, to bully the national committee, and the convention, and having thus created a condition which would make impossible a calm investigation of cases on merit, carry the convention by force.

"That this is the true psychology of the Roosevelt proceedings becomes perfectly plain. He was there to force his own nomination or smash the convention. He was not there to preserve the integrity of the republican party and make it an instrument for the promotion of progressive principles and the restoration of government to the people. Otherwise he would have directed his floor managers to contest every inch of the ground for a progressive platform before the committee on resolutions and in the open convention.

"But Mr. Roosevelt was not governed by a suggestion of that spirit of high historic and unselfish purpose which Bryan furnished a magnificent example one week later in the democratic convention at Baltimore. Instead, he filled the public ear with sound and fury. He ruthlessly sacrificed everything to the one idea of his being the one candidate. He ragged his followers in the convention without caring for record or facts upon which the public could have a definite, intelligent judgment regarding the validity of Taft's nomination. He substituted an assertion as to a platform of progressive principles. He clamored loudly for purging the convention roll of tainted delegates without purging his own nomination of his tainted support. He offered no reason for a third party exception to his own scheming craving for a third term.

INVITED TO ATTEND CELEBRATION AT GETTYSBURG

The Massachusetts commission on the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg has sent out invitations for the event, and Mr. James E. Hill ("Old Troop Hill") of this city is in receipt of one of the letters.

The celebration is to be held on the famous battlefield July 1-4, 1913, and will be under the auspices of the U. S. government and the state of Pennsylvania. It is the purpose of the committee selected to have as many as possible of the actual veterans and members of those bodies mentioned as being held in reserve in the report of Gen. Mead present at the celebration. It is expected that each state will cooperate in the movement by assisting the veterans in their transportation to and from Gettysburg, and the national government is prepared to furnish railroads, sleeping quarters and hospital arrangements for all the veterans present at the field.

As the celebration is to be nationwide, the confederate veterans of this battle will be present, and the hope that the breach between north and south will be fully healed by the joint celebration. Fuller details of the proposed affair will be made public as the plans are brought to perfection.

MAN FOUND DEAD

John Bennett, aged 55 years, was found dead last night in his room, 378 Middlesex street, by the employees of Undertaker George W. Healey, who had been called to the premises by the landlady. Bennett, of whom very little is known, had not been seen since last Wednesday, and yesterday the landlady, becoming alarmed, summoned the police and the undertakers employed, and when they entered the room they found the dead man lying on his bed. Deceased wore a dark suit and weighed about 150 pounds. The body was removed to the morgue of Undertaker Healey.

CHELMSFORD

Ephraim Ayotte, foreman for H. L. Parkhurst of Chelmsford, met with a serious accident on Wednesday, when he had several ribs broken and sustained a number of severe bruises. He was engaged in teaming large poles from Harvard to Clinton and was in charge of two teams. Upon reaching Still River, in attempting to leave the team he was driving to go to the second, the animals started suddenly, throwing him to the ground between the wheels. The rear wheels passed over his body causing the above mentioned injuries. The horses ran for a short distance before they were captured. Word of the accident was received by telephone and F. O. Dutton went to Still River by automobile and brought Mr. Ayotte to his home here where he will probably be confined for several weeks.

DAVID I. WALSH IS OUT FOR FOSS

Will Run Himself if Gov.
is Not Candidate

FITCHBURG, July 12.—David I. Walsh, when told yesterday afternoon that Dist. Atty. Joseph C. Pelletier had taken out papers for the democratic nomination for governor, said he preferred to wait until he was fully assured that Gov. Foss could not be persuaded to be a candidate for another term before he made answer to the numerous telegrams, letters and personal requests of his friends to become a candidate.

"I am a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor," he added, "but have delayed making any announcement because of the hope of the many party leaders that Gov. Foss be induced to once more be the candidate. When their efforts have resulted in the positive assurance that the governor, under no circumstances, will be the candidate, I shall begin an aggressive campaign for the nomination. The governor's final decision, I believe, will be known before the end of the present week."

REV. FR. GUNN

WELL KNOWN JESUIT PRIEST
BURIED AT WORCESTER

WORCESTER, July 12.—The funeral of Rev. Fr. Francis W. Gunn, S. J., professor of mathematics at Holy Cross college, took place yesterday at the college chapel, where the simple services of the Jesuit order were conducted by Rev. Fr. Joseph N. Dinand, S. J., president of Holy Cross.

The services were attended by all the members of the Holy Cross faculty and by the priests of the Providence diocese, who are making their annual retreat at the college. After the office for the dead was chanted by the priests, a mass of requiem was offered by Rev. Fr. Dinand and then the body was escorted to the grave in the college cemetery by all the priests, who carried lighted candles and offered prayers for the dead. At the grave the priests formed a hollow square and chanted the "Benedictus."

HELD IN $1000

BROCKTON MAN CHARGED WITH
HIGHWAY ROBBERY

BROCKTON, July 12.—When Joseph P. Kerns, aged 28, of 228 Grove street, stood up in the police court yesterday morning to hear what Judge Warren C. Reed had to say regarding his hearing, he was about the most surprised man ever seen in this court when held in $1000 to answer to the grand jury on the charge of highway robbery in stealing a bottle of whiskey, a $5 bill, and a pipe from William McDonald.

Celebrating the Fourth and feeling in a very tensely patriotic spirit, McDonald was on his way home when, so it is charged, Kerns, William F. Lally and Harry Linahan came up from behind, held his arms and took from his hip pocket his bottle of all-of-joy. He was then hustled into an alley and the liver and the pipe extracted.

Kerns was arrested and the charge of highway robbery was placed against him, and the police are making a strenuous search for the other two men.

INCOME TAX

MAY CAUSE BITTER CLASH IN
IOWA CONVENTION

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 12.—A bitter clash over the income tax law plank of the platform was one of the possibilities that faced the democratic state convention today. Rumors were current that a minority report on the plank as drawn up by the majority of the committee last night would be presented.

It was understood that the plank in the tentative platform provided for the amendment of the law and the submission of the amendment to a referendum vote of the people. This was too mild a declaration to suit the radical element, who stood for the repeal of the law.

Besides the adoption of the platform, the convention was scheduled to name candidates for lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer and attorney general. Chairman Kearney ruled last night the convention was not bound to limit itself to endorsing any one candidate for each office.

A. J. Schmitz and J. C. Karel were nominated for governor by the convention last night. Both names will go on the primary ballot in September.

DESPERATE YEGG

INSPECTOR ROBINSON

BOSTON, July 12.—Postoffice Inspector Harry Robinson returned to Boston from New York yesterday, bringing back news of the arrest in that city of William Driscoll, alias Tom Morris and Ottawa Irish, a Canadian, and reputed to be one of the cleverest safe blowers in his own country and the United States.

Driscoll has been hunted for by the American and Canadian governments and police officials for almost a year. He was walking along Houston street, New York, when taken into custody by Inspector Robinson and a New York officer.

Driscoll is now in jail at Chelsea, Vt., and will be charged with breaking and entering a store at Williamstown, Vt., on the night of Aug. 18, 1911, when a sensational battle took place between the yeggmen and officers. Revolver shots were exchanged, but happily no one was injured, although a bullet came dangerously near hitting a federal officer. The postoffice at Williamstown is located in the store

STORM WAS SEVERE BUT BROUGHT RELIEF

Lightning Struck the House of
Joseph Manseau in
Kenwood

The electrical storm of yesterday lopped several acres off the temperature and while it was responsible for some considerable damage by fire it did a world of good. The storm was quite violent here but not as violent as in some sections. In Boston the storm broke the hot wave at the cost of two lives and a tremendous property loss. The greatest damage done in this city was the destruction of the barn at the Chestnut Street hospital.

The humidity was greater yesterday than on previous days during the hot spell and everybody was fearful lest the storm that was seen to gather would pass by and it was about to go by without saying "hello" when a stiff breeze from the north caught it amid ships and then there was something doing. The wind during the afternoon was as strong as the breeze and to the vagrancy of the wind we are indebted for that almost golden rain.

The total rainfall was just one inch and this is much the information being obtained at the office of the Locks & Canals. The first part of the shower was heavy and it was estimated that about eighteen-hundredths of an inch fell in less than ten minutes. Asked if he thought the rainfall would affect the probably would be noticeable but he believed that most of the rain soaked into the ground and did not make its way to the river. The ground was thirsty and badly in need of a drink. The rain caused a number of wash-outs in different parts of the city. The policemen on their beats telephoned to the police station the police station notified the city streets and lights were placed at the dangerous points. There were many wash-outs on the hill in Centralville and elsewhere wasn't far behind. The great rush of water on Fort Hill swept away the slender sidewalks and the cars, barking in the streets were not able to take care of the great rush of water and in several places the streets were flooded. About all of Oak street was washed down to Huntington street where it was piled up in hills.

A sewer in Moody street between Allen and Spaulding streets was blocked and the water filled the street. A tree in Mansur street was struck and the street was blocked for several hours. Three large limbs were torn from a tree on the south side of the South common. A tree on Sherman street, another on Allen and Bradley streets and a part of a tree on Wyman street were blown down.

The street railway, the electric light company and the telephone company had their troubles. The telephone company reported that about 300 lines had been disabled by the storm; the Electric Light corporation received a number of complaints, chiefly from Westford, the Chestnuts, and the Highlands and Oaklands sections. The majority of the complaints were for damaged lights and fuses and the trouble was quickly remedied. Electric cars were stalled, cars being put out of commission on all lines. The officials of the company said it was one of the most damaging storms in years and the truth of the statement was borne out by the long line of crippled cars from the square to the power house.

A bolt of lightning struck the residence of Harry Dunlap at 116 Hanks street, during the height of the storm, but very little damage was done. Lightning struck a large tree in Springfield Lippes yard which is located in Fourth street. The tree fell with a crash to the ground destroying several grape vines. The same bolt also struck Zephyr Russell's barn, but the damage was slight.

The chimney of the house of J. R. Smith, at 37 Butterfield street, was struck by lightning, and though the bolt passed down through the house, the only damage caused was the burning of a mattress.

The house of William J. Benoit at 1175 Lakeview avenue was struck by lightning. The damage was slight and was fully covered by insurance through the office of E. C. Church.

The house of Ernest G. Westberg, 19 Forest street was struck by lightning yesterday afternoon and the roof was considerably damaged by the bolt.

The home of Josephat Manseau in Kenwood was struck by a lightning bolt yesterday afternoon, but the damage was slight. The same bolt struck and killed Mr. Manseau's dog, a valuable New Foundland, and it stunned his two young daughters who were swinging in the hammock in the yard. The hammock was overturned and the little girls were thrown to the ground. They were picked up in an unconscious condition and carried into the house where they were revived. The lightning also struck and destroyed several trees in the district.

FINAL DISCUSSIONS

BEFORE THE NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

CHICAGO, July 12.—Although the ranks of the educators in attendance at the National Education Association were somewhat depleted before the morning session of this, the closing day, was called, there was a large attendance to hear the final discussions. The first subject for discussion for the day was "Rural life conditions and rural education."

The subject was to be taken up in five branches. — Warren H. Wilson, director of missions, New York city; T. R. Foust, superintendent of schools, Greensboro, N. C.; E. J. Russell, director of Rothamstead experimental station, Harpenden, England; and Philander C. Clark, United States commissioner of education, Washington, D. C., were to discuss phases of the subject.

Albert E. Winslip, editor of an educational paper, Boston; Baroness Bertha von Suttner, Vienna; and Luther M. Gulick, director of the department of child hygiene, Russell Sage Foundation, New York city, were on the program as the speakers at the evening session.

Salt Lake City, it was said, would probably be the next meeting place.

MISSION CIRCLE

OF FIFTH STREET CHURCH ENJOYED OUTING AT TYNGSBORO

The members of the Woman's Mission Circle of Fifth Street Baptist church, Lowell, were the guests of Mrs. William J. Collins of Tyngsboro on Wednesday afternoon and evening, July 10. A pleasing program was rendered, many taking part. The subject of the meeting was "The Mission to the Lepers," with the Misses Florence Stiles and Glenna Pratt acting as soloists. A beautiful collation was served by the hostess and a general good time followed. The return to the city was made in the evening and all enjoyed the affair one of the best ever held.

The Chance of a Lifetime

Spot Cash Buys the Entire Stock of Springfield's Famous Tailors, Renison & Co.,
Phoenix Building, 307 Main Street, Springfield.

As to Renison & Co.

Boston alone is the only city in New England having a tailor ranking higher than Renison & Co. of Springfield and Boston has perhaps only one.

Renison & Co. handled the most exclusive line of woolsens imported by this country, and they numbered among their customers only those whose pocketbooks were as stout as their clothing tastes fastidious. Doctors, lawyers, professional performers of celebrity, business and mercantile leaders of the entire East, carried their exacting demands in clothing from their native cities to Renison & Co. of Springfield.

Necessarily the product of this concern was of the highest order obtainable, and the cloth entering suitings to be sold for $10, $30 and $60, almost invariably cost Renison $4, $5 and $6 per yard.

Notice!

You have been reading my advertisements in this paper for a long time. Did you ever notice that I never used the term foreign woolsens in those advertisements?

When I get foreign woolsens somebody has lost money, somebody has lost very big money. We can't get big trades on foreign woolsens every day or every month. I can be careful, however, not to claim that I always have the foreign stuff.

Renison & Co. did have them—They carried them all the time in big lots. I have them now, so I can sell them to you—Genuine foreign woolsens at your own price.

I want the people of Lowell to get as much of the Renison & Co. suitings as trade during the dull heated period will stand. To those old customers of mine whose present wants are supplied, I say come in and pick out something you like and let me put your selection away for a month or two months or till you are ready. To the tasty dressers of Lowell who may have doubts as to my ability to satisfy their particularly peculiar exactions in clothing, I say come in and compare this stock with anything you ever wore in your lifetime.

TIMOTHY F. ROURKE CHOSEN PRESIDENT

Of the Trades and Labor Council

Timothy F. Rourke was elected president of the Trades and Labor Council for the ensuing six months at a meeting of that body held at 32 Middle street last night. There was a large attendance of delegates and much business of importance was transacted. The meeting was called to order by President Edward A. Welch and the newly elected delegates from the different organizations were obligated and three new organizations announced that they had affiliated with the council, namely, the Mill Men's union, moving picture machine operators and the Retail Clerks' association. It was voted to endorse the strike of the mill men's union.

A letter was read and adopted, commending John T. Shea, claim agent of the Boston Elevated Co., for the stand he has taken in refusing to address the loyalists of the Elevated employees, and the secretary was instructed to forward the same.

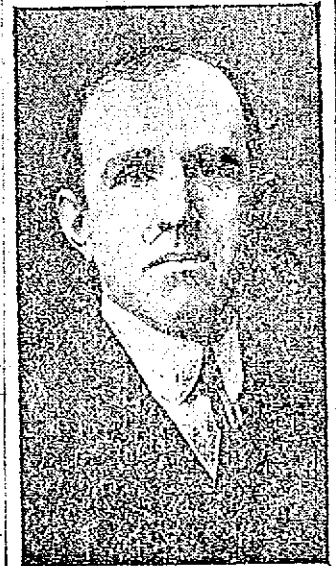

Several committee reports were accepted as progressive. Secretary Chas. E. Anderson made his semi-annual report, which was accepted, and a vote of thanks was tendered him for his work during the term.

The principal business of the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing six months which resulted as follows:

President, Timothy F. Rourke; vice-president, Frank Warnock; recording and corresponding secretary, Charles E. Anderson; financial secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Annie Odell; sergeant-at-arms, Edward Lemeir; trustees, Joseph F. Convery, John J. Mahoney and Edward J. Welch.

Several communications were received and referred to the proper committees.

After transacting considerable routine business, the council adjourned, to meet Thursday evening, July 13, when the standing committees will be appointed.

BOY KILLED

HE WAS RUN OVER BY BIG AUTOMOBILE TRUCK

BOSTON, July 12.—Walsbush Cwalina, 3 years, son of Ignaci Cwalina, of 39 Marginal street, Hyde Park, was instantly killed at the intersection of Fulton and A streets, Hyde Park, at 3 o'clock last night, when he was run over by a brewery automobile truck owned by the Joseph Imbercheid company and driven by James Crawford of 3842 Washington street, Jamaica Plain.

The child's head was crushed by the rear wheels of the truck, which was heavily loaded with cases of beer. Crawford and his helper, Joseph Casoli, were taken to Station 15 by the police, where Casoli was released and Crawford locked up on the charge of manslaughter. He claimed that he did not see the child and that he did not know of the accident until he heard the screams.

LAKEVIEW DANCE HALL

Yesterday and last evening a number of out of town people visited Lakeview and all were most favorably impressed with the dance hall. They enjoyed dancing there and pronounced the music by Kittredge's orchestra the best ever. The hall is becoming more popular every year and owing to its excellent location, being practically on the lake, the place is cool and comfortable on the hottest evening of the year. During the recent hot spell, the lovers of the art took a ride to the park and proceeded to the hall where they glided over the floor which is as smooth as glass, and did so without suffering from the effects of the sweltering conditions of the city. Whether dancing or not all may stroll around the hall and sit and hear the music. Tom Pool is meeting with great success with his selections on the xylophone and bells and John Y. Myers is being well received in his vocal numbers. Sessions are held afternoons and evenings.

CANOBIE LAKE PARK

If one is looking for novelty and at the same time a pleasant evening, most anyone would recommend a visit to the Canobie Lake Park theatre. For the first vaudeville show of the year at that resort, the management offers what is one of the best vaudeville companies ever put together, and which comes directly from Norumbega Park. Clifford and Burke will be on the bill, and that ought to be enough said, for these two black-faced entertainers are a riot wherever they are seen. They will offer their latest nonsense in singing and eccentric dancing. The Lucifers in their extraordinary gymnastic stunts will surprise everyone with their speed and ability, while Adminal and Taylor, the accomplished wandering musicians, and Fennel and Tyson in one of the neatest and best of this seasons singing and dancing novelties will add to the bill. Torcat's Trained Roosters is a big winner, for this act of 65 trained birds has been the talk of every place where it has been shown, and is a veritable delight to both old and young.

Commencing next Monday two performances will be given daily during the entire week.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Edgar Foreman and Company, presenting the comedy sketch "The High-flyer," at the Merrimack Square Theatre this week is the stellar attraction that is pleasing the many patrons who are venturing out in the extreme heat of these days. The piece is exceedingly amusing and never fails to "get" its audience. Those who have witnessed it pronounce it one of the best of the summer season. Next week this company will present another entertaining playlet. The other members on this week's bill include Pierce and Knowles, comedy entertainers of rare merit, La Gusti, comedy wire performer, and Miss Alice Bagley, illustrated song singer. All are exceptionally good and combine in making the program most enjoyable. The photo-plays for the last three days of the week are new and novel and include some of the best picture reproductions shown locally. "An Indian Summer" is one of the best, and Pathe's Weekly is also exceptionally good. The temperature at this theatre is always good and comfortable.

BOXING, GOLF AND ATHLETICSWELCOME RAIN DESCENDED ON BASEBALL FIELDS YESTERDAYCausing Postponement of Games
—Lowell Signs Two More
Pitchers

The rain yesterday not only put a blink on the Lowell-Haverhill game, but many other teams were obliged to remain in the clubhouse while the torrents came down. Though some were slightly disappointed, the great majority were tickled to death for the players who appeared here during the last week or were suffered a great deal from the weather conditions.

The diamonds throughout the circuit were also in poor condition, owing to the dry spell, and the rain of yesterday not only laid the dust in good style, but also helped the stands and the outfields are in fine shape.

During the lay-off the players enjoyed a much needed rest, especially the Lowell men. They have worked hard right through the hot spell and, although a few of the games that they figured in were not of the big league variety, all things considered they did pretty good work.

Now that the much looked for rain has come to cool the temperature and lay the dust on the grounds, the men are in better fettle and the sports are also feeling more like attending a game and doing some trotting.

The team went to Worcester this morning to clash with Jesse Burkett's clubbers, who are stepping at a 2-10 clip at the present time, and Lowell will remain there for tomorrow for a double session. The Lowell boys are confident that with the two days' rest they will be able to put a dent in Jesse's aspirations.

Manager Gray continues to strengthen his team and is ever ready to grab a man who has the appearance of a ball player, and particularly a man who claims to be a pitcher, and during the past week took several trips to Boston with the result that he has signed two more pitchers. Frank Pfeiffer, who pitched for the Boston Nationals, going to that team from Chicago, has attached his signature to a Lowell contract and is expected to report to the team in Worcester today. The other new one is Douglas Smith of the Boston Red Sox. The latter is a youngster who has worked in several games for the American league leaders this season. He has done some great work and looks like the best bet on the Lowell staff from past performances.

The other day when Boston played Philadelphia, Young Smith went in to the box after Bedient, Pape and Collins had been hit hard and Smith held the world's champions in check for the remainder of the game.

Smith was to report in Worcester tomorrow, but he phoned to Manager Gray this morning, saying that his brother is ill and that he will be unable to get here until Monday.

With these two men, Manager Gray feels that the team will take a spurt and if the big league men going in proper shape that the locals will be up with the angels in two weeks' time. The Lowell managers and owners are working hard to mould together a winning team for Lowell and have expended a preponderance of the long green in an endeavor to do so. The men behind are willing to spend if the team can be secured and the sky is the limit when a good player is considered.

As a result they have lost considerable this season, but during the last week the owners got a little back, but during the early season and up to about two weeks ago the attendance was not sufficiently large to pay expenses.

SOME FAST RACING
AT GRAND RAPIDSCanadian Trio Succeeded in Landing Prizes

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 12.—Canada tagged off first, second and third money in the first $5000 pacing race of the year. The three-horse team that hauled the currency was made up of Joe Patchen II, Grand Opera and Knight Onwards.

The big purse was no contest as far as first place was concerned, for Joe Patchen II was never extended, but there was a lively scramble for second each time which pleased the gallery numbering about 4000. The conditions were ideal for speed and the track fast.

Sadie Hal landed a fast racing stake, while Anvil was peer of all trotters, being in just about as soft a spot as the big Patches station. Joe Patchen II has been heralded as a coming champion ever since he won a series of races in Canada last year. An accident threw him out of training, but he recovered, and now he looks to be in 3 class by himself.

Barring accidents, he will annex the $5000 purse at Kalamazoo next week and the Chamber of Commerce stake at Blue Ribbon meeting a week later just as easily, although he will have to go faster.

Trouble for the Big Horse

Snow doubtless will send Sadie Hal after the big horse next week. The race won by Sadie Hal showed her to be a high-class mare with a lot of brush and courage.

The early season promise from Memphis to the effect that Anvil is headed for honors this year will materialize if nothing happens to that horse. He won without effort today and lowered this record, being up to a mile around 2:06 right now, so that he is apt to be among the best trotters of the year.

Sever started in the big race and Snow lost no time in getting to the front with Grand Opera, but was passed on the turn by Joe Patchen II and Pearl Patch. The latter had enough at the head of the stretch and Grand Opera was able to hold second by a neck, and an open length back of the leader.

Cox was a contender with Baron A. but the horse finally broke and was the far side of the flag.

Nine started in the 2:05 pace, which was a stellar speculative affair. Columbia Fire and Mollie Darling were strongly supported, with Sadie Hal third choice, but at the post Sadie was selling against the field. The first heat was a bruising race, Sadie chasing Mollie Darling, but caught her inside the distance and won easily by half a length in 2:04½.

Mollie Darling rushed away again in the second heat, but Sadie Hal began to step up on the head, and Mollie Darling gave it up. Cox came scooting along with Forest Prince, but Sadie Hal won rather handily by a neck.

Workout For Anvil

The 2:05 trot was a good workout for Anvil, hardly more. Elizabeth Ray and Cheney kept him moving and he reduced his M. and M. record a second.

They loafed to the three-quarters in the second mile and then Cheney came up. Geers let Anvil move the final quarter in 31 seconds. Cox tried hard with Chatty Direct, but only finished at Cheney's side.

The 2:11 trot was somewhat of an upset, Dandy Wood falling in the dump. Dandy Wood led all the way in the opening heat, just stalling off Victor Star in the stretch and winning by a nose.

In the next one Dandy Wood broke early and Marion K. led to the half, then she jumped, and Emma G. led to the stretch, where Victor Star trotted by her. Victor Star fought out the other heats with Derby Boy, winning each time in the last eighth, but rather comfortably. Valentine seems to have a fair trotter in this one.

The 2:18, left over from Wednesday, required three more heats, as Pretoria Mc marched away with two, quite handily, but in the sixth Murphy kept Queen Lake on a trot and rushed both the others in the last part. The summary:

G. H. GODDARD STARTS TRAINING

Lowell Runner Will Take Part in Marathon at Brockton Fair

George H. Goddard, of the Ponies, who has participated in several running races during the past year, has started training for the Marathon race to be held in connection with the Brockton fair in October. Yesterday he started his workouts and rode to Chelmsford Centre and ran back over the road. He made the distance in quick time and considering the unfavorable weather conditions his work was remarkable. He will continue daily, increasing the distance and on August 1st he will go to Arlington Heights and return by human power. He has gone over the roads in this vicinity and plans a short time before the big race to go up above Nashua and run into Lowell which is twenty-five miles, or the regular Marathon distance.

Young Goddard's first race was the B. A. J. Marathon in Boston on April 19 and after covering 20 miles he dropped out. Considering that many of the old timers who started in the race quit long before he did, his exhibition was a very commendable one. He then took part in the 10 mile run on the North common on May 20, held under the auspices of the C. Y. M. L. and he finished in sixth place. He participated in several other events and always showed to good advantage. As he has a long time to

Joe Rivers to be Given
Another Chance With Wolgast

JOE RIVERS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 12.—Joe Rivers, the Mexican, and Ad Wolgast, the champion lightweight, will meet in a finish battle in this city on Labor day. Followers of the Mexican claim their favorite was robbed of the decision in the recent bout with the champion, and they believe if Rivers is given another chance he will knock out Wolgast. On the other hand, Ad thinks to continue.

PITCHER QUINN TOOK A CHANCE WITH NAP. LAJOIE

For the first time since he has been a member of the Cleveland club Nap Lajoie had the experience of seeing an opposing pitcher pass his predecessor at bat so he could take a chance at Lajoie. It happened in a New York-Cleveland game recently. There were two out, with Graney on third and Olson on second. Jackson had already procured a triple and a single. Quinn of New York pitched carefully to him this time. He soon found himself in the hole and rather than try to get the ball over for Joe deliberately pitched two wide ones and passed him, evidently preferring to take a chance on Lajoie.

All Larry did was to drive in three runs.

DURNAN WON RACE
BY DEFEATING HAINESToronto Man Scored an Easy Victory

ONTARIO, Ont., July 12.—Eddie Durnan of Toronto defeated William Haines of Boston yesterday in a rowing race on Toronto bay for the championship of America and a purse of $1000 by about 20 lengths, over a three mile course. The Toronto man showed his superiority over the Boston challenger at every stage of the contest and was never pressed after the first mile.

The fact that Durnan took it easily will account for the slow time of 20 minutes 12 2-5 seconds. The water was perfect, there was scarcely a ripple, so that it made little difference who won the toss. Durnan got it and chose the south buoy, which was nearer the shore of the Island.

Durnan got the water first and went off with his slow and easy stroke, 31 to the minute, compared to Haines' 35, but got more speed out of it. A feature was the remarkable course steered by Haines. Although not familiar with the coast line, he went as straight as an arrow and never varied a foot from the starting buoy to the flag at the turn. This was worthy of note because there was nothing to indicate the course, and both men had to keep it from memory.

About a mile from the start Haines had a mishap. The foot-board broke so that he could not use his legs to best advantage which handicapped him considerably. He made his big effort before they went a quarter of the distance. Durnan had a little clear water, but Haines drew up on him. The Toronto man was in his opponent's water, and if Haines' sprint lasted there might have been a collision. Durnan kept up his steady pace and the other man weakened.

It was noticeable that Durnan did not vary the number of strokes for over half the race, though the other man came down to 29 before making the turn.

Durnan made a perfect turn, and though Haines rounded well, Durnan came away about four lengths to the good. Durnan's time was 9m. 31 2-5s., and Haines, 5m. 31 2-5s. back, the race was Durnan's all the way. He steadily added to his lead and finished a score of lengths to spare.

Haines was beaten hopelessly, but he could have made a better finish, but for gasoline launches on the course. They kept up to the winner and the Boston man took a heavy wash all of the last mile. Durnan received a great ovation when he landed.

The betting was strongly in favor of Durnan throughout. Haines' supporters got 3 to 1 several days before the race. American tourists in the city upheld their man and the money appeared so freely that odds fell to 8 to 5. Some criticism was passed on Durnan for lack of courtesy to Haines. On Wednesday, when the race was postponed, Durnan kept him waiting 29 minutes at the buoys, and if the Canadian had hurried, the race might have been pulled off before the storm broke.

The referee, Claude MacDonnell, M. P., president of the Canadian Association of Oarsmen, especially requested Durnan to be promptly on the mark but once more Durnan took his time. Haines was at his buoy 15 minutes before the other man appeared and the race was nearly half an hour late in starting.

HUB PERDUE WANTED TO COPY BROWN

Hub Perdue, the Gallatin (Tenn.) rustic, who is the pitching wonder of the Boston National league team now, is a "Rube" all right. Born in a small town, rather glorying in his rusticity, he has ever been a "card."

One day when the Chicago Cubs were in Nashville, where Hub then played, Perdue walked up to Pitcher "Three Fingers" Brown in a hotel lobby and demanded to see Brown's maimed mitt.

Mordecai pushed out the mutilated hand, and Hub examined it carefully.

"Well, I swan!" he finally ejaculated. "How'd you do it?"

"Ran it in a feed cutter, chipped off two fingers and broke three," said Brown laconically, for it's an old story to him.

Perdue didn't say anything for awhile, but, reaching in his pocket, he fished out an indelible pencil and drew a line across his pitching hand that corresponded to the cuts in Brown's fin.

As he walked out of the hotel briskly he said: "I'm going right home now and put my hand in the old man's feed cutter. I swan if I don't."

CHARGE STOLEN BASES TO PITCHERS IS LATEST

Base runners do not steal bases on the catcher. That's the contention of several big league catchers. They are backed up in this statement by Barney Pelly, a pitcher, now of the Washington Americans.

Whenever a base runner steals, with a few exceptions, it is the fault of the pitcher. The pitcher generally gives the runner such a large lead that no catcher, no matter how good the peg, has a chance of nailing his man.

For example, take the Giants. They stole more bases than any club in either league last season, but look what happened to them in the world's series. Most people picked the National leaguers to beat the Americans on this one thing alone. With such pitchers as Bender, Plank and Combs, who keep the runners glued to the bases, they have little chance. The Giants, it will be remembered, stole just four bases in the world's series.

There was one game last season in St. Louis where these same Giants stole fourteen bases on Bliss and Wingo of the St. Louis Cardinals. People blamed the catcher for not cutting down the runners, but it was not his fault; it was the man in the middle who was at fault.

Then there was a game in New York last season in which the St. Louis Browns participated. When the game was over New York had something like eighteen runs and a like number of stolen bases to its credit. This all came about because the pitcher gave the runner too much of a lead.

This is the contention of a catcher as well as a pitcher, and they ought to know. "No man can run down to second as fast as a catcher can throw to the middle cushion," is the way Pelly puts it, "and no matter how good a peg the catcher makes, he has no chance to get the runner if he is halfway down to second before the pitcher lets go of the ball."

"Of course there are some exceptions to this rule." Take, for instance, an inexperienced catcher, who fails to get the ball away quickly or makes a bad peg to the bag. In this case it could hardly be charged to the pitcher.

THE MONEY LENDERS

Put Out of Commission by Court Decision

NEW YORK, July 12.—After many years of agitation, the efforts of the Russel Sage foundation and other New York charitable societies to put the loan shark money lenders out of business have apparently been crowned with success. A law passed by the last legislature has been sustained by the courts and the money lenders, after a formal meeting to discuss the situation, have agreed to close out all the loans at the legal rate of interest and shut up shop.

Desperate efforts were made by the 54 different companies represented to collect their outstanding loans at the old rates before quitting. Arrests came in such rapid succession, however, that the efforts at collection were quickly suspended.

THE FARMERS

WERE PAID MORE THIS YEAR THAN LAST

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Farmers of this country were being paid more by 17.5 per cent. for their products on July 10th this year than they received last year at that time, according to Victor H. Olmstead, chief of the bureau of statistics, department of agriculture.

This increase in prices was the average on crops which represented about three-fourths of the value of all crops of the nation.

The increases included: Corn, 11 cents; wheat and oats, 15c; barley, 12c; rye, 6c; buckwheat, 6c; potatoes, 7c; hay, $1.55; hogs, 9 cents; beef cattle, 50c; veal calves, 51c; eggs, 23c; butter, 3c; sheep, 25c; lambs, 51c; milk cows $1.90; milk, 2 1/2c; beans, 43c; sweet potatoes, 16c; onions, 21c; clover seed, $2.59; timothy seed, $1.44; wool, unwashed, 3c; cabbage, 21c; broom corn, $10 (ton); bran, $3.45. Products on which prices decreased included cotton 3 cents; flax seed, 7 cents; apples, 27 cents; and cotton seed, $1.11 a ton.

BOUT STOPPED

BECAUSE OF BAD BLOOD BETWEEN THE PRINCIPALS

ADAMS, July 12.—Jeff Madden and Jack Fenbrook of New York went six rounds without a decision before the Northern Berkshire A. C. here last night. Madden seemed to show superior ability at the beginning of the bout, but failed to keep his advantage as the bout progressed. Fenbrook showed cleverness in covering and exceptional staying qualities.

The sixth round opened in whirlwind fashion, with honors coming about even. About the middle of the round the men went together in a clinch, from which the referee was unable to part them.

After a moment it was evident that there was bad blood between the men, and several of the directors of the club entered the ring and got the men apart, calling the bout off.

Young Alford of Adams and Kid White went six fast rounds to a draw in the semi-final, and Chester Johnson and "Babe" Lamoureux, both of Adams, boxed four rounds to a draw in the preliminary.

AUTO ACCIDENT

OCCURRED AT THE CONEY ISLAND MOTORDROME

NEW YORK, July 12.—A remarkable automobile accident occurred at the Coney Island Motordrome shortly after midnight this morning. Two machines were racing at 50 miles an hour around the Sancer track, which has a slant of nearly 60 degrees, when a forward axle broke on the car driven by Geo. Cook. Automobile and driver turned a complete somersault from the top rim of the track and at the same time the other car, driven by Jack Randall, shot beneath the somersaulting machine and continued on around the track in safety. Cook was found unconscious beneath the wreckage of his car but was not fatally hurt.

THE SUN DANCE

STOPPED BY ORDER OF COUNTY ATTORNEY

MISSOULA, Mont., July 12.—Charges that the annual dance festival of the Flathead Indians, including the famous sun dance, now in progress in Arlee, at the edge of the reservation, is a round of drunkenness, gambling and fighting, were made to the county attorney, and that officer ordered the festival closed last night.

At the business council of the tribe, a petition was addressed to President Taft and the chief of the bureau of Indian affairs, asking that an accounting of the tribe's money and properties be made. It also asks the removal of certain officers now in charge of the reservation.

TOWN BUILDINGS

AT SALEM, N. H., WERE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

WEAR RUBBERS This winter

and the surrounding villages. Several houses were burned, while considerable damage was caused to the telephone system.

The farm buildings of S. Milton Kelly at Millville, about a mile from Salem Depot, were struck by a bolt and immediately burst into flames. Mrs. Kelly was alone in the house at the time, while her husband was at work in the field. Fortunately Mrs.

Kelly was not injured although she was badly frightened, but the buildings were a complete loss.

Shortly afterward the house of John E. King, at Kings corner, was struck by a flash of lightning. The bolt ripped on the telephone and hurled it across the room striking John King, a son, who became unconscious.

The farmhouse of Mrs. Clara Dustin at North Salem was struck but the building did not burn. At the Gordon farm, owned by Lyman T. Dudley of Dorchester, a bolt passed along the ridgepole of the barn, tore a big hole in it, and killed several ducks and chickens. Several people who were at work in shops were stunned but not seriously injured.

At Canobie Lake park the storm passed so low that it charged buildings. Clerks were driven away from the soda fountains. The electric car service was completely paralyzed for a time.

MOTHER TOOK POISON FATHER TRIED SUICIDE

Upon Learning of Death
of Daughter

WEST ACTON, July 12.—Mrs. Clayton S. Shattuck, temporarily deranged by the death of her only daughter, Mildred, 17 years, of Bright's disease last night, ended her own life in an adjoining room by drinking carbolic acid.

Her husband, who left the death bed of his daughter to find out the meaning of the sound of the fall in the next room, was prevented from committing suicide only by the forcible interference of friends, who caught him in time.

Miss Mildred Shattuck had been sick in bed for the last two weeks and while it had been hoped that she would recover, the heat, however, told heavily on her.

Yesterday afternoon she suffered a relapse, steadily growing weaker. At 5 o'clock she was dead. Her mother and father were in the room by the daughter's bedside.

When Mr. Shattuck finally announced that the girl was dead, his wife got up, went into the next room and drank a bottle of carbolic acid and fell dying to the floor.

Mr. Shattuck was followed into the room by some neighbors, who had been assisting in the care of the daughter. They grabbed him just in time to prevent an attempt to end his life.

PERJURY CHARGE

ARREST OF SEAMSTRESS AT ASYLUM ORDERED

WORCESTER, July 12.—Frances Porter, aged 27, a seamstress employed in the state asylum for the insane on Summer street, after being placed under $500 bonds for her appearance in the superior criminal court to answer to a statutory charge involving Eugene M. Sawyer, was ordered under arrest by Judge Wiley yesterday on a charge of perjury and placed under $500 bonds on the second charge.

The complaint was made by Sylvester's wife, who said her husband deserted her last August, leaving her with two small children to provide for. Proprietors of six lodging houses in different parts of the city testified in the case, recognizing Sylvester by a photograph procured by the government.

The Porter woman came here from Lewiston, Me., about a year ago to work in the asylum. When she took the stand in her own behalf she denied the charge and declared that her only knowledge of Sylvester was an old friendship formed many years ago in Maine.

Patterson John W. Beardon, who arrested the Porter woman, testified that he frequently saw Sylvester meet her near the asylum entrance and said that while he arrested her she bemoaned the fact that she had no friend to get her out of her trouble, and told him that she gave all the money she earned to Sylvester because the poor fellow needed it.

GRAND CIRCUIT

THREE RACES ARE ON THE PRO-GRAM TODAY

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 12.—Only three races were on the program for the final day of the grand circuit meet here. These were the Northrup purse, $2600, 2:15 class pacing; the 2:22 trot and the 2:16 trot. The free for all pace has been declared off.

In addition to the regular card, the veteran trotter, Country Jay, was scheduled to give an exhibition, under the saddle, in an effort to beat 2:10.

OFFICERS ELECTED

SEATTLE, Wash., July 12.—The Association of American Drug and Food officials practically completed the business of its convention last night with the election of officers and the selection of Montgomery, Ala., for its next meeting place.

The following officers were elected: President Jewell Davis of Seattle;

Girls in their teens should not be pale, languid, constantly fatigued. Nature intended them to be bright, energetic and active.

Every parent of a growing girl, and every young woman who looks after herself, should be constantly on the watch for symptoms of impoverished blood. The happiness of a lifetime depends upon giving the blood the help it needs at this time, when girls are too frequently allowed to over-study, overwork or suffer from lack of exercise.

If your daughter is languid, has a pale, sallow complexion, is short of breath, especially on going upstairs, has palpitation of the heart, a tendency to faint and a poor appetite, she suffers from lack of blood. The most satisfactory way to give the blood the elements which it lacks is by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A thorough trial will make the blood pure and red.

Two bottles, "Plain Talk to Women" and "Building Up the Blood" will be sent free upon request. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price, so contrary to law, by Dr. J. C. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

secretary, W. M. Allen, North Carolina; treasurer, F. W. Potter, Connecticut. Articles endorsing the policy of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former chief chemist of the department of agriculture, were rejected.

SHOCKED TO DEATH

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE SAW
LINEMAN KILLED

NEW YORK, July 12.—Hundreds of men and women going home for their midday meal from the factories in Harrison, N. J., yesterday saw Robert Spence, a lineman employed by the American District Telegraph company, shocked to death on the top of a 100-foot telegraph pole.

Spence had gone up into the cross trees of the pole and was repairing wires while seated on a little bench that is built to the pole. While reaching in the air he was suddenly to shoot up from the bench and then plunge down through the wires. One of his feet caught in the iron brace of the bench and he hung dangling while his clothing burst into flame.

Death had probably come instantly when the man came in contact with a main feed wire carrying 6600 volts. The man's clothing and body burned for ten minutes before Max Bretz, a fellow lineman, climbed up the pole and cut the contact. Then he fastened a rope about the dead man's body and lowered it to the street, in doing which he himself was badly burned. Several girls who witnessed the gruesome spectacle swooned in the street and had to be carried to their homes.

Spence was 36 years old and lived at No. 127 Lafayette street, Newark. He was unmarried and had been employed by the American District Telegraph company for seven years.

SCHOONER LAUNCHED

BATH, Me., July 12.—The four-masted schooner Dustin G. Cressy, which stuck on the ways yesterday because of the heat, was launched today. The new craft was named for a son of M. D. Cressy of Boston, is rigged for and will be ready for sea next week, hailing from Bath, and will be commanded by Captain Harry Dobbin of West Jonesport. The schooner is 152.3 feet long, 35 feet beam and 15 deep and registers 582 gross tonnage. Her cost was $55,000.

OLIVE OIL IN THE HOUSEHOLD

Next to bread, there is no other article of food which has so much value as pure olive oil. It is so easily digested that it can and should be used with nearly all our foods. Prepared Olive Oil, from the finest groves in Italy, not chemically treated or adulterated in any way, has such a sweet, nutty taste that it improves the taste of foods and at the same time gives to the body health and strength.

Pompeian Olive Oil when mixed with the flour used in cream soup, cream of tomato, or other thick soups, imparts a most delicious flavor. In making fish cakes, or frying fish of any kind, use Pompeian Olive Oil instead of butter or lard, and the taste will be improved one hundred per cent. Sweet potato croquettes, cold slaw, macaroni and other dishes are likewise made tastier when this oil is used. By reason of its sweet, nutty flavor, it should be used in preference to any other kind for salad dressings, especially where fruit salads are served. In scrambling eggs, a little cream and olive oil put in the frying pan gives you a dish better than anything you ever tried before. Ask your dealer for a book of Pompeian recipes, and when once you try this oil in cooking, you will never do without it.

Pompeian Olive Oil is sold by druggists and grocers. Full one-half pint cans, 25 cents; full pint cans, 50 cents; full quart cans, 50 cents.

THE FINAL PLANS FOR REUNION OF PUPILS OF ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

A public meeting for all those who have attended class at St. Joseph's college will be held at the college hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at which time final arrangements will be taken for the first annual reunion of the association which was recently formed among the former pupils of that institution.

Nearly five hundred invitations have been sent out in this city and elsewhere, and already a large number of the "boys" have responded favorably. At this evening's meeting the executive committee will outline the plans for the first reunion which is arranged for the first of August. The affair will be scheduled for Aug. 15. The program including a last one day, the program including a solemn high mass at St. Jean Baptiste church in the forenoon, an outing in the afternoon and a banquet at the college hall in the evening.

A large crowd is expected at the meeting, tonight and those who have not yet given their names may do so at the meeting tonight or again at the treasurer's office, Mr. Joseph F. AGED LIFE PRISONER WANTS TO
BE FREE

BOSTON, July 12.—After several attempts to have his plea for a pardon accepted before the governor's council, Benjamin F. Taylor, a 74-year-old prisoner, sentenced to a life term at the state prison in Charlestown for the murder of Wilder Hutchins in September, 1890, has at last been successful. A hearing has been set for next Wednesday.

Taylor, the prison officials say, has been a model prisoner since his confinement in 1891, and in his argument for his release he says the homicide was justified and done in self-defense. According to his story he was a driver at a Fleet street livery stable, of which Hutchins was the manager. Taylor received a check for $50 and gave it to his employer to cash. Hutchins, according to Taylor, instead of returning the money, spent it on drink.

Later, Taylor claims, Hutchins had him arrested, charged with stealing grain, but he was acquitted, however. He was then promised the money due, if he would go to Hutchins' office. On going to the office, he says, he was set upon by Hutchins and another man. Taylor pulled a revolver and shot the manager, killing him instantly. He gave himself up to the police.

Taylor is a native of St. Albans, Vt. In case of his release employment will be furnished for him in a Sonerville stable. Wm. M. Hogan, a principal assessor in Cambridge, has interested himself in Taylor's behalf.

CAPTAIN NUNAN BLINDED BY ACID AND MAY LOSE SIGHT

GLOUCESTER, July 12.—Severely burned about the face and head by acid from wet batteries which he was recharging, Capt. Fred Nunan of the fishing schooner Sadie Nunan may be blind for life.

Not much can be learned of the accident, but it is known that Nunan was recharging batteries to be used on the vessel, holding in his hand the zinc which is placed in the jar. In some manner, the zinc slipped from the captain's hand and fell into the jar over which he was bending, sending a shower of acid over his face and head. The acid, it is feared, worked into his eyes and he is in grave danger of losing his sight. He was treated by two physicians. Nunan resides in Boston and sails a vessel from that port.

RAT CATCHER

IS BUSY AT THE WHARVES IN BOSTON

BOSTON, July 12.—The city rat catcher was at work again yesterday capturing rats at the principal wharves along the waterfront, but the rain interfered with the work of fumigating the vessels in port from Porto Rico and other places where the bubonic plague is prevalent. The steamer Silvia, which was to have come down from the Mystic river where she tied up several days ago with a cargo of sugar from Cuba, did not have all her cargo taken off yesterday, and will probably anchor in the harbor today for an examination by Dr. Francis X. Crawford, the port physician. The steamer will be fumigated, and if any rats are found about they will be captured and examined for traces of plague germs.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

The regular meeting of the Pawtucketville Social club was held last night in the club rooms in Moody street. There was a large attendance, and President Rodrigue Descheneaux occupied the chair. A feature of the evening was the installation of the recently elected officers. Mr. Josephat Sawyer acting as installing officer, assisted by Octave Champagne.

The officers installed were as follows: Rodrigue Descheneaux, president; E. N. Gendreau, vice president; Albert Hamel, secretary; Albert LeMay, assistant secretary; Frederick Theriault, treasurer; Henri Gelinas, assistant treasurer; Frank Brassard, sergeant-at-arms.

A new member, Joseph Payette,

president of the C. M. A. C., was initiated, and refreshments were served, the evening closing with a game of whist between the members.

EASY AIDS TO GOOD LOOKS (Ella Ellis in the Arch)

"After motoring or golfing the hair may be dusty—with no time for washing the head. In this dilemma you will find a dry shampoo a good friend. Put four ounces of powdered orris root in a fruit jar, add an original package of Therox and mix together. Sprinkle a little on the head and brush through the hair. Therox removes dust, oil and dandruff, and leaves the hair light, fluffy and easy to do up."

"Disgusting wild hairs can be made to vanish quickly from face or forehead by applying delicate paste, made by mixing powdered delicate water. Cover the hairy surface with this paste for a minute or two, then remove, wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone."

"Short and thin eyelashes detract from otherwise beautiful eyes. Weak and straggly lashes can be strengthened if plain pyroxin is applied to the lash roots with thumb and forefinger. Thin eyebrows always improve with daily applications of pyroxin. A complexion cannot be dainty if the skin is shining from perspiration. A complexion beautifier that will not rub off or show the powder is made easily by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half-pint of witch hazel. This holds and does not smear. Gently massage with this solution daily, and the skin will be soft and satiny, velvety and smooth."

IMPEACHMENT CHARGE AGAINST JUDGE ARCHBALD

Was Approved by the House of Representatives by a Vote of 222 to 1

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The house of representatives yesterday adopted, by a vote of 222 to 1, articles of impeachment against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the United States commerce court. Representative Farr of Pennsylvania cast the single vote against the bill of impeachment.

Mr. Farr is a lifelong friend, who has steadfastly voiced confidence in Judge Archbald's integrity.

Of the total membership of the house in their seats only nine voted "present." These were ex-Speaker Cannon, Burgess of Texas, Dalzell and Olmstead of Pennsylvania, Delight of New York, Johnson of South Carolina, Farran of Maryland, Becker of Missouri and Speakerman of Florida.

Representatives Farr, Bowman and Pocht, all republicans of Pennsylvania, spoke in defense of Judge Archbald.

The scene now shifts to the senate, which will sit in judgment in the case. While a disposition has been voiced in the senate to postpone the trial until autumn, Chairman Clayton of the house committee on the judiciary declared yesterday his conviction that the senate would take up the impeachment soon.

The impeachment grows out of charges that, while occupying a federal bench, Judge Archbald was connected with a negotiation for valuable bank properties in Pennsylvania and with other alleged questionable financial transactions, and with using his official position to attempt the enrichment of himself and certain friends.

"I have known Judge Archbald 20 years as an honest, faithful, capable judge," said Representative Farr. "He has been unfortunate in his associates to whom he extended assistance solely out of kindness."

"And to make money," interjected Mr. Clayton.

"Not at all. He has never made a penny out of his official position."

Dr. Woodrow Wilson is Kept Busy These Days Receiving Visitors From All Points

THE WILSON SMILE

HIS SPEAKING FACE WOODROW WILSON

PHOTOS COPYRIGHT 1912 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

SEA GIRT, N. J., July 12.—Dr. Woodrow Wilson is one of the busiest men in the United States these days. In addition to the huge "mail" that reaches the "Little White House," there are scores of visitors. Some of them merely call to pay their respects and to assure the candidate of their support. Others come for conference and require some time to tell their stories. Dr. Wilson sees practically all callers and his manner makes them his friends. He has a smile that makes each stranger believe that he was expected and his visit is highly appreciated.

MRS. SARAH V. JENKINS DIES IN PASADENA, CAL.

She Was Born in Lowell and Resided Here for Many Years

The news of the death of Mrs. Sarah V. Jenkins, nee Sarah V. McGlynn, formerly of Lowell, in Pasadena, Cal., was received in this city today. Mrs. Jenkins was well known in Lowell, where she resided for many years, and her death will be a severe shock to all. She was born here and lived with her family in Centralville, until her marriage, a short time ago, when she moved to Fall River, Mass. In September, 1910, she went to the California city and resided there until her demise on July 10th.

Deceased is survived by her husband, two sisters, Mary E. McGlynn and Mrs. Thomas A. Cassidy, both of Lowell, and three brothers, John of Philadelphia, Pa., James of Indianapolis, and Joseph A. of Lowell. The family have the sympathy of their host of friends in their sad bereavement.

A high mass of requiem for the repose of her soul will be sung at St. Michael's church on Monday morning at 8 o'clock.

THE ANCIENTS

WERE GIVEN A GREAT RECEPTION IN LONDON TODAY

LONDON, July 12.—The detachment of fifty men of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston now visiting here, accompanied by many of their British comrades of the Honourable Artillery company of London, spent today at Windsor, which was in gala attire. The guards in full uniform marched from the station to the residence of the mayor of Windsor where United States Ambassadors Reid unveiled a handsome bronze tablet fixed on the side of the house facing Thames street to mark the spot where Robert Keayne, the founder of the Boston Artillery company resided. The tablet is of ornamental design supported by the American eagle and the British lion.

Subsequently at the town hall of Windsor the Americans presented a richly carved oak casket made out of a piece of roof beam from the original Keayne residence, which was pulled down in 1903.

After luncheon the American visitors went through Windsor Castle at the special invitation of King George.

FIRE AT CITY FARM CAUSED LOSS OF $6000

Members of the Fire Department
All Night

The fire which destroyed the barn and outbuildings at the Calmeston street hospital yesterday afternoon, an account of which appeared in yesterday's edition of The Sun, proved to be one of the most difficult fires that the department has had to contend with for years, and it was not until this morning that the last of the firemen left the scene.

The building which was destroyed contained ten horses, 25 head of cattle, pigs, farm wagons and 50 tons of hay. The last of the hay had been stored in the barn just before the electrical storm broke over the city and the bolt of lightning struck the building. Everything in the building but the hay was saved.

The firemen did everything possible to save the building but this was impossible. They did excellent work in preventing the flames from spreading to the other buildings.

It is estimated that the loss will be about $6000.

After the fire had been extinguished

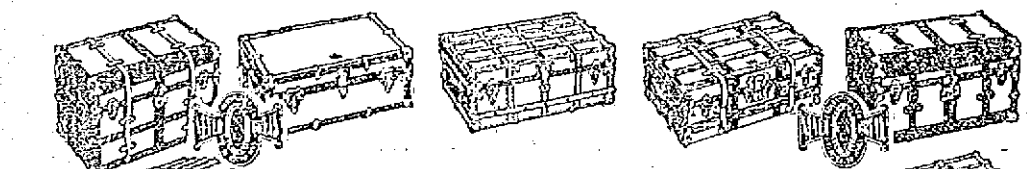

HOW I MADE MY HAIR GROW

Woman With Marvelously Beautiful Hair Gives Simple Home Prescription Which She Used With Most Remarkable Results

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions but they all signally failed. Many of them made my hair greasy so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I tried every remedy I could find but they were all equally injurious and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures, I finally found a simple prescription which I can unhesitatingly state is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. My friends have also used it and obtained wonderful results therefrom. It not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dandruff, giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc. giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc. and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition. It also makes the hair easier to comb and arrange in nice form. My friends who used it in two months and during that time it has not only stopped the falling of my hair and, wonder of all, fully increased its growth, but it has also restored all of my hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any druggist. The prescription is as follows:

Bay Rum, 6 oz.; Menthol Crystals, 1/2 drachm; Lavender de Compose, 2 oz. If you like it, add 1/2 oz. of perfume. Mix the ingredients in a glass bottle. Add the Menthol Crystals to the Bay Rum and then pour in the Lavender de Compose and add the perfume. Shake well. It stands one-half hour and it is ready for use.

Hall & Lyon Co., the well known and popular druggists of this city, have fitted this formula for many of their patrons and state that the satisfaction from its use is so great that they have found it necessary to make special provision to fill the prescription promptly and carefully.

FOR THE SUMMER MENU THE FIRELESS COOKERS

Some Recipes That Will Of Great Value to the Give Satisfaction Housekeepers

Take six good sized rounds of sponge or plain cake, six halves of peaches, meringue made of two eggs, whites, and one-third cup of powdered sugar, two and a half tablespoonsful of candied nuts and fruits chopped together.

Bake sponge or plain cake in a thin sheet. Cut out in rounds and place on each slice a peach half. Fill in the cavity with the fruit. Cover with meringue and bake eight and ten minutes in a slow oven. Serve with peach or fruit sauce or boiled custard.

Delicious Frosted Lemon Pie

Grate the rind and squeeze the juice of one large lemon. Put one cupful of sugar and a piece of butter the size of an English walnut into a bowl. Dissolve one tablespoonful of cornstarch in a little cold water, then add one cupful of boiling water and pour it into the bowl with the butter and sugar, then add rind and juice and the beaten yolks of two eggs, mix all together, fill crust and bake. Most heat the two whites and sugar, put over the top of the pie, return to oven and let brown very lightly.

Deviled Tomatoes

Mix together the mashed yolks of three hard boiled eggs, a teaspoonful each of powdered sugar, made mustard and a pinch of salt and cayenne. Add three tablespoonsful of vinegar and lemon juice. Bring to a boil and add two eggs well beaten and cook in a double boiler until thick. Pour over fried tomatoes and serve very hot.

Eggplant a la Creole

Pare a young eggplant and cut into slices. Simmer in half a cupful of boiling water for 10 or 15 minutes. Drain and press out the liquid, then chop fine two onions, which fry in butter, and add the eggplant and salt and pepper seasoning; also one tablespoonful each of minced parsley and vinegar and a tablespoon of butter. Put in a baking dish, cover with crumbs, dot with butter and bake 25 minutes.

PARASOLS

Chiffon is used to cover or partially cover parasols, which are in all manner of eccentric shapes this season. Dome, bell, paragon, lamp shade and palm leaf are some of the new shapes. Fashion decrees that one's hat and parasol should match, so that milliners are adding parasols to their stock. White, green, coral, purple and blue satin parasols have wide bands of black velvet at their edges. These are very smart, as are strip parasols, and those of embroidery or net over plain or figured silk.

A fireless cooker is invaluable to a housekeeper, especially in hot weather. The cookers are now so perfect and inexpensive the woman who does not own one is decidedly at a disadvantage when labor saving methods are considered. Cooking during oppressive heat in summer is avoided. Foods can be started at a convenient moment and yet be in readiness for the most urgent. Healthful foods requiring long cooking are made practicable for the daily menu, and the waste of the cooked product from a pound of raw material is much increased.

The fireless cooker is splendid for the cheaper cuts of meat. Since tough meat should cook for a long time at a low temperature the cooker is a most excellent medium for this purpose. Stews and so-called boiled meats seem to have a better flavor when cooked in the cooker than when cooked on the stove. Beef, mutton and lamb cooked in this way may be served as braised meat, as a stew, as minced meat warmed in liquor and served on toast, as wet, dry and browned hash, as meat pie, meat turn-over and other ways in which cooked meats are reheated. Five pounds of meat could be served for two in ten different ways, serving half a pound at each meal.

Excellent soup can be made from the leftover carcass of a fowl, from the neck piece of lamb or from any leftover beef bones and scraps of beef. Place in the kettle of the fireless cooker, cover with cold water, place on the stove and bring slowly to a boil, then put in the cooker overnight. In the morning remove the meat and bones and use the liquor or stock, to be reheated and flavored according to the style of soup desired.

Breakfast cereals are the most abused foods in ordinary cookery. Rarely do they receive the long slow cooking which their nature demands because of the early rising this would necessitate. The fireless delivers the full value of the nutrients with a minimum dependence upon the cook.

Fruit is oftentimes a serious problem on account of expense. The fireless method makes available many dried and evaporated fruits, which can be obtained reasonably at all seasons. Delicious compounds can be made which rival the best preserves in appearance and flavor, in no respect suggesting those usually served for the insipid canned products. Each preserved piece swells to its original size, unbroken, disintegrated with a juicy, aromatic liquor and charged with the flavors which characterize the fruit in its prime state.

FOR THE HOME SCRAP BOOK: Pineapple is good for indigestion. The juice containing a digestive fluid similar to pepsin.

Save your lemon rinds, dry them in the oven and grate them. Put in an air tight tin. A little of this added to an apple pie gives it a delicious flavoring.

A thing worth knowing when one has to take bitter medicine is this: A small pinch of salt will remove all taste of bitterness from the mouth. Potato balls which are savored in butter after being boiled are delicious. They should be served with a generous sprinkling of minced parsley. Do not take time to grate chocolate. Put the desired amount in a saucepan and place over the top of a teakettle until melted. Two squares of unsweetened chocolate are equal to a cupful of grated.

While washing the dishes from the evening meals put the cereal on and cook it. All that need be done to it on the following morning is to add a little water to it and heat.

Freshness of eggs may be tested by putting them into water. A fresh egg will remain at the bottom, one not so fresh will float a little higher, and a bad one will rise to the surface.

CHURCH WITH A ROOF GARDEN

The first church in America to have a roof garden, to be used as a playground for children during the day and for open air services in the evening, will be in Boston.

The roof of the church will be flat, and the conventional steeple will be omitted. The roof will have crenellated borders and steel girders, making it a safe place for children to play.

A BEACH COSTUME

A few yards of inexpensive cotton ball trimming, when given this greater back much distinction. It is increased by a collar of white pique and white cotton buttons. A white hat and veil and white buckskin buttoned boots complete the dainty costume.

LINEN SHOWER

WAS TENDERED MISS HAZEL COCKERLAIN LAST EVENING

Miss Hazel Cockerlain of 276 Boyd street, who is soon to become a "Mrs." was tendered a linen shower at her home last evening by a number of friends. The affair took the form of a surprise and the hostess was overcome when the large number went to her home and took possession of the domicile. After showering the bride-to-be with linens of every description, all then assisted in making the evening one to be long remembered by Miss Cockerlain. Piano solos were given by Misses Mae Keyes, Clara Kilson and Mr. Karl B. Cote. Selections on the violin were given by Misses Margaret V. Tenney, Lucy Parker, Ethel Smith and Mr. William Cote; vocal selections were rendered by John Knox, Percival Parker, Daniel Downey and James Knowles. Games were played and refreshments served and at the conclusion of the pleasant affair all departed wishing Miss Cockerlain all kinds of success in her new field.

SERVE FROZEN BUTTERMILK IN MELON

Viscountess Chinda, wife of the Japanese ambassador in Washington, entertained a few friends at luncheon in that city and introduced some of the dainty ways of the orient. One course was cantaloupe, ripe and mellow, and the center, being perfectly cleansed, was filled with frozen buttermilk. It was delightful, the flavors combining better than the usual vanilla or fruit cream served with melon. Frozen buttermilk is a favorite dish with the orientals, and sometimes a little cognac or liquor is added. Walnut and fruit paste served with frozen buttermilk is an exceedingly rich and tasteful dessert. The viscountess has a quality luncheon service of lacquer and gold. Her attendants are soft eyed little maids dressed in the graceful flowing robes familiar through pictures on fans and screens.

SLUGGERS EASY FOR O'TOOLE

The National league sluggers do not bother Marty O'Toole. Looking back over the records, one finds that he has had an easy time of it with such men as Zimmerman and Schmitz of the Cubs, Bescher, Hoblitzel and Mitchell of the Reds, Connelly and Evans of the Cardinals and Swiney of the Boston Braves. In one game Zimmerman found Marty for two triples, but a different style of pitching made Heinie his strikethrough victim like the rest. All of the above hitters are terrors to any pitcher, but they have been struck out plying for O'Toole. Only one slugger in the league has had much luck with Marty's delivery. He is Sherwood Magee of the Phillies.

PROHIBITION PARTY

IS TRYING TO RAISE CAMPAIGN FUNDS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 12.—Having chosen a new national chairman, after a three days' fight, the prohibition party to convention here today tried to cultivate a generous spirit in the minds of the delegates to raise money for campaign expenses. The nomination of candidates for president and vice president is scheduled for today. The prediction was made that the ticket of four years ago would be renamed. Eugene W. Chalm, Illinois, for president, and Aaron S. Watkins of Ohio for vice president.

Prospects of one more contest developed when members of the special committee appointed last December to draft a party constitution signified their intentions of urging their report for adoption.

Many delegates are opposed to some of the proposals. Before the convention was turned over to the national committee for the campaign fund collection, Dr. Silas C. Swallow of Pennsylvania sought to reintroduce his resolution, urging "perpetual separation of churches and state." This resolution was tabled by the convention last night after a long wrangle. Chairman Meade declared that Dr. Swallow was not in order when he proposed the resolution again, but promised he would recognize him later in the day.

ATTACKED BY ELEPHANT

NEW YORK, July 12.—Gunda, a male elephant at the Bronx zoo, rushed at Walter Thurman, keeper, this morning, battered him with his trunk and would have driven his tusks through the keeper's body had not Thurman crouched in a corner to protect himself. As it was, the keeper was beaten about the face and body by the elephant's trunk and was dragged, bleeding, from the enclosure by a fellow keeper, who held the elephant at bay with a pitchfork. Thurman will recover.

ELECTRIC CARS

WERE DAMAGED DURING STORM YESTERDAY

The employees of the power house of the Bay State Street Railway were obliged to work overtime last evening as a result of the severe storm that visited this city yesterday. A great number of the cars on the various lines throughout the city were damaged and sent to the barn. The workmen there were kept on the go replacing fuses and other parts that were affected. Some of the employees were kept working until quite late in the evening. The service in the city though, was exceptionally good, inasmuch as when a car met with a mishap it was driven to the barn and another sent out to take its place.

The travel, too, on a rainy day is much heavier and owing to the fact that so many cars were disabled, the officials are to be congratulated for supplying such excellent service during such a severe storm.

IRISH LEADER'S BROTHER TO SPEAK IN BOSTON

He is Coming Here to Attend the Irish League Convention
in Boston.

BOSTON, July 12.—William H. K. Redmond, member of parliament for East Clare and brother of the Irish nationalist leader, will pay a brief visit to Boston at the end of September and will speak in Tremont Temple the evening of Oct. 1, at a great public meeting in support of Irish home rule. Mr. Redmond will make a hurried trip across to attend, as a representative of the Irish parliamentary party and the nationalist organization in Ireland, the sixth biennial convention of the United Irish League of America, in Philadelphia Sept. 23-26.

All indications point to the probability that this will be the last convention of the kind it will be necessary to hold in America in support of Irish home rule, which, it is universally believed will be carried into law before another two years. There is a possibility that home rule may be enacted even within a year.

but in any case, so long as the present government can maintain its majority the utmost limit to which the house of lords can postpone or prevent the passage of the measure would be less than two years from now.

It is under these encouraging circumstances that William Redmond makes his eighth visit to the United States for the league's convention. There will be a brief recess of parliament about the end of September, and Mr. Redmond will avail of the cessation from parliamentary work to accept the urgent invitation of the league.

The convention itself will be opened with a mass meeting in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, Monday evening, Sept. 23. On the two following days the proceedings of the convention will be carried on in Witherspoon hall, and on Thursday the delegates, of whom it is expected about 1000 will be in attendance, will be the guests of the organization in Philadelphia on an excursion to Atlantic City, followed by a banquet there.

Mr. Redmond can stay in America only about two weeks after the convention, and during that time he will speak in New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Baltimore, as well as one or two other cities in addition to Boston.

His last visit to this city was in 1905, while on his way back to Ireland from Australia. During that visit Mayor Patrick A. Collins died, and Mr. Redmond was one of the bearers at his funeral.

The executive committee of the United Irish League in Boston met yesterday afternoon and took the preliminary steps toward assuring Mr. Redmond a hearty welcome.

Although a comparatively young man as age goes in the house of commons, being only in his 31st year, Mr. Redmond has sat for a longer continuous period in the house than any other member now representing an Irish constituency. His colleague, T. P. O'Connor, has been in the house some time longer than Mr. Redmond but he sits for an English constituency, the Scotland division of Liverpool.

There are only four members of Parliament in the house of commons with a longer continuous parliamentary record than Mr. Redmond, who has now sat in that body 29 years. His brother, was out of parliament for a few weeks in 1899, after he had resigned his seat for North Wexford and before he was elected for his present seat in Waterford city.

Imprisoned With Parnell

William Redmond was first elected in 1893 for Wexford borough, which had long been represented by his father, William Archer Redmond, and his uncle. He and his brother visited Australia that year, on the first mission sent to the Antipodes by Parnell in support of the Irish party. Mr. Redmond was in Melbourne when the news was flashed to him that he had been elected for his father's old seat in Wexford.

On the redistribution of parliamentary seats in 1895 Mr. Redmond was elected for North Fermanagh, which he represented until the general election of 1892, and since that year he has sat continuously as representative of East Clare.

In 1892 Mr. Redmond spent his 21st birthday in Kilmainham jail, sharing the imprisonment of Mr. Parnell and the other leaders of the Land League. On his release he came to America with Michael Davitt and traveled here six months, addressing meetings.

In 1895 Mr. Redmond was imprisoned with his brother John, under Balfour's coercion regime. In 1902 he was once more imprisoned in Kilmainham under the statute of Edward the Third. Mr. Redmond has been several times in Australia and New Zealand.

In 1905 he was tried in Green street court house, Dublin, with the other members who promoted the Plan of campaign, but they were acquitted. He is now for the third time taking part in the battle of a home rule bill in the house of commons.

ROOSEVELT PLANS TO OPEN FIGHT

He Will Begin Battle in the West

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 12.—Within less than a fortnight Col. Roosevelt probably will begin the campaign trips which are to carry him into almost every state before the November election. Although he has not reached a final decision, he expects to leave Oyster Bay for the middle west in the early part of the week after next.

Kansas, Iowa and Michigan are tentatively on the program for the tour. Col. Roosevelt may also attend the Chicago convention of the new progressive party before he returns home.

The purpose of Col. Roosevelt's trip, if it is made, will be to tour states in which primaries will soon be held for the nomination of republican candidates for presidential electors.

"I've been asked to go to three states to take part in the primaries campaign," he said last night. "I have not definitely made up my mind. Both the Roosevelt and Taft forces are going to make a fight at the primaries and each of them has announced in advance that it will not abide by the result in case it is beaten. The fight will be to see which side will have to name its candidates for presidential electors by petition instead of having them on the republican ticket."

"The primaries in these states will be held before long, and if I make the trip, I shall leave in 10 or 12 days." Col. Roosevelt is not eager to leave Sagamore Hill during the heat of mid-summer to resume his campaigning so soon after the conclusion of his long battle for the republican nomination. There is much to be done at home, moreover, in the way of strengthening the organization of the third party and reducing its working basis his ideas in regard to economic and social reforms which he wishes to use in his campaign.

With what he regards as the greatest fight of his life ahead, however, he has decided to put aside other considerations, if he deems it necessary, and begin his personal campaign this month.

"I cannot make trips through these states now and again in the fall," said he. "I expect to go into a good many states before election."

He added that he had told those who asked him to speak in the primaries that they must decide when they would prefer to have him make his campaign in those states.

Col. Roosevelt yesterday indicated that during the campaign he expects to speak to more persons than almost any other candidate in the history of the country. He says he will campaign in the south as vigorously as in the north.

"This is a crusader's fight," he said yesterday. "I have told those who offered to go with us that they should not do so unless the fire was burned into their souls."

The ex-president said yesterday that Frank Pettigrew, ex-United States senator from South Dakota, and a democrat, had come out for him.

Ex-Senator Pettigrew came to Oyster Bay yesterday to enlist under the Roosevelt battle flag. Mr. Pettigrew was a prominent figure at Baltimore during the democratic convention and was described at the time as one of the leaders of the Champ Clark forces.

"Mr. Pettigrew said he profoundly disapproved of Woodrow Wilson's nomination," said Col. Roosevelt, "and that he believed half the democrats of South Dakota would vote for me. He said he regarded Gov. Wilson as a reactionary and that the democratic platform meant nothing."

ACCIDENT CASES
Mrs. Mary Higgins of 41 Prospect street suffered a painful injury yesterday while attempting to close a window during the electrical storm. While she was lowering the window one of her hands slipped and went through a pane of glass. She went to the Emergency hospital, where it was found necessary to take six stitches in the wound.

Prosper Jewell of 537 Gorham street received a painful injury to his hip on the South common yesterday afternoon. The youngster was playing around one of the swings and when a companion gave it a sudden push it caught him unprepared and struck him in the face inflicting the injury. Four stitches were taken at the Emergency hospital.

Colorado is a Wonderful Place for Children

I don't know any other place where children are so benefited from a few weeks of outdoor life, as they are in Colorado. The summer life out there is about as ideal as can be imagined, and you can live there nowadays so comfortably, and at such moderate cost. It is easy to go to Colorado, as only one change of cars is necessary, and the trains are so comfortable and modern with their Pullmans and dining cars, and electric lights and patent ventilators, that the trip out and back is really a great part of the pleasure of it all.

I would like very much to send you some pamphlets published by our railroad, the "Burlington Route," containing maps and pictures, and telling all about the country, the hotels, boarding houses, etc.

ter Bay yesterday to enlist under the Roosevelt battle flag. Mr. Pettigrew was a prominent figure at Baltimore during the democratic convention and was described at the time as one of the leaders of the Champ Clark forces.

"Mr. Pettigrew said he profoundly disapproved of Woodrow Wilson's nomination," said Col. Roosevelt, "and that he believed half the democrats of South Dakota would vote for me. He said he regarded Gov. Wilson as a reactionary and that the democratic platform meant nothing."

ACCIDENT CASES
Mrs. Mary Higgins of 41 Prospect street suffered a painful injury yesterday while attempting to close a window during the electrical storm. While she was lowering the window one of her hands slipped and went through a pane of glass. She went to the Emergency hospital, where it was found necessary to take six stitches in the wound.

Prosper Jewell of 537 Gorham street received a painful injury to his hip on the South common yesterday afternoon. The youngster was playing around one of the swings and when a companion gave it a sudden push it caught him unprepared and struck him in the face inflicting the injury. Four stitches were taken at the Emergency hospital.

Colorado is a Wonderful Place for Children

I don't know any other place where children are so benefited from a few weeks of outdoor life, as they are in Colorado. The summer life out there is about as ideal as can be imagined, and you can live there nowadays so comfortably, and at such moderate cost. M'CORMACK CHALLENGES MURPHY

For Swimming Match a
Lakeview--Campers
Held Meeting

A meeting of the campers of Lakeview and Willow Dale was held at Willow Dale last evening and preliminary plans for the boat carnival to be held at the lake in the near future were formulated and despite the inclement weather, there was a good sized attendance. The first business was the election of a temporary chairman and John Gallagher was selected. He occupied the chair and several suggestions were made relative to the carnival which will be acted upon at the next meeting of the campers which will be held at the pavilion at the lake on Sunday morning at 11:30 o'clock. At this session permanent officers will be elected and other important matters discussed.

Joseph P. Viste, son of the father of the movement and he is greatly interested in the success of the feature. He expects to move at Sunday's meeting that "Podge" Murphy be appointed chairman of the sports committee and as the latter is well acquainted with the game his election is practically assured.

What is expected to be a great feature of the outing and carnival is a long distance swim between Eddie McCormack and "Podge" Murphy. The former has issued a deal to Murphy, stating that he would like to meet "Podge" who, owing to his victory over Gilbert of Revere Sunday is being heralded as the champion of the city. McCormack is confident that with sufficient training that he will defeat Murphy and will start right in with his workouts.

When Murphy was informed of the challenge he authorized the writer to accept the offer and now that the match is on both men will get to it and it will surely be some race.

BOY BADLY INJURED RUN OVER BY HACK

The Accident Occurred at the Corner of Cheever and
Tucker Streets

Edgar Tessier, aged 9 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tessier of Cheever street, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon, when he was run over by a hack owned by Undertaker Joseph Albert. Although the heavy vehicle passed over the boy's body, there were no bones broken.

The accident occurred at the corner of Cheever and Tucker streets, shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The little fellow was running to his home and was on the crossing when the hack which was driven by a Mr. Noel, in the employ of Undertaker Albert, came along the road. Inasmuch as there was a high wind and the street was filled with dust, the driver and the boy did not see each other. According to witnesses, the horses struck the boy and threw him down, while the heavy carriage passed over his back. Passerby rushed to his assistance, but before they reached him the boy was on his feet again and he ran to his home. There Dr. J. V. Rochette was called and upon examination he found two large wounds on each leg, and another on the back. The boy today is conducting of internal injuries, and his condition may be worse than it appears. However, those who saw the accident say the driver is not to blame.

pany, which has been pending since 1902.

It was claimed that the Beaver Brook mills, one of the largest woollen manufacturing plants in the country, situated on Beaver brook in Dracut, and owned by the defendant, so polluted the water that Bassett's mill, situated farther down the stream, and owned by Col. Percy Parker, had to discontinue the manufacture of paper. Judge Morton held that the damages should be measured by the loss the mill would sustain if put to other uses, and such depreciation as was caused by pollution of the stream.

An injunction restraining the defendant from the pollution was ordered Nov. 1, 1907. Before that time it was held that dyes, oils and other forms of waste were dumped into the stream in such quantities that the paper manufactured by Bassett's mills was discolored and made soft.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO MURDER CHARGE

Dorr Arraigned in Court
at Salem

SALEM, Mass., July 12.—William A. Dorr, the Stockton, Cal. man, who is charged with the murder of George E. Marsh, a soap manufacturer of Lynn, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in the superior court here today. No date for the trial was announced. Dorr apparently has recovered from the physical collapse he suffered at the time of his arrest.

The body of Mr. Marsh, pierced by several bullets, was found beside the Revere beach boulevard near Point of Pines March 11 last. The Lynn police after an extended investigation secured evidence which they claim connected Dorr with the case.

DANIEL GORDON OVERCOME BY HEAT AND TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Daniel Gordon, of 72 Adams street, was overcome by the heat at his home yesterday afternoon. Dr. McEwan was summoned and after he made an examination he ordered that the man be hurried to the hospital as quickly as possible. The ambulance was summoned and Gordon was taken to St. John's hospital. His condition was such that he was placed on the dangerous list but during the night he showed considerable improvement and is much better today.

FOR CLEANING
GLASS WARE
CARBONOL

Windows and glassware cleaned with Carbonol solution assume a crystal clearness unobtainable by any other means. You do not know how clean windows can be made to look unless you have washed them with Carbonol.

Use Carbonol everywhere in the house for difficult cleaning. Sometimes soap and water will seem to clean well enough, but try the same work with a little Carbonol added to the water and you will find that things can be made cleaner yet.

Moreover Carbonol is a disinfectant and deodorant. Soap and water do not kill germs but Carbonol does.

Accordingly you should use Carbonol not merely where you want more perfect cleaning, but also where soap and water are inadequate, such as clearing out the garbage can after it has been emptied, to keep it clean and sanitary, to suppress odors and keep away flies.

Carbonol will remove oil, tar and axle grease stains. Carpets, rugs and hangings can be brightened by sponging with Carbonol solution.

Carbonol is easy to use and is very cheap.

LOWELL WOMAN LEFT TODAY FOR PORTLAND, OREGON

Where She Will Visit Son—More Immigrants Arrive Here—
Other Depot Notes

Mrs. G. L. Russell, who for the past several years has resided with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hall, the latter her daughter, at 525 Beacon street, left Lowell today for Portland, Ore., where she is to visit her son, David F. Morrison. Mr. Morrison has been in Portland for the past 11 years and has been very successful in the west. He is at the present time editor of the Portland Telegram, a newspaper in that city. He formerly resided in Chicago, where he also held a responsible position.

Mrs. Russell left Lowell on the noon train and was accompanied as far as Manchester by her daughter, Mrs. Hall. From there she will proceed to Portland and then to Chicago, where she will spend one day. She will then take a train for Spokane, Wash., where she will visit several friends. After a stay of a few days in the Washington city, she will board a train for her destination. Mrs. Russell plans to remain with her son for three months, after which she will return to Lowell.

The Lowell baseball players and Manager Gray and Secretary Cull left the Middlesex street depot on the 11:25 train for Worcester today.

The train due in Lowell at 11:06 for Boston was twenty minutes late today, due to it is said to the heavy travel.

One of the employees of the baggage department and his "intended" are enjoying a trip up north today.

Yesterday 45 immigrants arrived at the depot on the afternoon boat train from Fall River. None remained here, however, but took trains for Nashua, Plymouth, Berlin, Lincoln and North Woodstock.

During the week a large party of Greeks left Lowell for New York, from which place they will sail for the old country. There were about 150 in the party.

UP-TO-DATE BUILDING TO BE ERECTED

On the Site of an Old
Wood Yard

In pursuance of an order issued by the Inspector of buildings the old shacks in the wood yard in Paige street, near John street, have been torn down and the owner of the property, Mr. Thomas F. Morris, has made application for a permit to build an up-to-date block to take the place of the old wood yard. The building will be of brick, 35 to 40 feet, four stories. There will be two stories on the lower floor and four rooms on each of the other floors. The building will be moderately equipped throughout.

The pulling down of the old wood yard shacks has left exposed the rear of an old house fronting on Pollard street. The building is in bad shape and has been considered an eyesore and a fire trap for years.

GOV. WILSON

PUTS THE FINAL TOUCHES TO HIS MESSAGE

SEA GIRT, N. J., July 12.—Gov. Wilson put the final touches today to the message which Robert S. Hudspeth will carry for him to the democratic national committee in Chicago next Monday. The suggestions were discussed with him by Judge Hudspeth and other leaders.

The governor has made up his mind, he said, as to whom he will select for national chairman, but will make no announcement of his choice, except to the committee. Judge Hudspeth will carry an oral message, refreshing his memory from memoranda which the governor has made out for his guidance.

WITHDRAWS PETITION

ELL CROTEAU has withdrawn his petition for a lunch cart privilege at the corner of Race and Merrimack streets. Tired of the matter, he has decided to let it drop. The matter, however, had to remain ten days in the city clerk's office in order to allow time for remonstrants to file their objections. A Mr. Hall remonstrated and in view of the remonstrance Mr. Croteau withdrew his petition.

WEATHER REPORTS SUSPENDED

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Despite the discontinuance of weather reports from a considerable number of points as a result of the failure of congress to pass the agricultural appropriation bill, no real embarrassment to the weather bureau is expected. Acting Chief Williams of the bureau said that the suspension of reports had not seriously affected the service. The points dropped will be taken on again as soon as possible.

FREE SCHOLARSHIPS AT THE INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Each Senatorial District in the State is Entitled to Two Places

The following act, of part of act, passed by the legislature of 1912, and having to do with free scholarships for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is important. Chapter 78 of the acts and resolves for 1911 provided for eighty one-half scholarships for the M. I. T., and that has been amended to read that annually there be paid from the treasury of the commonwealth to the M. I. T., for a term of ten years beginning 1912, the sum of $100,000 to be expended under the direction of the corporation of the institute. The condition is imposed that the payment of $100,000 for the year 1912 and four years thereafter shall not be allowed unless the institute repays benefactors amounting to $100,000. The purpose of the $100,000 is to furnish 50 free scholarships which are to be granted to residents or minor children of residents, who, upon examination conducted under such rules and regulations as the president of the institute shall prescribe, shall be found to possess the qualifications fixed for the admission of candidates.

Two such scholarships shall be allotted for each senatorial district of the state, but if there are less than two the scholarships are to be distributed among other districts. If three or more properly qualified candidates make application from any senatorial district, the board of education shall, at the request of the senator of the district, grant four half scholarships and one whole scholarship.

Candidates must make application before July first each year and shall forward the approval in writing of the senator of the district.

Properly qualified candidates who are unable to bear the cost of tuition will be given preference among applicants.

There are at present eighty half scholarships in force which shall continue as full scholarships until courses of students are completed.

Misuse of Foreign Flags

Included in the acts passed by the legislature of the current year is an act relative to the misuse of foreign flags and it is of general interest. It reads, in substance, as follows:

Whoever publicly mutilates, tramples upon, defaces or treats contemptuously the flag or emblem of a foreign country at peace with the United States, whether such flag or emblem is public or private property, or whoever displays such flag or emblem or any representation thereof upon which words, figures, advertisements or designs, shall be punished by a fine not less than five or more than fifty dollars. This act was approved March 5, 1912.

Another "Battle of the Alamo" Has Stirred Passions of Americans

Within the memory of living persons the cry, "Remember the Alamo!" stirred the passions of Americans to anger and aroused thoughts of vengeance and reprisal on the Mexicans. Again the cry of "Remember the Alamo!" is heard. With it are now combined others, such as "Preserve the Alamo!" and "Let no new building be erected on the Alamo ground!"

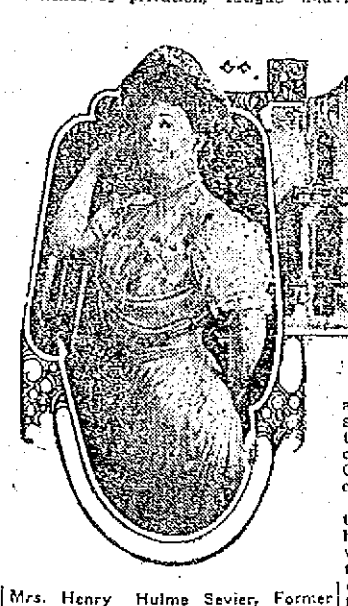

Texas is stirred by the cries. To the patriotic Texan, with a knowledge of the history of his state, with a remembrance of its interesting and heroic past, with a reverence for the name and fame of the men who conquered it from the Mexicans and made possible its inclusion in the American republic, the Alamo is a shrine, a goal of patriotic pilgrimage, to be preserved forever.

It was in the Alamo, or old mission of San Antonio de Valero, in the city of San Antonio, Texas, on March 6, 1836, that the five survivors of 180 Texans and Americans, led by Crockett and Bowie and others succumbed to the attacks of many times their number. They had endured twelve days of siege, hardship and wounds, had seen their comrades drop wounded and dying and had not given in. They were now overpowered by weight of numbers and could do no more in cold blood.

It was one of the most wonderful fights in the history of the world. It was the culmination of the Texas war for independence, and it furnished to the Texans fighting at San Jacinto on April 21, 1836, the battery which sounded the doom of Mexican rule north of the Rio Grande. The battle of the Alamo is known in history as the "American Thermopylae," and is recorded in pride and in sorrow and in reverence the names of the honored dead that "Thermopylae" had its messenger of defeat; the Alamo had none. The words are inscribed on the Alamo monument in the capital grounds in Austin. They are true and those of many another memorial inscription.

The story of the Alamo has been written so often and by pens so able that it is known to all school children and students of American history. Briefly told, it relates that the Alamo consisted of a church, an inclosed convent yard about a hundred feet square, a convent and hospital building and a plaza covering about two and a half acres, protected by a wall eight feet high and thirty-three inches thick. It was erected about 1722. Here the small company of Texans and Americans took refuge in February, 1836, and awaited attack by General Santa Anna with a vastly superior force. After a bombardment lasting almost continuously from Feb. 23 to March 6, a small breach was made in the wall, and early on the morning of March 6 the Mexicans assaulted in force. They were driven back with great loss twice, but sealed the parapet in the third attempt and a desperate hand to hand conflict ensued. The Texans, although weakened by privation, fatigue and wounds fought with such desperation that only five remained alive. These were captured and killed.

Of the garrison of about 150 only three men, two children and a negro boy survived. The losses of the Mexicans are not known with certainty, but it is believed that in the assaults and final conflicts more than 500 of them perished. The last American to fall in the melee was, it is said, Colonel James Bowie, inventor of the famous knife, who went under only when the circle of dead foes about him prevented him from using his weapons.

The Alamo is owned by the state of Texas and is entrusted by law to the care of the Daughters of the republic

OUT FOR WILSON

The Springfield Republican, one of the most influential newspapers in Massachusetts, has declared itself in favor of Wilson for president. The Republican is a tower of strength in politics. Independent in politics, though republican in name, it wields a strong influence for the candidate of its choice. Most of all the republican defection throughout the country will go to Wilson as the only genuine progressive. The Roosevelt move to capture the progressives has fallen flat and cannot be revived.

What the Republican says on the subject is of interest to all voters and especially to democrats as indicating their excellent choice in nominating Wilson. Here is the statement:—

"An administration with Wilson at its head would insure at least the desirable reduction in the tariff which this country probably could not secure in any other way. The time has come when that task, so long and scandalously delayed, should be performed; and we see no prospect of its being done by the republican party in its disorganized and enfeebled condition. The aggressions of wealth would be checked, the solution of the trust problem advanced, and our foreign relations managed with the purpose of maintaining peace and promoting friendship between nations.

"President Taft is to be released from his heavy burden at the end of his present term. The difficulties in the way of his re-election, created by Mr. Roosevelt's bolt from the republican party, and now still more increased by the strongest nomination the democrats could have made, substantially eliminate the regular republican ticket.

"Entertaining great respect for Mr. Taft and his honest efforts to promote progressive policies under republican auspices and govern without hysteria or demagogism, independents and progressives, who will not consort with Theodore Roosevelt in his third-term ambition, view the candidacy of Governor Wilson with satisfaction and anticipate with confidence his triumph at the polls."

THREATS OF DYNAMITE

The I. W. W. is adopting rather radical measures for the purpose of securing the release of Ettor from an Essex county jail. District Attorney H. C. Atwill has been so bombarded with threatening letters that he has had to call upon the Lynn police for protection. The writers threaten to destroy his home by dynamite and to have his blood unless Ettor be released forthwith. Judging from the record of the I. W. W. these threats cannot safely be taken as idle talk. A guard of police has been placed around Mr. Atwill's home and he moves about apparently little concerned over the threats against his life. Had the authorities been contemplating the speedy trial of Ettor this might delay matters as a man who has such confederates must be a dangerous character.

THE THAW CASE

There is something very comical in the efforts of the Thaw lawyers to prove that their client is sane. They have to disprove what they proved by expert testimony at the trial by which he was saved from the electric chair. The object now being to have him released from the insane asylum, expert alienists are found who declare him quite sane and fit to be set free to live as a member of society without a stain upon his escutcheon so far as a court decision is concerned. The case of Thaw is a typical illustration of how a criminal can escape the penalties of the law by the use of money.

FOSS FOR SENATOR

Governor Foss may be a candidate for United States senator next year. It is reported that he will run for a third term and that Hon. David I. Walsh will be the candidate for lieutenant governor. There is little doubt that Foss can be reelected governor next year, but as to senator that is a different proposition and one that may rest with republican politicians unless the democrats have a majority in the general court. His Excellency is a shrewd politician, however, and can do largely as he pleases in Massachusetts politics.

The tariff is largely responsible for the high cost of living because it is the mother of trusts which establish monopolies and fleece the people as they please. Protected against foreign competition they throttle competition in the domestic market empowering the dealers to fleece the consumer as they please. Of course even under trust direction it may happen that the supply of potatoes or of meat may be rather short. The government should regulate that by removing the tariff where necessary. There should be no tariff on the staple necessities of life. Potatoes and meat should be allowed to enter free of duty and so with many other leading necessities of life.

The occasional evidence of the failure of juries to render just verdicts is one of the strongest reasons against the recall of judges. There should be some authority on the bench that will be protected against popular clamor in the administration of justice. Otherwise we shall have mob rule instead of an administration of justice that is no respecter of persons.

Roosevelt's whim that he was robbed of the nomination has not brought him much sympathy. The republican national committee is to publish a report of the testimony offered. Roosevelt should publish a counter report. His claim for a third term is made on a flimsy foundation.

Roosevelt is conducting a sort of back action campaign. He is planning to steal the Taft presidential electors although he poses as the first and foremost American exponent of the command "Thou shalt not steal."

The immigration of vessels from Cuba to drive out rats that are supposed to carry the yellow plague germs is an innovation at the ports of New York and Boston, but a necessary precaution nevertheless.

During the hot weather horses driven through the city should be protected by some head-covering with a wet sponge underneath. Several horses were overcome on Wednesday because of exposure and lack of any precaution such as here recommended.

Our smoke inspector is generally supposed to be smoking the pipe of peace at city hall, or some other cooler resort. We hope to hear from him before the fall.

The Americans are leading the world at the Olympic games at Stockholm. Victory in such a contest will speak volumes for American brawn and endurance.

SEEN AND HEARD

The weather of the past few days has breathed a spirit of vacation life more than anything else. And that reminds me of an incident that happened to two friends of mine who went from the beach, where they were sojourning to Newburyport, last summer. Newburyport, as you doubtless know, is one of those staid old seaport towns, with little to denote progress in any line of human endeavor. Yet within the home of some fine people. But I am digressing from my original theme. The two young men in question left their cottage at the beach one Saturday night on having some tonsorial work done for Lowell boys. From time immemorial, are wont to be kippity and up to snuff when they have their best Sunday clothes on. In the course of time they sought out a likely looking place, and noting the hour, just 10 minutes before the noon meal, they said one to the other, that if they would insure their getting back to the beach at 1 o'clock. The proprietor of the shop was standing in the doorway and as they mounted the steps, he said: "I'm sorry gentlemen but I can't serve you." Both young men stood still stunned at the thought of a man in business turning down a chance to make a dollar because he wanted to eat. One fellow, a very keen chap, and clever in a good many ways speaking about the matter was inclined to philosophize, saying that the quest for the almighty dollar didn't seem to be on in such real earnest as in his home town, and perhaps they live longer than they do here.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the woman suffrage leader, has had occasion to illustrate the natural ability of a woman to deal with a new or extraordinary situation. Says she: "There was one American husband who was very much displeased because his wife had bought a few puffs of false hair."

"Connecting a little plan of his own, he hid in the hall one day when his better half was getting ready to make some calls."

"Caroline," he said, in a voice of stern reproach, "Why, under the heavens, do you put the hair of another woman—probably a dead one—on your head?"

"Why," replied his wife, without turning around from the mirror, "do you put the skin of another calf—surely a dead one—on your hands?"

Julia Marlowe, the charming Shakespearean actress, tells a story at the expense of the less brilliant members of her profession.

"The late Richard Mansfield's company had been rehearsing more or less faithfully for an hour when the hypercritical star himself arrived unexpectedly."

"For several seconds Mr. Mansfield watched the rehearsal—his expressive

SKIN TROUBLE ON HANDS, ARMS, LEGS

And Feet. Some on Body. Formed Dry Scabs. When He Scratched Water Would Come Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Stopped the Itching and Cured Him.

173 Paris St., East Boston, Mass.—"I have a little boy eight years old who has sores on his hands, arms, legs, feet, and some on his body. They formed dry scabs. I had him treated and it looked worse; it was spreading. In the night he scratched so much that he was all bleeding and his bed also was a mess with blood and scabs. When he scratched the sores, matter and water would come out from them. I bought a box of Cuticura, and that did not do any good, and I was discouraged. My aunt told me, 'Why don't you try Cuticura Ointment and Soap?' She said it would stop that itch and give it a chance to heal. The next day I put a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. I gave him a good bath with the Cuticura Soap and put the Cuticura Ointment on him all over where the sores were. He slept that night all right. I only had to use two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and two cakes of Cuticura Soap and he was all cured and has never had sores since." (Signed) Mrs. John J. Gierlor, Jan. 26, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T., Boston."

face running the gamut of emotions. "Wait a minute—wait a minute!" impatiently called out the pompous stage manager. "Where are those two jackasses that are supposed to come down that hill on this little cue?"

"Thereupon Mr. Mansfield abruptly interrupted him. "Go on—go on with the scene"—he ordered, authoritatively. Then he turned to the stage manager, and patted his shoulder. "I don't think it will be necessary to have those two jackasses brought in at all. It looks to me as if there were enough on the stage already."

Mrs. Betty Green, who is probably the richest woman in America, personally manages her large properties with such marvelous success that one readily understands why she has told the following:

"I have heard of a Scotch storekeeper or out in Alaska who was visited by a commercial traveler at Christmas time.

"Here's a box of cigars for you, Sandy," said the commercial man, and I hope you'll enjoy them."

"Na, na," said Sandy. "I couldn't take 'em—I never do business that way."

"Tut, tut—nonsense, sir," exclaimed the traveler; "it's a Christmas box."

"Na, na, na! I never tak' anything fer naething."

"Well, give me a dime for the box, if that will ease your conscience."

"Ay, ay! Well, let me see," said Sandy, opening his gold-dust drawer, "there be a silver quarter here—I'll tak' three boxes."

AS CHILDREN DO Sometimes when night is creeping down

And all the world about is dim, And he must go to Sleepytown.

You lie down at the side of him And whisper soothing little things In children words such as you frame To tell the sound of beetle wings

And how the firefly gets its flame. And soon the world grows darker yet And to the little fellow's eyes Strange, hidden dangers now beset

The shadowy places in the skies; But you speak low and comforting And tell him none of them are there. That near him is not anything But what is good and kind and fair.

Then trembling come his little hands Out through the dark and find your face.

As though by touch he understands That he is in the safest place; And so with fingers on your cheek He sighs contentedly to sleep— And you—you may not even speak, So very, very still you keep.

Some time you, as a little child, Shall fare into an unknown night And shall yearn for the stars that smiled

With all their soothing, drowsy light; And you, as little children do, May grope out through the darks of space

And sigh in peace to sleep, when you At last have touched your Father's face.

MILK DEALERS

HAVE DECIDED TO RAISE THE PRICE

WESTER, July 12.—A majority of the dealers met today and voted to raise the price of milk to eight cents per quart, the new price to go into effect July 15.

Since the dry spell began, there has been an increased demand for milk and the supply has been considerably less. Where three weeks ago the Webster milk dealers were taking home from one to four cans a day after making their routes, they are now returning empty-handed and are forced to cut off some of their customers with no milk at all.

Charles Deary, one of the dealers, said at the meeting: "We are going to have a hard time getting enough milk for our customers unless we have some rain right away. One rainstorm will not make a great deal of difference. We have got to have three or four before any material good will result. It has been so dry that the feed is running short and the cows are not giving the quantity of milk that they usually do. On the other hand, the people seem to be demanding it more and more. The supply is getting shorter every day and only continued rain for several days will put it anywhere near the normal mark again."

view avenue, damaged by fire yesterday.

Mrs. Alfred Heroux of Ludlum street will leave Sunday evening for Naperville, Ill., where she will spend four weeks, the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brunelle, formerly of this city.

Mr. Elie Delisle, piano dealer in Tucker street, has opened a branch store at 540 Merrimack street, where he will keep a full line of pianos and sewing machines.

An alarm from box 57 at 7:56 o'clock last night summoned a portion of the fire department to a slight blaze in a closet in a house in William street. The fire was extinguished before any material damage was done.

The many friends of the Misses Nora Callahan, Nellie Fitzgerald, Nora Boland and Marion Materson will be pleased to hear of their safe arrival in Queensdown after a very pleasant voyage on the Lagoon. They expect to return in the early fall.

As a result of the storm yesterday, two of the large plate glass windows in Henry Carr's furniture store on Gorham street were shattered to pieces. The accident happened shortly after the storm started when the wind blew the awning down striking against the corner, and breaking both windows.

The regular meeting of the Victoria Lodge of Odd Ladies was held Wednesday night in Odd Fellows hall. There was a large attendance and considerable business was transacted during the course of the meeting. The different officers submitted reports which were accepted, the reports showing that the lodge is in excellent condition at the present time. A class initiation was held and 27 new members were admitted. Present at the meeting were a number of out of town visitors.

Ivy poison quickly healed by Resinol

Ivy or oak poison, sunburn, heat rashes, insect bites and other annoying hot weather skin troubles are instantly relieved and quickly healed by Resinol Ointment and warm baths with Resinol Soap.

Mr. Edgar A. Norris, of Unionville, Md., writes, May 5, 1911: "Every summer I get ivy-poison. I have suffered awfully, cannot sleep and almost go blind with itching and pain. The worst places get perfectly raw. I have tried dozens of remedies that had no effect. Last summer I had a severe case, and tried Resinol Ointment. I found it the very thing. It not only is soothing, and stops that awful itching, but it heals rapidly. I was cured of the trouble."

Sample free: Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are also most effective for eczema, baby rashes and chafage, bed sores, churds, and falling hair. Your druggist sells them, but for generous free samples of each, write to Dr. A. S. Resinol, Chem. Co., Baltimore, Md.

JUST ONE LITTLE BITE

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS Upon its pages, it would undoubtedly be very interesting reading, though city hall would be a very wonderful more sorrow than joy, perhaps, would look it but gave just a little of the fill the pages. On July 6 a couple history of those whose names appear registered their marriage intention and three days later the prospective groom showed up and said it was all off. This particular intention is marked "cancelled."

About a dozen couples have registered their intentions since the last were published and it is more or less interesting to note the birthplaces of the contracting parties. Four of the twelve couples were born in Greece, one in Scotland, two in Russia, and one in Persia.

John Vardas, 28, fruit dealer, Ansonia, Conn., and Paraskevi G. Vovet, 24, at home, 455 Adams street.

July 10—William Cameron (widow), 44, locomotive, 84 Bridge street, and Annie Henderson (divorced), nee Merrill, 44, weaver, same address.

July 11—John Youngson, 22, laborer, Somerville, Mass., and Elizabeth Leitch, 19, knicker, 31 Tyler street.

July 12—George Davies, 35, operative, 101 Common street, and Eugenia Kokkaki, 22, operative, Manchester, N. H.

CHANCELLOR AVERY SAYS THAT SOME STUDENTS ARE EXTRAVAGANT IDLERS

CHICAGO, July 12.—In an arraignment of American university life delivered last night before the higher education department of the National Education Association, Chancellor Samuel Avery of the University of Nebraska declared that in many cases students are extravagant idlers, who, being able to afford it, spend their winters in fashionable universities, which they regard as attractive winter resorts, under the guise of institutions of learning and culture.

"A student nowadays must be very brilliant or very troublesome before the college president becomes acquainted with him at all," said Chancellor Avery. "The enormous influx of students has changed the character of the student body. Every college president knows and if he is frank will admit, that there is some truth in the strictures of the late R. T. Crane."

The story widely circulated and commonly believed that in the destruction by fire of a fraternity house at one institution, the students lost their lives because they were too intoxicated to escape and the other story of the drunken student who blundered into the wrong apartment and was shot as a burglar, are sufficiently well known to make every college president wonder if these things are not present in his own institution.

Carney

Joseph Schofield, aged 11 years of Beverly, who is visiting in this city, narrowly escaped death by drowning in the Concord river yesterday afternoon, when he was suddenly seized with cramps while swimming. He was saved by Edward Carney of 73 Hillerica street, and Patrolman Joseph Considine, who fortunately were on the spot in the nick of time, and pulled him out of the treacherous waters when he was sinking for the third time.

Young Schofield and several other boys about his age were having a splendid time taking a dip in the Concord river opposite the Six Arch bridge. Schofield was about in the middle of the river, when he was suddenly seized with cramps. He called for help cover Sum of $100

The case of the W. Booth company against the City of Lowell, an action of tort, was heard before Judge Pickman in the court of second sessions this afternoon. Melvin G. Rogers appeared for the plaintiff and City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy appeared for the city. The ad damnum is $100.

The plaintiff alleges that a horse and wagon belonging to him were passing through Middlesex and Gorham streets at about 8 a. m. on August 14, 1911, when an automobile belonging to the water works department of the city of Lowell collided with the horse and injured it. The plaintiff claims that the driver of the horse was in the exercise of due care but that the operator of the automobile was negligent.

The defendant's answer is a general denial.

ILLINOIS SENATOR MADE A BITTER GETTING HOT AGAIN ATTACK UPON HIS ENEMIES
IN STRONG SPEECH

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Renewing his attack upon his opponents, Senator Lorimer today began the conclusion of his speech of defense in the senate. His belligerent attitude of yesterday, when he asked for no quarter but assailed those who had been active in prosecuting the case against him, was apparent from the outset. He launched once more into an attack upon Col. Roosevelt and characterized as "inaccurate and unreliable" the report of the minority members of the committee which investigated his election.

Well filled galleries and an attentive audience of senators and house members heard Mr. Lorimer. Dramatic gestures again characterized his delivery as he strode back and forth in the center aisle of the senate chamber. The attack on Col. Roosevelt, when he opened his speech, was based on testimony given by George B. Cortelyou yesterday before a senate committee regarding the $150,000 campaign fund raised for the republican political campaign in 1904.

Mr. Lorimer referred to Col. Roosevelt as "the custodian of all the morals of the country, private and public."

"Of course," he exclaimed, "not a cent of that $150,000 could have been contributed by the predatory wealth of the country. Surely all of it was the free gift of the common people for whom this man is the great champion. No maelstrom contributed to that fund—only the common people of whom he was the guardian."

The letter from President Taft to Col. Roosevelt, expressing the hope that Lorimer would be ousted, which became public in the pre-convention campaign, was again taken up by Lorimer. He drew attention to President Taft's phrase emphasizing the "necessity of winning." He declared his enemies had tried to win "not by a free and fair fight, but by 'sneaking up behind like a thief in the night.'"

"Was ever mortal man ever more completely surrounded by conspiracy and intrigue?" exclaimed Lorimer dramatically.

The president of the United States, William Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, the ex-president, a former democratic candidate for the presidency, William Jennings Bryan, and the trust press of the country all were in it—all joined in the conspiracy to poison the minds of the citizenship in order that one man might be destroyed to satisfy the malice of the most corrupt set of newspaper owners known to the history of the country."

Mr. Lorimer claimed that the Helm committee of the Illinois legislature was a subterfuge to bring about a second inquiry by the United States senate. He contended that the Helm inquiry had not been conducted by Illinois legislators, by "Editor Kohlsaat, John J. Healey and the Hearst newspapers." He declared the hearing had been neither impartial nor thorough, and asserted it was conducted only for the purpose of bringing the matter into the senate again in order that it might be tried by a new set of judges.

Mr. Lorimer explained his failure to take the stand as a witness in the first Lorimer investigation by the senate, by saying that even the Chicago Tribune had not counted upon connecting him with any corrupt practices.

"You cannot strike out the former verdict of the senate," he exclaimed, "and I believe that I have a little that has been declared valid."

Senator Lorimer then announced that he proposed to discuss for the first time in his address to the senate some of the evidence in the case. He began by reading an affidavit by former state Representative Clark, who was alleged to have voted for him on a promise that he would be allowed to name a new postmaster at Vandalia, Illinois. The affidavit denied the charge flatly.

Lorimer charged Senator Kern with attempting to make it appear that Charles S. Luke, a dead member of the Illinois legislature, had testified in the case. Luke had died, he said, before any of the hearings began.

Soon Lorimer took up the allegations against Jandus, Shepherd, and Tipton, also members of the Illinois legislature. The implication attached to the fact that Shepherd and Tipton had rented safe deposit boxes at the time of his election, he denounced as mere insinuations. Senators opposed to him, he declared, did not care for the facts.

Then Lorimer took up the four so-called confessions of men said to have been bribed to vote for him. The first of these was Charles A. White.

"If you have any case here it must stand or fall on White's testimony," he said.

He declared White was a perjurer, that he had admitted perjury under oath. Lee O'Neill Browne had been charged with bribing White.

Lorimer contended it had been shown that White had announced his intention of voting for him before the alleged bribery transaction took place. Ten days before his election White had voluntarily come to him and promised his vote, he said.

Senator Lorimer appeared to have recovered from the weakened condition in which his vigorous speech yesterday had left him and he continued through a spirited denunciation of his enemies with energy.

Those opposed to him declared his fight a futile one and said that the final vote would show a substantial majority against him. His friends, grave and silent for the most part, made no predictions.

Senator Lorimer took up the criticisms made by Senator Reed in his speech yesterday on Lorimer's contribution of $10,000 to the defense of Lee O'Neill Browne, charged with bribing White. Mr. Lorimer explained this act with much display of feeling toward Senator Reed. He intimated that the latter had praised his attack in terms calculated to convey suspicion where the facts did not.

"I know that Lee O'Neill Browne never paid out one dollar to influence a vote for Lorimer. I know that the state's attorney, the Tribune, and the governor were in conspiracy to destroy Lorimer," he shouted.

He declared he had contributed to Browne's defense because he knew that Mr. Browne was convicted it would be hard to make anyone believe that Lorimer had not bought his seat. They thought Browne could not escape. All the power of the third degree was to be used upon him by State's Attorney Wayman.

Returning to White, Mr. Lorimer de-

Weather Clerk Holds Out Some Hope for a Period of Comfort

It's getting hot again! Everybody in the street said so this afternoon and even though you had been feeling a bit comfortable at the time your temperature took a sudden boost and you allowed that it was "getting hot again."

As a matter of fact a change had come over the atmospheric elements in the city and telling everybody you and it was a few degrees warmer in the afternoon than in the forenoon, but still there was a good breeze and no very serious cause for complaint. And, besides, the weather clerk says that we are not going to have any more sizzling hot weather, not as hot as any rate, as the ten day period that we have just crawled through. It doesn't pay to go around looking at every glass in the city and telling everybody you and it was a few degrees warmer in

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR LATE JAMES W. GREGGDelegates From Many Organizations in Attendance—Many Floral Offerings

The funeral of the late James W. Gregg, grand master of the Manchester Unity, I. O. O. F., a former resident of this city, and later of Everett, Mass., took place this afternoon with services at the Presbyterian church in Appleton street. This morning's prayers were said at the home of the deceased in Everett, and then the body was brought to Lowell, the cortege arriving at the Northern station at 12:07 o'clock. At 2 o'clock imposing services were held at the church, where there was a very large attendance of relatives and friends of the deceased, as well as large delegations of Odd Fellows lodges, among them being prominent Odd Fellows from all over the country.

The casket was placed in the front of the church and was surrounded by numerous beautiful floral offerings. The officiating clergyman was Rev. J. M. Craig, pastor, who was assisted by Rev. N. W. Matthews. A quartet sang several beautiful selections, among them being "Abide With Me," and "Sometime We'll Understand."

The bearers were Thomas Ashton of Fall River, George F. Haskell of Waltham, Francis Riggs of Waltham, Ed-

ORANGEMEN MET TODAY

BELFAST, Ireland, July 12.—Fifty thousand Orangemen, drenched by a torrential downpour, celebrated the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne today by their customary march to White Abbey, where Frederick E. Smith, a unionist leader in the house of commons, delivered a vigorous anti-home rule speech to them.

An attempt by 200 youthful nationalists early this morning to tear down an Orange arch led to a brief but sharp conflict between the Orangemen and the nationalists, in which stone throwing was indulged in, until the police dispersed the demonstrators. Two policemen were hurt and one arrested was made.

GREAT CROPS

HIGH COST OF LIVING TO BE REDUCED

CHICAGO, July 12.—Nature is rendering valuable assistance in the solution of the high cost of living problem, according to Chicago provision dealers. Abundant rainfall throughout the country gives promise of bumper crops and the practical effect already being manifested in the local market. Vegetables of all kinds are selling 50 per cent lower than the price quoted a year ago and a still further decline is expected by dealers.

The fruit crop appears to be as promising from the consumers' standpoint as vegetables and cereals.

WOODSON TO RETIRE

CHICAGO, July 12.—Urey Woodson, former secretary of the democratic national committee, came here and made arrangements for headquarters for the different chairmen, who will meet here next Monday to deliberate on plans for Woodrow Wilson's campaign.

Mr. Woodson said that when the campaign committee formally organized his duties will have been completed and that he would then retire from active politics.

PRISONERS ESCAPED

PORTLAND, Me., July 12.—A sharp watch was being kept throughout Cumberland county and in other sections of the five short term prisoners who escaped from the county jail last evening. Up to noon no trace of them had been found since they broke jail and separated.

MUST PAY HIS WIFE
WHOM HE NEGLECTEDMan Was Found Guilty in Police Court by Judge Pickman
Today

Wilfred Aubrey and Angeline Pepin were arraigned before Judge John J. Pickman in police court this morning on a complaint charging them with adultery. James C. Reilly appeared for the government and the defendants were represented by Daniel J. Donahue. Several witnesses were heard and the court overruled a motion of counsel to have the charge dismissed.

After counsel had argued Judge Pickman found both defendants guilty and ordered each to be sentenced to three months in jail. They appealed and were held for the superior court.

Neglected His Wife

John M. Ryan was charged with failing to provide proper support for his wife. At the conclusion of the testimony offered by both parties the court found the defendant guilty and placed him on probation on condition that he would pay his wife $5 a week.

Guilty of Larceny
Peter Bernier, who appeared before the court yesterday on a complaint charging him with the larceny of a pair of shoes, razor and 25 cents in money, the property of Thomas Willett, and entered a plea of not guilty, changed his plea to that of guilty this morning and after the court had considered the testimony in the case he was sentenced to two months in jail.

Drunken Offenders
Edward Hebert denied that he was drunk, but after Patrolman Ganley, Abbott and Hogan had testified as to the man's condition he was found guilty and a fine of $2 was imposed.

Joseph J. Burke was sentenced to one month in jail. Henry C. Dixon was fined $5, and five first offenders were fined $3 each.

Assault and Battery
Charles Williams of Tyngsboro was charged with assault and battery on Moses Israel and the case was continued for one week by request of counsel for the defense. He was held under $200 bonds for his appearance at that time.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE DENOUNCES ROOSEVELT

Says Thousands of Republicans Favor Wilson

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Under the caption "The Case of Mr. Roosevelt," Senator La Follette has written the following editorial in the current number of La Follette's Weekly:

"Bryan at Baltimore, foregoing all chance of his own nomination, marshaling all his forces, braving Tammany and the trusts, to rescue his party from their domination, carrying the convention for the adoption of the most progressive democratic platform yet offered, and the nomination of the most progressive democratic candidate available, was a towering figure of moral power and patriotic devotion to civic righteousness.

"Roosevelt at Chicago, backed by money derived from the stock watering operations of the steel trust and the Harvester trust, organizing what are now confessed to have been fake contests as to nearly two hundred delegates in order to control the republican convention and secure his own nomination, refusing to aid in making a progressive platform bound to have the nomination or destroy the republican party, was a most striking example of misdirected power and unworthy ambition.

"Roosevelt had as great an opportunity to serve the progressive cause at Chicago, as Bryan had at Baltimore. But Roosevelt was serving the man, not the cause. He wanted one thing—He wanted the nomination. And yet he did not have enough votes to nominate himself upon any honest basis. He did have enough delegates in that convention ultimately to have nominated a real progressive and adopted a strong progressive platform. He could even have nominated Hadley on such a platform, and progressive republicans could have supported Hadley in such the same spirit as hundreds of thousands of them will now support Wilson. Neither Hadley nor Wilson are veterans in the progressive ranks. Neither of them has been tried by the severest tests. Both appear to be men of high ideals whose records, though short, give promise.

"But Roosevelt would not consider Hadley. He would have no one but himself. At the first suggestion of Hadley, he ordered the third party maneuvers, lest he lose his followers. If he had the evidence to prove that Taft could not be honestly and fairly nominated, why did he not direct his lieutenants to present that evidence to the national committee and then to the convention and the country so clearly that the convention would not have dared to nominate Taft, and that Taft could not, in honor, have accepted the nomination if made.

"The reason is obvious. An analysis of the testimony will, I am convinced, show that neither Taft nor Roosevelt had a majority of honestly or regularly elected delegates. This the managers upon both sides well understood. Each candidate was trying to seat a sufficient number of fraudulently elected delegates, added to those regularly chosen to support him, to secure control of the convention, and 'steam roll' the nominations. It was a proceeding with which each was acquainted, and which each had sanctioned in prior conventions.

"This explains the extraordinary conduct of Roosevelt. He could not enter upon such analysis of the evidence as would prove Taft's regularly elected delegates in the minority, without inevitably subjecting his own spurious credentials to an examination so critical as would expose the falsity of his own contention that he had an honest election majority of the delegates. He therefore deliberately chose to claim everything to cry fraud, to bully the national committee and the convention and having thus created a condition which would make impossible a calm investigation of cases upon merit, carry the convention by storm.

"That this is the true psychology of the Roosevelt proceedings becomes perfectly plain. He was there to force his own nomination or smash the convention. He was not there to preserve the integrity of the republican party and make it an instrument for the promotion of progressive principles and the restoration of government to the people. Otherwise he would have directed his floor managers to contest every inch of the ground for a progressive platform before the committee on resolutions and in the open convention.

"But Mr. Roosevelt was not governed by a suggestion of that spirit of high patriotic and unselfish purpose which Bryan furnished a magnificent example one week later in the democratic convention at Baltimore. Instead, he filled the public ear with sound and fury. He ruthlessly sacrificed everything to the one idea of his being the one candidate. He gagged his followers in the convention with putting on record any facts upon which the public could base a definite, intelligent judgment regarding the validity of Taft's nomination. He submitted no suggestion as to a platform of progressive principles. He clamored loudly for pouring the convention roll of named delegates, without paring his own candidacy of his tainted contacts and his tainted trust support. He offered no reason for a third party executive his own overwhelming craving for a third term.

OLD TROOP HILL

INVITED TO ATTEND CELEBRATION AT GETTYSBURG

The Massachusetts commission on the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg has sent out invitations for the event, and Mr. James E. Hill ("Old Troop Hill") of this city is in receipt of one of the letters.

The celebration is to be held on the famous battlefield July 1-4, 1913, and will be under the auspices of the U. S. government and the state of Pennsylvania. It is the purpose of the committee selected to have as many as possible of the actual veterans and members of those bodies mentioned as being held in reserve in the report of Gen. Mead present at the celebration. It is expected that each state will cooperate in the movement by assisting the veterans in their transportation to and from Gettysburg, and the national government is prepared to furnish rations, sleeping quarters and hospital arrangements for all the veterans present at the field.

As the celebration is to be nationwide, the confederate veterans of this battle will be present, and the hope that the breach between north and south will be fully healed by the joint celebration. Fuller details of the proposed affair will be made public as the plans are brought to perfection.

MAN FOUND DEAD

John Bennett, aged 65 years, was found dead last night in his room, 379 Middlesex street, by the employees of Undertaker George W. Heales, who had been called to the premises by the landlady. Bennett, of whom very little is known, had not been seen since last Wednesday, and yesterday the landlady becoming alarmed summoned the police and the undertaker employees, and when they entered the room they found the dead man lying on his bed. Deceased wore a dark suit and weighed about 150 pounds. The body was removed to the morgue of Undertaker Heales.

CHELMSFORD

Ephraim Ayotte, foreman for H. L. Parkhurst of Chelmsford, met with a serious accident on Wednesday, when he had several ribs broken and sustained a number of severe bruises. He was engaged in teaming large poles from Harvard to Clinton, and was in charge of two teams. Upon reaching Still River, in attempting to leave the team he was driving to go to the second, the animals started suddenly, throwing him to the ground between the wheels. The rear wheels passed over his body causing the above mentioned injuries. The horses ran for a short distance before they were captured. Word of the accident was received by telephone and F. O. Dutton went to Still River by automobile and brought Mr. Ayotte to his home here where he will probably be confined for several weeks.

DAVID I. WALSH IS OUT FOR FOSS

Will Run Himself if Gov.
is Not Candidate

FITCHBURG, July 12.—David I. Walsh, when told yesterday afternoon that Dist. Atty. Joseph C. Pelletier had taken out papers for the democratic nomination for governor, said he preferred to wait until he was fully assured that Gov. Foss could not be persuaded to be a candidate for another term before he made answer to the numerous telegrams, letters and personal requests of his friends to become a candidate.

"I am a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor," he added, "but have delayed making any announcement because of the hope of the many party leaders that Gov. Foss be induced to once more be the candidate. When their efforts have resulted in the positive assurance that the governor, under no circumstances, will be the candidate, I shall begin an aggressive campaign for the nomination. The governor's final decision, I believe, will be known before the end of the present week."

REV. FR. GUNN

WELL KNOWN JESUIT PRIEST
BURIED AT WORCESTER

WORCESTER, July 12.—The funeral of Rev. Fr. Francis W. Gunn, S. J., professor of mathematics at Holy Cross college, took place yesterday at the college chapel, where the simple services of the Jesuit order were conducted by Rev. Fr. Joseph N. Dinand, S. J., president of Holy Cross.

The services were attended by all the members of the Holy Cross faculty and by the priests of the Providence diocese, who are making their annual retreat at the college. After the office for the dead was chanted by the priests, a mass of requiem was offered by Rev. Fr. Dinand and then the body was escorted to the grave in the college cemetery by all the priests, who carried lighted candles and offered prayers for the dead. At the grave the priests formed a hollow square and chanted the "Benedictus."

HELD IN $1000

BROCKTON MAN CHARGED WITH
HIGHWAY ROBBERY

BROCKTON, July 12.—When Joseph P. Kerns, aged 28, of 238 Grove street, stood up in the police court yesterday morning to hear what Judge Warren C. Reed had to say regarding his hearing, he was about the most surprised man ever seen in this court when held in $1000 to answer to the grand jury on the charge of highway robbery in stealing a bottle of whiskey, a 45 bill, and a pipe from William McDonald.

Celebrating the Fourth and feeling in a very tensely patriotic spirit, McDonald was on his way home when, so it is charged, Kerns, William F. Lally and Harry Linahan came up from behind, held his arms and took from his hip pocket his bottle of oil-of-jer. He was then hustled into an alley and the five and the pipe extracted.

Kerns was arrested and the charge of highway robbery was placed against him, and the police are making a strenuous search for the other two men.

INCOME TAX

MAY CAUSE BITTER CLASH IN
IOWA CONVENTION

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 12.—A bitter clash over the income tax law plank of the platform was one of the possibilities that faced the democratic state convention today. Rumors were current that a minority report on the plank as drawn up by the majority of the committee last night would be presented.

It was understood that the plank in the tentative platform provided for the amendment of the law and the submission of the amendment to a referendum vote of the people. This was too mild a declaration to suit the radical element, who stood for the repeal of the law.

Besides the adoption of the platform, the convention was scheduled to name candidates for lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer and attorney general. Chairman Kearney ruled last night the convention was not bound to limit itself to endorsing any one candidate for each office.

A. J. Schmitz and J. C. Karel were nominated for governor by the convention last night. Both names will go on the primary ballot in September.

DESPERATE YEGG

INSPECTOR ROBINSON

BOSTON, July 12.—Postoffice Inspector Harry Robinson returned to Boston from New York yesterday, bringing back news of the arrest in that city of William Driscoll, alias Tom Morris and Ottawa Irish, a Canadian, and reputed to be one of the cleverest safe blowers in his own country and the United States.

Driscoll has been hunted for by the American and Canadian governments, and police officials for almost a year. He was walking along Houston street, New York, when taken into custody by Inspector Robinson and a New York officer.

Driscoll is now in jail at Chelsea, N. Y., and will be charged with breaking and entering a store at Williamstown, Vt., on the night of Aug. 18, 1911, when a sensational battle took place between the yegmen and officers. Revolver shots were exchanged, but happily no one was injured, although a bullet came dangerously near hitting a federal officer. The postoffice at Williamstown is located in the store

DOG DAYS

REPORTERS CALLED

TO TESTIFY AT THE TRIAL OF
DARROW

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 12.—Newspaper reporters who were present when Bert H. Franklin was arraigned on a charge of jury bribing last December were expected to testify today in the bribery trial of Clarence S. Darrow.

At the time of his arraignment after the sensational ending of the McNamara trial, Franklin was quoted to the effect that Mr. Darrow had nothing to do with the bribery of the McNamara jurors. During his cross-examination early in the present trial, Franklin denied that he had ever made such a statement and the newspaper men were summoned to impeach the testimony of the former McNamara defense detective. The cross-examination of former Fire Chief Charles O. Hawley was expected to be finished soon after the trial was resumed today.

STORM WAS SEVERE BUT BROUGHT RELIEF

Joseph Manseau in
Kenwood

The electrical storm of yesterday lopped several degrees off the temperature and while it was responsible for some considerable damage by fire it did a world of good. The storm was quite violent here but not so violent as in some sections. In Boston the storm broke the hot wave at the cost of two lives and a tremendous property loss. The greatest damage done in this city was the destruction of the barn at the Chelmsford Street hospital.

The humidity was greater yesterday than on previous days during the hot spell and everybody was fearful lest the storm that was seen to gather would pass us by and it was about to go by without saying "hello" when a stiff breeze from the north caught it amid ships and then there was something doing. The wind during the afternoon was as fragrant as the slave law and to the fragrance of the wind are we indebted for that almost golden rain.

The total rainfall was just one inch and this is official, the information being obtained at the office of the Locks & Canals. The first part of the shower was heavy and it was estimated that about eighteen-hundredths of an inch fell in less than ten minutes. Asked if he thought the rainfall would affect the river, Engineer Safford said that it probably would be noticeable but he believed that most of the rain soaked into the ground and did not make its way to the river. The ground was thirsty and badly in need of a drink. The rain caused a number of washouts in different parts of the city. The patrolmen on their beats telephoned to the police station; the police station notified the city stables and lights were placed at the dangerous points. There were many washouts on the hill in Centralville and Bellevue wasn't far behind. The great rush of water on Fort hill swept away the clinder sidewalks and the catch basins. In the streets were not able to take care of the great rush of water and in several places the streets were flooded. About all of Oak street was washed down to Huntington street where it was piled up in hills.

A sewer in Moody street between Aiken and Spalding streets was blocked and the water filled the street. A tree in Mansour street was struck and the street was blocked for several hours. Three large limbs were torn from a tree on the south side of the South common. A tree on Sherman street, another on Allen and Bradley streets and a part of a tree on Wyman street were blown down.

The street railway, the electric light company and the telephone company had their troubles. The Telephone company reported that about 300 lines had been disabled by the storm; the Electric Light corporation received number of complaints, chiefly from the Westford, Chelmsford, and the Highlands and Oakland sections. The majority of the complaints were for damaged lights and fans and the trouble was quickly remedied. Electric cars were stalled, cars being put out of commission on all lines. The officials of the company said it was one of the most damaging storms in years and the truth of the statement was borne out by the long line of crippled cars from the square to the power house.

A bolt of lightning struck the residence of Harry Dunlap at 116 Banks street, during the height of the storm, but very little damage was done. Lightning struck a large tree in Sprigden Lane's yard which is located in Fourth avenue. The tree fell with a crash to the ground destroying several grape vines. The same bolt also struck Zenayr Russell's barn, but the damage was slight.

The chimney of the house of J. R. Smith, at 57 Butterfield street was struck by lightning and though the bolt passed down through the house, the only damage caused was the burning of a mattress.

The house of Wilfrid J. Benoit at 114 Lakeside avenue was struck by lightning. The damage was slight and was fully covered by insurance through the office of F. C. Church.

The house of Ernest G. Westberg, 19 Forrest street was struck by lightning yesterday afternoon and the roof was considerably damaged by the bolt.

The house of Joseph Manseau in Kenwood was struck by a lightning bolt yesterday afternoon, but the damage was slight. The same bolt struck and killed Mr. Manseau's dog, a valuable Newfoundland, and it stunned his two young daughters who were swinging in the hammock in the yard. The hammock was overturned and the little girls were thrown to the ground. They were picked up in an unconscious condition and carried into the house, where they were revived. The lightning also struck and destroyed several trees in the district.

FINAL DISCUSSIONS

BEFORE THE NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

CHICAGO, July 12.—Although the ranks of the educators in attendance at the National Education Association were somewhat depleted before the morning session of this, the closing day, was called, there was a large attendance to hear the final discussions. The first subject for discussion for the day was "Rural life conditions and rural education."

The subject was to be taken up in five branches. Warren H. Wilson, director of missions New York city; T. R. Foast, superintendent of schools, Greensboro, N. C.; J. J. Russell, director of the experimental station, Harpenden, England and Philander C. Clayton, United States commissioner of education, Washington, D. C., were to discuss phases of the subject. Albert E. Winship, editor of an educational paper, Boston; Baroness Bertha von Suttner, Vienna; and Lathin M. Girick, director of the department of child hygiene, Russell Sage Foundation, New York city, were on the program as the speakers at the evening session.

Salt Lake City, it was said, would probably be the next meeting place.

MISSION CIRCLE

OF FIFTH STREET CHURCH ENJOYED OUTING AT TYNGSBORO

The members of the Woman's Mission Circle of Fifth Street Baptist church, Lowell, were the guests of Mrs. William J. Collins at Tyngsboro on Wednesday afternoon and evening, July 10. A pleasing program was rendered, many taking part. The subject of the meeting was "The Mission to the Lepers" with the Misses Florence Stiles and Glenn Pratt, acting as soloists. A beautiful collation was served by the hostess and a general good time followed. The return to the city was made in the evening and all pronounced the affair one of the best ever held.

The Chance of a Lifetime

Spot Cash Buys the Entire Stock of Springfield's Famous Tailors, Renison & Co.,
Phoenix Building, 307 Main Street, Springfield.

As to Renison & Co.

Boston alone is the only city in New England having a tailor ranking higher than Renison & Co. of Springfield and Boston has perhaps only one.

Renison & Co. handled the most exclusive line of woollens imported by this country, and they numbered among their customers only those whose pocketbooks were as stout as their clothing tastes fastidious. Doctors, lawyers, professional performers of celebrity, business and mercantile leaders of the entire East, carried their exacting demands in clothing from their native cities to Renison & Co. of Springfield.

Necessarily the product of this concern was of the highest order obtainable, and the cloth entering suitings to be sold for $40, $50 and $60, almost invariably cost Renison $4, $5 and $6 per yard.

Notice!

You have been reading my advertisements in this paper for a long time. Did you ever notice that I never used the term foreign woollens in those advertisements?

When I get foreign woollens somebody has lost money, somebody has lost very big money. We can't get big trades on foreign woollens every day or every month. I can be careful, however, not to claim that I always have the foreign stuff.

Renison & Co. did have them—They carried them all the time in big lots. I have them now, so I can sell them to you—Genuine foreign woollens at your own price.

I want the people of Lowell to get as much of the Renison & Co. suitings as trade during the dull heated period will stand. To those old customers of mine whose present wants are supplied, I say come in and pick out something you like and let me put your selection away for a month or two months or till you are ready. To the tasty dressers of Lowell who may have doubts as to my ability to satisfy their particularly peculiar exactions in clothing, I say come in and compare this stock with anything you ever wore in your lifetime.

TIMOTHY F. ROURKE CHOSEN PRESIDENT Of the Trades and Labor Council

Timothy F. Rourke was elected president of the Trades and Labor council for the ensuing six months at a meeting of that body held at 32 Middle street last night. There was a large attendance of delegates and much business of importance was transacted. The meeting was called to order by President Edward A. Welch and the newly elected delegates from the different organizations were obligated and three new organizations announced that they had affiliated with the council, namely, the Mill Men's union, moving picture machine operators and the Retail Clerks' association. It was voted to endorse the strike of the mill men's union.

A letter was read and adopted, commending John T. Shea, claim agent of the Boston Elevated Co., for the stand he has taken in refusing to address the loyalists of the Elevated employees, and the secretary was instructed to forward the same.

Several committee reports were accepted as progressive. Secretary Chas. E. Anderson made his semi-annual report, which was accepted, and a vote of thanks was tendered him for his work during the term.

The principal business of the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing six months which resulted as follows:

President, Timothy F. Rourke; vice-president, Frank Watnick; recording and corresponding secretary, Charles E. Anderson; financial secretary-trans-

urer, Mrs. Annie Odell; sergeant-at-arms, Edward Lemeir; trustees, Joseph F. Convery, John J. Mahoney and Edward J. Welch.

HE WAS RUN OVER BY BIG AUTOMOBILE TRUCK

BOSTON, July 12.—Wladislaw Civalina, 3 years, son of Ignac Civalina of 39 Marginal street, Hyde Park, was instantly killed at the intersection of Fulton and A streets, Hyde Park, at 6 o'clock last night, when he was run over by a brewery automobile truck, owned by the Joseph Imbechick company and driven by James Crawford of 3842 Washington street, Jamaica Plain.

The child's head was crushed by the rear wheels of the truck, which was heavily loaded with cases of beer. Crawford and his helper, Joseph Casali, were taken to Station 18 by the police, where Casali was released and Crawford locked up on the charge of manslaughter. He claimed that he did not see the child and that he did not know of the accident until he heard the screams.

LAKEVIEW DANCE HALL

Yesterday and last evening a number of out of town people visited Lakeview and all were most favorably impressed with the dance hall. They enjoyed dancing there and pronounced the music by Kittredge's orchestra the best ever. The hall is becoming more popular every year and owing to its excellent location, being practically on the lake, the place is cool and comfortable on the hottest evening of the year. During the recent hot spell, the lovers of the art took a ride to the park and proceeded to the hall where they glided over the floor which is as smooth as glass, and did so without suffering from the effects of the sweltering conditions of the city. Whether dancing or not all may stroll around the hall and sit and hear the music. Tom Pool is meeting with great success with his selections on the xylophone and bells and John Y. Myers is being well received in his vocal numbers. Sessions are held afternoons and evenings.

CANOBIE LAKE PARK

If one is looking for novelty and at the same time a pleasant evening, most anyone would recommend a visit to the Canobie Lake Park theatre. For the first vaudeville show of the year at that resort, the management offers what is one of the best vaudeville companies ever put together, and which comes directly from Norumbega Park. Clifford and Burke will be on the bill, and that ought to be enough said, for these two black-faced entertainers are a riot wherever they are seen. They will offer their latest nonsense in singing and eccentric dancing. The Lucifers in their extraordinary gymnastic stunts will surprise everyone with their speed and ability, while Adamini and Taylor, the accomplished wandering musicians, and Fennel and Tyson in one of the neatest and best of this seasons singing and dancing novelties will add to the bill. Torcat's Trained Roosters is a big winner, for this act of 65 trained birds has been the talk of every place where it has been shown, and is a veritable delight to both old and young.

Commencing next Monday two performances will be given daily during the entire week.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Edgar Foreman and Company, presenting the comedy sketch "The High-flyer," at the Merrimack Square Theatre this week is the stellar attraction that is pleasing the many patrons who are venturing out in the extreme heat of these days. The piece is exceedingly amusing and never fails to "get" its audience. Those who have witnessed it pronounce it one of the best of the summer season. Next week this company will present another entertaining playlet. The other members on this week's bill include Pierce and Knowles, comedy entertainers of rare merit, La Gusta, comedy wire performer, and Miss Alice Bagley, illustrated song singer. All are exceptionally good and combine in making the program most enjoyable. The photo-plays for the last three days of the week are new and novel and include some of the best picture reproductions shown locally. "An Indian Summer" is one of the best, and Pathe's Weekly is also exceptionally good. The temperature at this theatre is always good and comfortable.

THE 'MONEY' LENDERS

Put Out of Commission
by Court Decision

NEW YORK, July 12.—After many years of agitation, the efforts of the Russell Sage foundation and other New York charitable societies to put the loan shark money lenders out of business have apparently been crowned with success. A law passed by the last legislature has been sustained by the courts and the money lenders, after a formal meeting to discuss the situation, have agreed to close out all the loans at the legal rate of interest and shut up shop.

Desperate efforts were made by the 54 different companies represented to collect their outstanding loans at the old rates before quitting. Arrests came in such rapid succession, however, that the efforts at collection were quickly suspended.

THE FARMERS

WERE PAID MORE THIS YEAR THAN LAST

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Farmers of this country were being paid more by 17.5 per cent. for their products on July 10th this year than they received last year at that time, according to Victor H. Olmstead, chief of the bureau of statistics, department of agriculture.

This increase in prices was the average on crops which represented about three-fourths of the value of all crops of the nation.

The increases included: Corn, 11 cents; wheat and oats, 15c; barley, 12c; rye, 62c; buckwheat, 5c; potatoes, 7c; hay, $1.55; hogs, 59 cents; beef cattle, 80c; veal calves, 61c; eggs, 25c; butter, 3c; sheep, 28c; lambs, 51c; milk cows $1.90; milk, 25c; beans, 43c; sweet potatoes, 16c; onions, 21c; clover seed, $2.89; timothy seed, $1.44; wool, unwashed, 3c; cabbage, 21c; broom corn, $10 (ton); bran, $3.48. Products on which prices decreased included cotton 3 cents; flax seed, 7 cents; apples, 37 cents; and cotton seed, $1.14 a ton.

BOUT STOPPED

BECAUSE OF BAD BLOOD BETWEEN THE PRINCIPALS

ADAMS, July 12.—Jeff Madden and Jack Fenbrook of New York went six rounds without a decision before the Northern Berkshire A. C. here last night. Madden seemed to show superior ability at the beginning of the bout, but failed to keep his advantage as the bout progressed. Fenbrook showed cleverness in covering and exceptional staying qualities.

The sixth round opened in whirlwind fashion, with honors coming about even. About the middle of the round the men went together in a clinch, from which the referee was unable to part them.

After a moment it was evident that there was bad blood between the men, and several of the directors of the club entered the ring and got the men apart, calling the bout off.

Young Allard of Adams and Kid White went six fast rounds to a draw in the semi-final, and Chester Johnson and "Babe" Lamoureux, both of Adams, boxed four rounds to a draw in the preliminary.

AUTO ACCIDENT

OCCURRED AT THE CONEY ISL. AND MOTORHOME

NEW YORK, July 12.—A remarkable automobile accident occurred at the Coney Island Motorhome shortly after midnight this morning. Two machines were racing at 50 miles an hour around the Saucer track, which has a slant of nearly 65 degrees, when a forward axle broke on the car driven by Geo. Cook. Automobile and driver turned a complete somersault from the top rim of the track and at the same time the other car, driven by Jack Randall, shot beneath the somersaulting machine and continued on around the track in safety. Cook was found unconscious beneath the wreckage of his car but was not fatally hurt.

THE SUN DANCE

STOPPED BY ORDER OF COUNTY ATTORNEY

MISSOULA, Mont., July 12.—Charges that the annual dance festival of the Flathead Indians, including the famous sun dance, now in progress in Arlee, at the edge of the reservation, is a round of drunkenness, gambling and fighting, were made to the county attorney, and that officer ordered the festival closed last night.

At the business council of the tribe, a petition was addressed to President Taft and the chief of the bureau of Indian affairs, asking that an accounting of the tribe's money and properties be made. It also asks the removal of certain officers now in charge of the reservation.

TOWN BUILDINGS

AT SALEM, N. H., WERE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

WEAR RUBBER RUBBERS This winter

and the surrounding villages. Several houses were burned, while considerable damage was caused to the telephone system.

The farm buildings of S. Milton Kelly at Millville, about a mile from Salem Depot, were struck by a bolt and immediately burst into flames. Mrs. Kelly was alone in the house at the time, while her husband was at work in the field. Fortunately Mrs.

Kelly was not injured although she was badly frightened, but the buildings were a complete loss.

Shortly afterward the house of John E. King, at Kings corner, was struck by a flash of lightning. The bolt ripped off the telephone and hurled it across the room striking John King, a son, who became unconscious. The farmhouse of Mrs. Clara Destin at North Salem was struck but the building did not burn. At the Gordon farm, owned by Lyman T. Dudley of Dorchester, a bolt passed along the ridgepole of the barn, tore a big hole in it, and killed several ducks and chickens. Several people who were at work in shops were stunned but not seriously injured.

At Canobie Lake park the storm passed so low that it charged buildings. Clerks were driven away from the soda fountains. The electric car service was completely paralyzed for a time.

MOTHER TOOK POISON FATHER TRIED SUICIDE

Upon Learning of Death
of Daughter

WEST ACTON, July 12.—Mrs. Clayton S. Shattuck, temporarily deranged by the death of her only daughter, Mildred, 17 years, of Bright's disease last night, ended her own life in an adjoining room by drinking carbolic acid.

Her husband, who left the death bed of his daughter to find out the meaning of the sound of the fall in the next room, was prevented from committing suicide only by the forcible interference of friends, who caught him in time.

Miss Mildred Shattuck had been sick in bed for the last two weeks and while it had been hoped that she would recover, the heat, however, told heavily on her.

Yesterday afternoon she suffered a relapse, steadily growing weaker. At 5 o'clock she was dead. Her mother and father were in the room by the daughter's bedside.

When Mr. Shattuck finally announced that the girl was dead, his wife got up, went into the next room and drank a bottle of carbolic acid and fell dying to the floor.

Mr. Shattuck was followed into the room by some neighbors who had been assisting in the care of the daughter. They grabbed him just in time to prevent an attempt to end his life.

PERJURY CHARGE

ARREST OF SEAMSTRESS AT ASYLUM ORDERED

WORCESTER, July 12.—Frances Porter, aged 27, a seamstress employed in the state asylum for the insane on Summer street, after being placed under $200 bonds for her appearance in the superior criminal court to answer to a statutory charge involving Eugene M. Sylvester, was ordered under arrest by Judge Utley yesterday on a charge of perjury and placed under $500 bonds on the second charge.

The complaint was made by Sylvester's wife, who said her husband deserted her last August, leaving her with two small children to provide for. Proprietors of six lodging houses in different parts of the city testified. In the case, recognizing Sylvester by a photograph procured by the government.

The Porter woman came here from Lewiston, Me., about a year ago to work in the asylum. When she took the stand in her own behalf she denied the charge and declared that her only knowledge of Sylvester was an old friendship formed many years ago in Maine.

Patrolman John W. Reardon, who arrested the Porter woman, testified that he frequently saw Sylvester meet her at the asylum entrance and said that when he arrested her she boasted the fact that she had no friend to get her out of her trouble, and told him that she gave all the money she earned to Sylvester because the poor fellow needed it.

OFFICERS ELECTED

SEATTLE, Wash., July 12.—The Association of American Drug and Food officials practically completed the business of its convention last night with the election of officers and the selection of Montgomery, Ala., for its next meeting place.

The following officers were elected. President Llewellyn Davies of Seattle;

Girls in their teens should not be pale, languid, constantly fatigued. Nature intended them to be bright, energetic and active.

Every parent of a growing girl, and every young woman who looks after herself, should be constantly on the watch for symptoms of impoverished blood. The happiness of a lifetime depends upon giving the blood the help it needs at this time, when girls are too frequently allowed to overstudy, overwork or suffer from lack of exercise.

If your daughter is languid, has a pale, sallow complexion, is short of breath, especially on going upstairs, has palpitation of the heart, a tendency to faint and a poor appetite, she suffers from lack of blood. The most satisfactory way to give the blood the elements which it lacks is by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A thorough trial will make the blood pure and red.

Two bottles, "Pain Talks to Women" and "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free of charge to the woman who writes for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per bottle, to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

secretary, W. M. Allen, North Carolina; treasurer, F. W. Potter, Connecticut. Articles endorsing the policy of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former chief chemist of the department of agriculture, were rejected.

SHOCKED TO DEATH

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE SAW LINEMAN KILLED

NEW YORK, July 12.—Hundreds of men and women going home for their midday meal from the factories in Harrison, N. J., yesterday saw Robert Spence, a lineman employed by the American District Telegraph company, shocked to death on the top of a 100-foot telegraph pole.

Spence had gone up into the cross trees of the pole and was repairing wires while seated on a little bench that is built to the pole. While reaching in the air he was seen suddenly to slip out from the bench and then plunge down through the wires. One of his feet caught in the iron brace of the bench and he hung dangling while his clothing burst into flame.

Death had probably come instantly when the man came in contact with a main feed wire carrying 6600 volts. The man's clothing and body burned for ten minutes before Max Bretz, a fellow lineman, climbed up the pole and cut the contact. Then he fastened a rope about the dead man's body and lowered it to the street, in doing which he himself was badly burned. Several girls who witnessed the gruesome spectacle swooned in the street and had to be carried to their homes.

Spence was 35 years old and lived at No. 127 Lafayette street, Newark. He was unmarried and had been employed by the American District Telegraph company for seven years.

SCHOONER LAUNCHED
BATH, Me., July 12.—The four-masted schooner Dustin G. Cressy, which stuck on the ways yesterday because of the heat, was launched today. The new craft was named for a son of M. D. Cressy of Boston, is rigged and will be ready for sea next week. Built at Bath and will be commanded by Captain Harry Dobbin of West Jonesport. The schooner is 182 1/2 feet long, 35 feet beam and 15 deep and registers 562 gross tonnage. Her cost was $35,000.

OLIVE OIL IN THE HOUSEHOLD

Next to bread, there is no other article of food which has so much value as pure olive oil. It is so easily digested that it can and should be used with nearly all our foods. Pompano Olive Oil, from the finest groves in Italy, not chemically treated or adulterated in any way, has such a sweet, nutty taste that it improves the taste of foods and at the same time gives to the body health and strength.

Pompano Olive Oil when mixed with the flour used in clam soup, cream of tomato, or other thick soups, imparts a most delicious flavor. In making fish cakes, or frying fish of any kind, use Pompano Olive Oil instead of butter or lard, and the taste will be improved one hundred per cent. Sweet potato, eggplant, cold slaw, macaroni and other dishes are likewise made tastier when this oil is used. By reason of its sweet, nutty flavor, it should be used in preference to any other kind, for salad dressings, especially where fruit salads are served. In scrambling eggs, a little cream and olive oil put in the frying pan gives you a dish better than anything you ever tried before. Ask your dealer for a book of Pompano recipes, and when once you try this oil in cooking, you will never do without it.

Pompano Olive Oil is sold by druggists and grocers. Full one-half pint cans, 25 cents; full pint cans, 50 cents; full quart cans, 20 cents.

THE FINAL PLANS

FOR REUNION OF PUPILS OF ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

A public meeting for all those who have attended class at St. Joseph's college will be held at the college hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at which time final arrangements will be taken for the first annual reunion of the association which was recently formed among the former pupils of that institution.

Nearly five hundred invitations have been sent out in this city and elsewhere, and already a large number of the "boys" have responded favorably. At this evening's meeting the plans committee will outline the plans for the first reunion which is arranged for Aug. 15. The affair will last one day, the program including a solemn high mass at St. Jean Baptiste church in the forenoon, an outing in the afternoon and a banquet at the college hall in the evening.

A large crowd is expected at the meeting tonight and those who have not yet given their names may do so at the meeting tonight or again at the treasurer's office, Mr. Joseph F. Montminy, optician in Merrimack street. As this will be the last meeting before the reunion, every young man who is the pupil of St. Joseph's college, whether a graduate or not, is requested to be present and enlist in what is known as the Association des Anciens Elèves du College St. Joseph de Lowell, Mass.

SEEKS PARDON

AGED LIFE PRISONER WANTS TO BE FREE

BOSTON, July 12.—After several attempts to have his plea for a pardon placed before the governor's council, Benjamin F. Taylor, a 74-year-old prisoner, sentenced to a life term at the state prison in Charlestown for the murder of Wilder Hutchins in September, 1890, has at last been successful. A hearing has been set for next Wednesday.

Taylor, the prison officials say, has been a model prisoner since his confinement in 1891, and in his argument for his release he says the homicide was justified and done in self-defense. According to his story he was a driver at a Fleet street livery stable, of which Hutchins was the manager. Taylor received a check for $50 and gave it to his employer to cash. Hutchins, according to Taylor, instead of returning the money, spent it on drink.

Later, Taylor claims, Hutchins had him arrested, charged with stealing a gun, but he was acquitted, however. He was then promised the money due if he would go to Hutchins' office. On going to the office, he says, he was set upon by Hutchins and another man. Taylor pulled a revolver and shot the manager, killing him instantly. He gave himself up to the police.

Taylor is a native of St. Albans, Vt. In case of his release employment will be furnished for him in a Somerville stable. Wm. M. Hogan, a principal assessor in Cambridge, has interested himself in Taylor's behalf.

CAPTAIN NUNAN

BLINDED BY ACID AND MAY LOSE SIGHT

GLOUCESTER, July 12.—Severely burned about the face and head by acid from wet batteries which he was charging, Capt. Fred Nunan of the fishing schooner Sadie Nunan may be blind for life.

Not much can be learned of the accident, but it is known that Nunan was recharging batteries to be used on the vessel, holding in his hand the zinc which is placed in the jar.

In some manner, the zinc, slipped from the captain's hand and fell into the jar over which he was bending, sending a shower of acid over his face and head. The acid, it is feared, worked into his eyes and he is in grave danger of losing his sight. He was treated by two physicians. Nunan resides in Boston and sails a vessel from that port.

RAT CATCHER

IS BUSY AT THE WHARVES IN BOSTON

BOSTON, July 12.—The city rat catcher was at work again yesterday capturing rats at the principal wharves along the waterfront, but the rain interfered with the work of fumigating the vessels in port from Porto Rico and other places where the bubonic plague is prevalent.

The steamer Silvia, which was to have come down from the Mystic river where she tied up several days ago with a cargo of sugar from Cuba, did not have all her cargo taken off yesterday, and will probably anchor in the harbor today for an examination by Dr. Francis X. Crawford, the port physician. The steamer will be fumigated, and if any rats are found aboard they will be captured and examined for traces of plague germs.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

The regular meeting of the Pawtucketville Social club was held last night in the club rooms in Moody street. There was a large attendance, and President Rodrique Descheneaux occupied the chair. A feature of the evening was the installation of the recently elected officers. Mr. Josephat Sawyer acting as installing officer, assisted by Octave Champagne.

The officers installed were as follows: Rodrique Descheneaux, president; E. N. Gendreau, vice president; Albert Hamel, secretary; Albert LeMay, assistant secretary; Frederick Theriault, treasurer; Henri Gellinas, assistant treasurer; Frank Brassard, sergeant-at-arms.

A new member, Joseph Payette,

president of the C. M. A. C., was initiated, and refreshments were served, the evening closing with a game of whist between the members.

EASY AIDS TO GOOD LOOKS

"After motoring or getting the hair may be dusty—with no time for washing the head. In this dilemma you will find a dry shampoo a good friend. Put four ounces of powdered arisa root in a fruit jar, add an original package of Therax and mix together. Sprinkle a little on the head and brush through the hair. Therax removes dust, oil and dandruff, and leaves the hair light, fluffy and easy to do up."

"Disgusting wild hairs can be made to vanish quickly from face or forehead by applying delicate paste, made by mixing powdered delatons with water. Cover the hairy surface with this paste for a minute or two, then remove, wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone."

"Short and thin eyelashes detract from otherwise beautiful eyes. Weak and straggly lashes can be strengthened. If plain parva is applied to the lash roots with thumb and forefinger, thin eyebrows always improve with daily applications of parva."

"A complexion cannot be as dainty if the skin is shining from perspiration. A complexion beautifier that will not rub off or show like powder is made easily by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half-pint of witch hazel. This 'holds' and does not smear. Gently massage with this solution daily, and the skin will be soft and satiny, velvety and smooth."

IMPEACHMENT CHARGE AGAINST JUDGE ARCHBALD

Was Approved by the House of Representatives by a Vote of 222 to 1

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The house of representatives yesterday adopted, by a vote of 222 to 1, articles of impeachment against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the United States commerce court. Representative Farr of Pennsylvania cast the single vote against the bill of impeachment.

Mr. Farr is a lifelong friend, who has steadfastly voiced confidence in Judge Archbald's integrity.

Of the total membership of the house in their seats only nine voted "present." These were ex-Speaker Cannon, Burgess of Texas, Daltell and Olmstead of Pennsylvania, Dwight of New York, Johnson of South Carolina, Farran of Maryland, Rucker of Missouri and Spaulding of Florida.

Representatives Farr, Bowman and Focht, all republicans of Pennsylvania, spoke in defense of Judge Archbald.

The scene now shifts to the senate, which will sit in judgment in the case. While a disposition has been voiced in the senate to postpone the trial until autumn, Chairman Clayton of the house committee on the judiciary declared yesterday his conviction that the senate would take up the impeachment soon.

The impeachment grows out of charges that, while occupying a federal bench, Judge Archbald was connected with a negotiation for valuable culm bank properties in Pennsylvania and with other alleged questionable financial transactions, and with using his official position to attempt the enrichment of himself and certain friends.

"I have known Judge Archbald 20 years as an honest, faithful, capable judge," said Representative Farr. "He has been unfriendly in his associates to whom he extended assistance solely out of kindness."

"And to make money," interjected Mr. Clayton.

"Not at all. He has never made a penny out of his official position."

A SLIGHT RALLY

IN THE FINAL DEALINGS IN THE MARKET TODAY

Attempts to Break St. Paul to Par
Were Attended With Success—Other
Stocks Touched the Lowest Period

A two point rise in American Tobacco and one point decline in Canadian Pacific indicated the extreme points of difference at the opening of today's stock market. The general list was strong with gains in most of the active issues.

American Tobacco increased its gain in the first hour with considerable strength in Reading and People's Gas and some of the specialties but the general list tended towards irregularity with heaviness in Amalgamated and Union Pacific.

Further pressure was exerted against the leading issues today, with a new record for St. Paul. Union Pacific also felt the force of the selling, which was mainly directed, however, against the metal stocks, including Amalgamated and Smelting. According to common report, there has recently grown up a formidable bear party which is devoting no little attention to the copper stocks, predicting its attitude on what is believed to be overvaluation in those shares here and abroad. The balance of the list was relatively steady with light dealings.

The bond market was irregular. Light offerings forced prices down still further, St. Paul touching 100 1/2 or 1 1/2 below the level established when the dividend was reduced.

The weakness of Chicago & Northwestern, which sold lower with St. Paul on reports of crop damage, was aimed the sole feature of the late afternoon, prices elsewhere showing virtually no change.

The market closed heavy. Attempts to break St. Paul to par in the last hour were attended with success and other stocks touched their lowest in the final dealings.

Boston Market

BOSTON, July 12.—Reflecting the improved tone of the New York list, the copper shares opened with a firmer tone in the local market today. The feature was the strength and activity of Superior.

NEW MARKS MADE BY YANKEE ATHLETES

Runners and Jumpers From the United States Make an Ex- cellent Showing

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 12.—The seventh day of the athletic section of the Olympic games opened this morning with the prospect of providing a more interesting session than that of yesterday. Delightful weather continued to prevail and the temperature was favorable to the American competitors.

Early this morning a large group of big men gathered for the finishing rounds of the discus throwing contest, best hand. Shortly afterward the 90 runners entered for the 400 metres flat race turned out to compete in the 15 heats of that event, the semi-final heats of which are also set for decision today. The 3000 metres team race, also run in heats, the final of the 110 metres hurdle race, the running long jump and the 4000 metres cross country run, gave great variety to the program.

The morning started by a fine performance by the Finn, A. R. Taipale, in the discus throwing best hand, final. He beat with his throw of 45 metres 31 centimetres (145 feet 1 1/2 inches) not only the Olympic record of 136 feet 1-3 inch, made by the American, Sheridan, in Athens in 1906, but also the world's record of 145 feet 9 1/2 inches, established by James Duncan at Celtic park on June 2, this year. R. L. Byrd's throw of 42 metres 32 centimetres (138 feet 5 3/8 inches and James H. Duncan's throw of 42 metres 28 centimetres (138 feet 5 3/8 inches) also exceeded the standing Olympic record.

The first try-outs for the 400 metres flat race were largely formalities. In several of the heats there were only two entries and what races there were usually occurred between the second and third men. The first and second in each trial heat qualified for the semi-finals run later in the day. The members of the American team who secured places in the semi-finals were: James M. Rosenberger, I. A. A. C.; Melvin W. Sheppard, I. A. A. C.; Jas. E. Meredith, Mercersburg academy; Donald B. Young, Boston A. A.; Harold B. Haff, University of Michigan; Edward F. Lindberg, Chicago A. A.; Clarence S. Edmundson, Seattle A. A.; Ira N. Davenport, University of Chicago; and Charles D. Reidpath, Syracuse university. England secured six representatives in the semi-finals, Sweden five, France and Norway two each, while South Africa, Italy, Germany, Japan and Hungary were all represented.

No attempt was made to run fast in the heats where only two men competed and it was noticeable that Melvin W. Sheppard and E. W. Haley, England, who ran a dead heat in the second heat merely covered the course at a jog trot, taking 55 3-5 seconds, to cover the 400 metres.

The appearance of the army officers in the arena for the cross country run of about 4000 metres (nearly two miles and a half) clad in regulation running clothes proved the popularity of the military.

The men were sent off at intervals of one minute. The officers started in front of the Royal box. They ran a third of a lap round the track and then disappeared through the entrance. There were 22 starters, 10 of them Swedes, 3 British, 3 Russians, 2 French, 2 Danes and 1 American and 1 Austrian.

Lieut. George S. Patton, Jr., U. S. A., took the regulation sprinters' start. He got off more like a runner than most of the starters and was given a hearty cheer. He was the ninth to be sent off.

The first four officers to start re-entered the stadium in the following order: Brule, France; Gaidner, England; Bernhardt, Austria; and Strang, Sweden. Then came Haugstrome, a Swede; Jolder, a Dane; and Wersnell, a Swede, in order but Durant of England, who started fifth, entered eighth.

Lieut. Patton had a lead of 20 yards in front of Asbrink, Sweden, when he re-entered the stadium but lost ground in the last 50 yards and finished third. The Swedish officer who had started tenth passed him 20 yards from the finish. Lieut. Patton threw himself forward and fell almost fainting on the grass at the finish. A number of men went to his assistance and rubbed his legs and arms and after a few minutes he was able to walk off, holding the arm of a friend. The remainder of the officers re-entered the stadium practically in their starting order but Lieut. Patton, Sweden, passed Hohenthal, Russia, on the home stretch.

The winners in the modern Pentathlon long are reckoned according to the lowest number of points made by them in the whole of the five events. The first in each event is credited with one, the second with two, etc.

When the announcement of the result of the Modern Pentathlon was made and three Swedish flags rose at the moment to the top of the flagstaffs at the end of the stadium the whole assembly of 25,000 people rose to their feet and sang the Swedish National Anthem. Then they gave three cheers for the winners while the American competitors gave an American yell followed by "Sweden" three times, after which the Swedes applauded Lieut. Patton.

The outcome of the discus throwing was another disappointment to the American athletes who had counted upon a clean sweep in that event. The stout Finn, A. R. Taipale, was too much for them.

The United States soon had her turn however, when the megaphone announced that Albert L. Guttererson of the University of Vermont at his very first attempt at the running long jump, which was then beginning, had well beaten the Olympic record of 24 feet 6 1/2 inches made by James H. Duncan of the United States team in London in 1903. Guttererson cleared 24 feet 11 inches and a small fraction.

In the 3000 metres team race the first heat was won by the United States team, consisting of Abel R. Kiviat, I. A. A. C.; Tel. S. Berna, Cornell university; Norman S. Taber, Brown university; Louis Scott, South. Patterson, I. M. C. A.; and George V. Bonham, I. A. A. C. But H. Kolehmainen, Finland, came in first. Kolehmainen's time was 8 minutes 20 3-10 seconds.

In the second heat Germany won, outdistancing the Swedish team, which was merely giving an exhibition, the five Swedes running breast to breast.

The British team ran alone in the third heat South Africa, Russia, Italy and France had all entered teams, but they failed to start.

In the same event a Canadian, C. D. Bricker, secured second place, scoring two points for his team, and Sweden registered a point by G. Aberg securing third place.

The discus throwing competition was something of a disappointment for the American team, who met a powerful opponent in the Finn, A. R. Taipale, who obtained first place with a world's record throw of 145 feet 1 1/2 inches. Two United States men, H. L. Byrd and James H. Duncan, were second and third respectively.

Nine American runners qualified for the semi-finals of the 400 metres flat race and when these were being run off the record was broken twice, the first time by Charles D. Reidpath, who, with his time of 45 7-10 seconds, knocked five-tenths of a second off the standing Olympic record of 47 1-5 seconds. This new record, however, not to stand long, as James E. Meredith of Mercersburg Academy whittled it down by another seven-tenths of a second. He secured the distance in 43 seconds.

In the fifth heat of the semi-finals of the 400 metres flat race Donald B. Young, Boston A. A., finished first, but was disqualified on the ground of interference with Hans Braun, Germany, who was then placed first by the judges and is entitled to compete in

NEW ENGLAND'S GREAT

FIRE AT CITY FARM CAUSED LOSS OF $6000

Members of the Fire Department
All Night

The fire which destroyed the barn and outbuildings at the Chelmsford Street hospital yesterday afternoon, an account of which appeared in yesterday's edition of The Sun, proved to be one of the most difficult fires that the department has had to contend with for years, and it was not until this noon that the last of the firemen left the scene.

The building which was destroyed contained ten horses, 25 head of cattle, pigs, farm wagons and 50 tons of new hay. The last of the hay had been stored in the barn just before the electrical storm broke over the city and the bolt of lightning struck the building. Everything in the building but the hay was saved.

The firemen did everything possible to save the building but this was impossible. They did excellent work in preventing the flames from spreading to the other buildings.

It is estimated that the loss will be about $6000.

After the fire had been extinguished the firemen armed with pitchforks started turning over the hay in order to find and extinguish any stray sparks. Three companies were kept on duty during the night and three more went on early this morning and remained until noon.

The members of Engines 1 and 2 remained on duty until two o'clock this morning and Truck 2 and Hose 9 remained until later in the morning when the members of Trucks 1 and 4 and Hose 12 reported for duty and remained until this noon.

Chief Hosmer was at the scene until one o'clock this morning and returned to the place at 7:30 o'clock this morning and remained until noon. District Chief Sullivan remained at the place during the entire night.

The insurance on the barn is $2000, storehouse and pig pen, $1000; carriage shed, $1000; live stock and contents including bedding and hay, $1000. The loss on buildings is estimated at $4000 and $1500 loss on the hay.

Inspector Connor of the lands and buildings department visited the institution this morning for the purpose of making arrangements for the erection of a temporary shelter for the live stock and a place for storage.

FOR THE SUMMER MENU THE FIRELESS COOKERS

Some Recipes That Will Give Satisfaction Of Great Value to the Housekeepers

Take six good sized rounds of sponge or plain cake, six halves of peaches, meringue made of two eggs, whites, and one-third cup of powdered sugar, two and a half tablespoonsful of candied nuts and fruits chopped together.

Bake sponge or plain cake in a thin sheet. Cut out in rounds and place on each slice a peach half, filling in the cavity with the fruit. Cover with meringue and bake eight and ten minutes in a slow oven. Serve with peach or fruit sauce or boiled custard.

Delicious Frosted Lemon Pie

Grate the rind and squeeze the juice of one large lemon. Put one cupful of sugar and a piece of butter the size of an English walnut into a bowl. Dissolve one tablespoonful of cornstarch in a little cold water, then add one cupful of boiling water and pour it into the bowl with the sugar and butter. Beat the yolks of two eggs, mix all together, add crust and mix. Beat the two whites stiff with water, sugar, put over the top of the pie, spread to oven and let brown very lightly.

Deviled Tomatoes

Mix together the mashed yolks of three hard boiled eggs, a teaspoonful each of powdered sugar, made mustard and a pinch of salt and cayenne. Add three tablespoonsful of vinegar and lemon juice. Bring to a boil and add two eggs well beaten and cook in a double boiler until thick. Pour over fried tomatoes and serve very hot.

Eggplant à la Creole

Pare a young eggplant and cut into slices. Simmer in half a cupful of boiling water for 10 or 15 minutes. Drain and press out the liquid, then chop fine two onions, which fry in butter, and add the eggplant and salt and pepper seasoning; also one tablespoonful each of minced parsley and vinegar and a tablespoonful of butter. Put in a baking dish, cover with crumbs, dot with butter and bake 25 minutes.

PARASOLS

Chiffon is used to repair or partially cover parasols, which are in all manner of eccentric shapes this season. Dome, bell, pagoda, lamp shade, and palm leaf are some of the new shapes. Fashion decrees that one's hat and parasol should match, so that milliners are adding parasols to their stock. White, green, cerise, purple and blue satin parasols have wide bands of black velvet at their edges. These are very smart, as are striped parasols, and those of embroidery or net over plain or figured silk.

A fireless cooker is invaluable to a housekeeper, especially in hot weather.

The cookers are now so perfect and inexpensive the woman who does not own one is decidedly at a disadvantage when labor saving methods are considered. Cooking during oppressive heat in summer is avoided. Foods can be started at a convenient moment and yet be in readiness for the most urgent household needs. Requiring long cooking are made practicable for the daily menu, and the weight of the cooked product from a pound of raw material is much increased.

The fireless cooker is splendid for the cheaper cuts of meat. Since tough meat should cook for a long time at a low temperature the cooker is a most excellent medium for this purpose. Stews and so-called boiled meats seem to have a better flavor when cooked in the cooker than when cooked on the stove. Beef, mutton and lamb cooked in this way may be served as braised meat, as a stew, as minced meat warmed in liquor and served on toast, as well, dry and browned hash, as meat pie, meat turnover and other ways in which cooked meats are reheated. Five pounds of meat could be served for two in ten different ways, serving half a pound at each meal.

Excellent soup can be made from the leftover carcasses of a fowl, from the neck piece of lamb or from any leftover beef bones and scraps of beef. Place in the kettle of the fireless cooker, cover with cold water, place on the stove and bring slowly to a boil, then put in the cooker overnight. In the morning remove the meat and bones and use the liquor or stock, to be reheated and flavored according to the style of soup desired.

Breakfast cereals are the most abused foods in ordinary cookery. Rarely do they receive the long, slow cooking which their nature demands because of the early rising this would necessitate. The fireless delivers the full value of the nutrients with a minimum dependence upon the cook.

Fruit is oftentimes a serious problem on account of expense. The fireless method makes available many dried and evaporated fruits, which can be obtained reasonably at all seasons. Delicious compounds can be made which rival the best preserves in appearance and flavor, in no respect suggesting those usually served for the breakfast table. Each shriveled piece swells to its original size, unbroken, distended, with a juicy, aromatic liquor and charged with the flavors which characterize the fruit in its prime state.

FOR THE HOME SCRAP BOOK

Pineapple is good for indigestion, the juice containing a digestive fluid similar to pepsin. Save your lemon rinds. Dry them in an air tight tin. A little of this added to an apple pie gives it a delicious flavoring.

A thing worth knowing when one has to take bitter medicine is this: A small pinch of salt will remove all taste of bitterness from the mouth.

Potato balls which are sautéed in butter after being boiled are delicious. They should be served with a generous sprinkling of minced parsley. Do not take time to grate chocolate. Put the desired amount in a saucepan and place over the top of a teakettle with melted butter. Two squares of unsweetened chocolate are equal to a cupful of grated.

While washing the dishes from the evening meals put the cereal on and cook it. All that need be done to it on the following morning is to add a little water to it and heat.

Freshness of eggs may be tested by putting them in water. A fresh egg will remain at the bottom, one not so fresh will float a little higher, and a bad one will rise to the surface.

CHURCH WITH A ROOF GARDEN

The first church in America to have a roof garden, to be used as a playground for children during the day and for open air services in the evening, will be in Boston.

The roof of the church will be flat, and the conventional steeple will be omitted. The roof will have crenellated borders and steel girders, making it a safe place for children to play.

LINEN SHOWER

WAS TENDERED MISS HAZEL COCKERLAIN LAST EVENING

Miss Hazel Cockerlain of 216 Boyd Street, who is soon to become a "Mrs.," was tendered a linen shower at her home last evening by a number of friends. The affair took the form of a surprise and the hostess was overcome when the large number went to her home and took possession of the domicile.

After showering the bride-to-be with linens of every description, all then assisted in making the evening one to be long remembered by Miss Cockerlain. Piano solos were given by Misses Mae Keyes, Clara Kilson and Mr. Karl B. Cote. Selections on the violin were given by Misses Margaret V. Tenney, Lucy Parker, Ethel Smith and Mr. William Cote; vocal selections were rendered by John Knox and James Knowles.

Refreshments served and at the conclusion of the pleasant affair all departed wishing Miss Cockerlain all kinds of success in her new field.

SERVE FROZEN BUTTERMILK IN MELON

Viscountess Chinda, wife of the Japanese ambassador in Washington, entertained a few friends at luncheon in that city and introduced some of the dainty ways of the Orient. One course was certainly a rare and mellow, and the center, being perfectly cleansed, was filled with frozen buttermilk. It was delightful, the flavors combining better than the usual vanilla or fruit cream served with melon. Frozen buttermilk is a favorite dish with the Orientals, and sometimes a little cognac or liquor is added. Walnut and fruit paste served with frozen buttermilk is an exceedingly rich and tasteful dessert. The viscountess has a quaint luncheon service of lacquer and gold, the attendants are soft eyed little maids dressed in the graceful flowing robes familiar through pictures on fans and screens.

SLUGGERS EASY FOR O'TOOLE

The National league sluggers do not bother Marty O'Toole. Looking back over the records, one finds that he has had an easy time of it with such men as Zimmerman and Schulte of the Cubs; Reicher, Hohltz and Mitchell of the Reds; Konietzky and Evans of the Cardinals and Swiney of the Boston Braves. In one game Zimmerman found Marty for two triples, but a different style of pitching made Holms his strikeout victim like the rest. All of the above hitters are terrors to any pitcher but they have been easy slugging for O'Toole. Only one slugging in the league has had much luck with Marty's delivery. He is Sherwood Magee of the Phillies.

PROHIBITION PARTY

IS TRYING TO RAISE CAMPAIGN FUNDS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 12.—Having chosen a new national chairman, after a three days' fight, the prohibition party in convention here today tried to cultivate a generous spirit in the minds of the delegates to raise money for campaign expenses. The nomination of candidates for president and vice president is scheduled for today. The prediction was made that the ticket of four years ago would be renominated: Eugene W. Chann, Illinois, for president, and Aaron S. Watkins of Ohio for vice president.

Prospects of one more contest developed when members of the special committee appointed last December to draft a party constitution signified their intentions of urging their report for adoption.

Many delegates are opposed to some of the proposals.

Before the convention was turned over to the national committee for the campaign fund solicitation, Dr. Silas C. Swallow of Pennsylvania sought to reintroduce his resolution, urging "perpetual separation of churches and state." This resolution was tabled by the convention last night after a long wrangle. Chairman Meade declared that Dr. Swallow was not in order when he proposed the resolution again, but promised he would recognize him later in the day.

"I am going to insist upon taking another vote upon my resolution," said Dr. Swallow.

Father Zurcher of New York, the only Catholic priest in the convention, who led the opposition to the resolution yesterday, signified that he would oppose it again today.

ATTACKED BY ELEPHANT

NEW YORK, July 12.—Gunda, a male elephant at the Bronx zoo, rushed at Walter Thurman, his keeper, this morning, battered him with his trunk and would have driven him to the ground had the keeper's body had not Thurman crouched in a corner to protect himself. As it was, the keeper was beaten about the face and body by the elephant's trunk and was dragged, bleeding, from the enclosure by a fellow keeper, who held the elephant at bay with a pitchfork. Thurman will recover.

ELECTRIC CARS

WERE DAMAGED DURING STORM YESTERDAY

The employees of the power house of the Bay State Street Railway were obliged to work overtime last evening as a result of the severe storm that visited this city yesterday. A great number of the cars on the various lines throughout the city were damaged and sent to the barn. The workmen there were kept on the go replacing fuses and other parts that were affected. Some of the employees were kept working until quite late in the evening. The service in the city though, was exceptionally good, inasmuch as when a car met with a mishap it was driven to the barn and another sent out to take its place.

The travel, too, on a rainy day is much heavier and owing to the fact that so many cars were disabled, the officials are to be congratulated for supplying such excellent service during such a severe storm.

IRISH LEADER'S BROTHER TO SPEAK IN BOSTON

He is Coming Here to Attend the Irish League Convention
in Boston

BOSTON, July 12.—William H. K. and the nationalist organization in Ireland, the sixth biennial convention of the United Irish League of America, in Philadelphia Sept. 23-26.

All indications point to the probability that this will be the last convention of the kind it will be necessary to hold in America in support of Irish home rule, which, it is universally believed will be carried into law before another two years.

There is a possibility that home rule may be enacted even within a year.

but in any case, so long as the present government can maintain its majority the utmost limit to which the house of lords can postpone or prevent the passage of the measure would be less than two years from now.

It is under these encouraging circumstances that William H. K. Redmond makes his eighth visit to the United States for the league's convention. There will be a brief recess of parliament about the end of September, and Mr. Redmond will avail of the cessation from parliamentary work to accept the urgent invitation of the league.

The convention itself will be opened with a mass meeting in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, Monday evening, Sept. 23. On the two following days the proceedings of the convention will be carried on in Witherspoon hall, and on Thursday the delegates, of whom it is expected about 1000 will be in attendance, will be the guests of the organization in Philadelphia on an excursion to Atlantic City, followed by a banquet there.

Mr. Redmond can stay in America only about two weeks after the convention, and during that time he will speak in New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Baltimore, as well as one or two other cities in addition to Boston.

His last visit to this city was in 1905, while on his way back to Ireland from Australia. During that visit Mayor Patrick A. Collins died, and Mr. Redmond was one of the bearers at his funeral.

The executive committee of the United Irish League in Boston met yesterday afternoon and took the preliminary steps toward assuring Mr. Redmond a hearty welcome.

Although a comparatively young man as age goes in the house of commons, being only in his 51st year, Mr. Redmond has sat for a longer continuous period in the house than any other member now representing an Irish constituency. His colleague, T. P. O'Connor, has been in the house some time longer than Mr. Redmond, but he sits for an English constituency, the Scotland division of Liverpool.

There are only four members of Parliament in the house of commons with a longer continuous parliamentary record than Mr. Redmond, who has now sat in that body 23 years. His brother, who was out of parliament for a few weeks in 1900, after he had resigned his seat for North Wexford and before he was elected for his present seat in Waterford city.

Imprisoned With Parnell

William Redmond was first elected in 1883 for Wexford, a borough which had long been represented by his father, William Archer Redmond, and his uncle. He and his brother visited Australia that year, on the first mission sent to the Antipodes by Parnell in support of the Irish party. Mr. Redmond was in Melbourne when the news was flashed to him that he had been elected for his father's old seat in Wexford.

On the redistribution of parliamentary seats in 1885 Mr. Redmond was elected for North Fermanagh, which he represented until the general election of 1892, and since that year he has sat continuously as representative of East Clare.

In 1892 Mr. Redmond spent his 21st birthday in Kilmatinham prison, sharing the imprisonment of Mr. Parnell and the other leaders of the Land League. On his release he came to America with Michael Davitt and traveled here six months, addressing meetings.

In 1893 Mr. Redmond was imprisoned with his brother in Wexford jail under Balfour's coercion regime. In 1902 he was once more imprisoned in Kilmatinham under the statute of Edward the Third. Mr. Redmond has been several times in Australia and New Zealand.

In 1886 he was tried in Green street court house, Dublin, with the other members who promoted the Plan of campaign, but they were acquitted. He is now for the third time taking part in the battle of a home rule bill in the house of commons.

ROOSEVELT PLANS TO OPEN FIGHT

He Will Begin Battle in the West.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 12.—Within less than a fortnight Col. Roosevelt probably will begin the campaign trips which are to carry him into almost every state before the November election. Although he has not reached a final decision, he expects to leave Oyster Bay for the middle west in the early part of this week after next.

Kansas, Iowa and Michigan are tentatively on the program for the tour. Col. Roosevelt may also attend the Chicago convention of the new progressive party before he returns home.

The purpose of Col. Roosevelt's trip, if it is made, will be to tour states in which primaries will soon be held for the nomination of republican candidates for presidential electors.

"I've been asked to go to three states to take part in the primaries campaign," he said last night. "I have not definitely made up my mind. Both the Roosevelt and Taft forces are going to make a fight at the primaries and each of them has announced in advance that it will not abide by the result in case it is beaten. The fight will be to see which side will have to name its candidates for presidential electors by petition instead of having them on the republican ticket."

"The primaries in these states will be held before long, and if I make the trip, I shall leave in 10 or 12 days."

Col. Roosevelt is not eager to leave Sagamore Hill during the heat of mid-summer to resume his campaigning so soon after the conclusion of his long battle for the republican nomination. There is much to be done at home, moreover, in the way of superintending the organization of the third party and refusing to working basis his ideas in regard to economic and social reforms which he wishes to use in his campaign.

With what he regards as the greatest fight of his life ahead, however, he has decided to put aside other considerations, if he deems it necessary, and begin his personal campaign this month.

"I cannot make trips through those states now and again in the fall," said he. "I expect to go into a good many states before election."

He added that he had told those who asked him to speak in the primaries that they must decide when they would prefer to have him make his campaign in those states.

Col. Roosevelt yesterday indicated that during the campaign he expects to speak to more persons than almost any other candidate in the history of the country. He says he will campaign in the south as vigorously as in the north.

"This is a crusader's fight," he said yesterday. "I have told those who offered to go with us that they should not do so unless the fire was burned into their souls."

The ex-president said yesterday that Frank Pettigrew, ex-United States senator from South Dakota, and a democrat, had come out for him.

Ex-Senator Pettigrew came to Oys-

Colorado is a Wonderful Place for Children

I don't know any other place where children are so benefitted from a few weeks of outdoor life, as they are in Colorado. The summer life out there is about as ideal as can be imagined, and you can live there nowadays so comfortably, and at such moderate cost. It is easy to go to Colorado, as only one change of cars is necessary, and the trains are so comfortable and modern with their Pullmans and dining cars, and electric lights and patent ventilators, that the trip out and back is really a great part of the pleasure of it all.

I would like very much to send you some pamphlets published by our railroad, the "Burlington Route," containing maps and pictures, and telling all about the country, the hotels, boarding houses, etc.

Will you kindly write—a postal will do, and I will send the pamphlets and suggest further arrangements.

ter Bay yesterday to enlist under the Roosevelt battle flag. Mr. Pettigrew was a prominent figure at Baltimore during the democratic convention and was described at the time as one of the leaders of the Champ Clark forces.

"Mr. Pettigrew said he profoundly disapproved of Woodrow Wilson's nomination," said Col. Roosevelt, "and that he believed half the democrats of South Dakota would vote for me. He said he regarded Gov. Wilson as a reactionary and that the democratic platform meant nothing."

ACCIDENT CASES
Mrs. Mary Higgins of 41 Prospect street suffered a painful injury yesterday while attempting to close a window during the electrical storm. While she was lowering the window one of her hands slipped and went through a pane of glass. She went to the Emergency hospital, where it was found necessary to take six stitches in the wound.

Prosper Jewell of 537 Gorham street received a painful injury to his hip on the South common yesterday afternoon. The youngster was playing around one of the swings and when a companion gave it a sudden push it caught him unprepared and struck him in the face inflicting the injury. Four stitches were taken at the Emergency hospital.

M'CORMACK CHALLENGES MURPHY

For Swimming Match a
Lakeview---Campers
Held Meeting

A meeting of the campers of Lakeview and Willow Dale was held at Willow Dale last evening and preliminary plans for the best carnival to be held at the lake in the near future were formulated and despite the inclement weather, there was a good sized attendance. The first business was the election of a temporary chairman and John Gallagher was selected. He occupied the chair and several suggestions were made relative to the carnival which will be held upon at the next meeting of the campers which will be held at the pavilion at the Dale on Sunday morning at 11.30 o'clock. At this session permanent officers will be elected and other important matters discussed.

Joseph F. Fluke is one of the fathers of the movement and he is greatly interested in the success of the feature. He expects to move at Sunday's meeting that "Podge" Murphy be appointed chairman of the sports committee and as the latter is well acquainted with the game his election is practically assured.

What is expected to be a great feature of the outing and carnival is a long distance swim between Eddie McCormack and "Podge" Murphy. The former has issued a def to Murphy, stating that he would like to meet "Podge" who, owing to his victory over Gilbert of Revere Sunday is being heralded as the champion of the city. McCormack is confident that with sufficient training that he will defeat Murphy and will start right in with his work.

When Murphy was informed of the challenge he authorized the writer to accept the offer and now that the match is on both men will get to it and it will surely be some race.

CLEANING

Windows and glassware cleaned with Carbonol solution assume a crystal clearness unobtainable by any other means. You do not know how clean windows can be made to look unless you have washed them with Carbonol.

Use Carbonol everywhere in the house for difficult cleaning. Sometimes soap and water will seem to clean well enough, but try the same work with a little Carbonol added to the water and you will find that things can be made cleaner yet.

Moreover Carbonol is a disinfectant and deodorant. Soap and water do not kill germs but Carbonol does.

Accordingly you should use Carbonol not merely where you want more perfect cleaning, but also where soap and water are inadequate, such as cleaning out the garbage can after it has been emptied, to keep it clean and sanitary; to suppress odors and keep away flies.

Carbonol will remove oil, tar and axle grease stains. Carpets, rugs and hangings can be brightened by sponging with Carbonol solution.

Carbonol is easy to use and is very cheap.

BOY BADLY INJURED RUN OVER BY HACK

The Accident Occurred at the Corner of Cheever and
Tucker Streets

Edgar Tessier, aged 3 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tessier of Cheever street, narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon, when he was run over by a hack owned by Undertaker Joseph Albert. Although the heavy vehicle passed over the boy's body, there were no bones broken.

The accident occurred at the corner of Cheever and Tucker streets, shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, just before the storm broke. The little fellow was running to his home and was on the crossing when the hack which was driven by a Mr. Noel, in the employ of Undertaker Albert, came along the road. Inasmuch as there was a high wind and the street was filled with dust, the driver and the boy did not see each other. According to witnesses, the horses struck the boy and threw him down, while the heavy carriage passed over his back.

Passersby rushed to his assistance, but before they reached him the boy was on his feet again and he ran to his home. There Dr. L. V. Rochette was called and upon examination he found two large wounds on each leg, and another on the back. The boy today is complaining of internal injuries, and his condition may be worse than it appears. However, those who saw the accident say the driver is not to blame.

pany, which has been pending since 1902.

It was claimed that the Beaver Brook mills, one of the largest woolen manufacturing plants in the country, situated on Beaver brook in Dracut, and owned by the defendant, so polluted the water that Bassett's mill, situated farther down the stream, and owned by Col. Percy Parker, had to discontinue the manufacture of paper.

Judge Morton held that the damages should be measured by the loss the mill would sustain if put to other uses, and such depreciation as was caused by pollution of the stream.

An injunction restraining the defendant from the pollution was ordered Nov. 1, 1907. Before that time it was held that dyes, oils and other forms of waste were dumped into the stream in such quantities that the paper manufactured by Bassett's mills was discolored and made soft.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO MURDER CHARGE

Dorr Arraigned in Court

SALEM, Mass., July 12.—William A. Dorr, the Stockton, Cal. man, who is charged with the murder of George E. Marsh, a soap manufacturer of Lynn, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in the superior court here today. No date for the trial was announced. Dorr apparently has recovered from the physical collapse he suffered at the time of his arrest.

The body of Mr. Marsh, pierced by several bullets, was found beside the Revere beach boulevard near Point of Pine March 11 last. The Lynn police after an extended investigation secured evidence which they claim connected Dorr with the case.

DANIEL GORDON OVERCOME BY HEAT AND TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Daniel Gordon, of 72 Adams street, was overcome by the heat at his home yesterday afternoon. Dr. Meahan was summoned and after he made an examination he ordered that the man be hurried to the hospital as quickly as possible. The ambulance was summoned and Gordon was taken to St. John's hospital. His condition was such that he was placed on the dangerous list but during the night he showed considerable improvement and is much better today.

LOWELL WOMAN LEFT TODAY FOR PORTLAND, OREGON

Where She Will Visit Son—More Immigrants Arrive Here—
Other Depot Notes

Mrs. G. L. Russell, who for the past several years has resided with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hall, the latter her daughter, at 526 Beacon street, left Lowell today for Portland, Ore., where she is to visit her son, David F. Morrison. Mr. Morrison has been in Portland for the past 11 years and has been very successful in the west. He is at the present time editor of the Portland Telegram, a newspaper in that city. He formerly resided in Chicago, where he also held a responsible position.

Mrs. Russell left Lowell on the noon train and was accompanied as far as Manchester by her daughter, Mrs. Hall. From there she will proceed to Portland and then to Chicago, where she will spend one day. She will then take a train for Spokane, Wash., where she will visit several friends. After a stay of a few days in the Washington city, she will board a train for her destination. Mrs. Russell plans to remain with her son for three months, after which she will return to Lowell.

The Lowell baseball players and Manager Gray and Secretary Cull left the Middlesex street depot on the 11:25 train for Worcester today.

The train due in Lowell at 11:06 for Boston was twenty minutes late today, due to the heavy travel.

One of the employees of the baggage department and his "intended" are enjoying a trip up north today.

Yesterday 45 immigrants arrived at the depot on the afternoon boat train from Fall River. None remained here, however, but took trains for Nashua, Plymouth, Berlin, Lincoln and North Woodstock.

During the week a large party of Greeks left Lowell for New York, from which place they will sail for the old country. There were about 150 in the party.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN DRACUT FIELD

Was Overcome by the Heat Today

A gruesome discovery was made this morning in a field in Greenmont avenue, Dracut, when the body of William Flynn was found, the man apparently having been dead for a couple of days.

Flynn, who was 32 years old, was employed in Dracut and was last seen Wednesday while loading hay. He suddenly became weak from the heat and left his work, going toward the house.

Deceased, who resided at 34 Melvin street, is survived by a wife, two children, a father, John, three brothers, John, Edward and Joseph; two sisters, Mrs. William Folsom and Miss Ellen Flynn.

The body was viewed by Medical Examiner Joe V. Meigs, but he has not yet signed the death certificate. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

UP-TO-DATE BUILDING TO BE ERECTED

On the Site of an Old Wood Yard

In pursuance of an order issued by the inspector of buildings the old shacks in the wood yard in Paige street, near John street, have been torn down and the owner of the property, Mr. Thomas F. Morris, has made application for a permit to build an up-to-date block to take the place of the old wood yard. The building will be of brick, 35 to 37 feet, four stories, there will be two stores on the lower floor and four rooms on each of the other floors. The building will be modernly equipped throughout.

The pulling down of the old wood yard shacks has left exposed the rear of an old house fronting on Pollard avenue. The building is in bad shape and has been considered an eyesore and a fire trap for years.

GOV. WILSON

PUTS THE FINAL TOUCHES TO HIS MESSAGE

SEA GIRT, N. J., July 12.—Gov. Wilson put the final touches today on the message which Robert S. Hudspeth will carry for him to the democratic national committee in Chicago next Monday. The suggestions were discussed with him by Judge Hudspeth and other leaders.

The governor has made up his mind, he said, as to whom he will select for national chairman, but will make no announcement of his choice, except to the committee. Judge Hudspeth will carry an oral message, refreshing his memory from memoranda which the governor has made out for his guidance.

WITHDRAWS PETITION

Eli Croteau has withdrawn his petition for a lunch cart privilege at the corner of Race and Merrimack streets. The permit to keep a cart there was granted him by the municipal council at its last meeting. The matter, however, had to remain ten days in the city clerk's office in order to allow time for remonstrants to file their objections. A Mr. Hall remonstrated and in view of the remonstrance Mr. Croteau withdrew his petition.

SMITH HAS NOT RESIGNED

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, who has been reported as about to resign his office, that he might be free to join a new party headed by Col. Roosevelt, returned to Washington today. Mr. Smith declared that he had not resigned but to all other inquiries his reply was "I have nothing to say."

WEATHER REPORTS SUSPENDED
WASHINGTON, July 12.—Despite the discontinuance of weather reports from a considerable number of points, as a result of the failure of congress to pass the agricultural appropriation bill, no real embarrassment to the weather bureau is expected. Acting Chief Williams of the bureau said that the suspension of reports had not seriously affected the service. The points dropped will be taken on again as soon as possible.

The members of Carillon council, U. S. St. Ste. d'A., will hold a special meeting at C. M. A. C. hall this evening for the purpose of electing three officers to fill vacancies, and also to select a delegate to the convention of the union to be held in Fall River in September. The meeting will be followed by an entertainment and smoke talk.

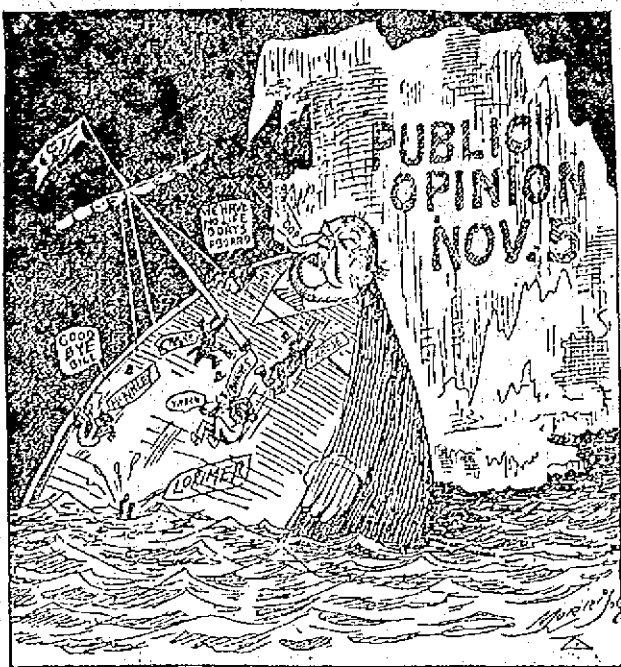

Mr. John Mayo leaves tonight for Canada, where he will spend the next two weeks.

There will be an anniversary, high mass of requiem sung at the Immaculate Conception church Monday morning at 8 o'clock for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Anna Cooney Gallagher.

FREE SCHOLARSHIPS AT THE INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Each Senatorial District in the State is Entitled to Two Places

The following act, or part of act, passed by the legislature of 1912, and having to do with free scholarships for the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is important. Chapter 78 of the acts and resolves for 1912 provided for eighty one-half scholarships for the M. I. T., and that has been amended to read that annually there be paid from the treasury of the commonwealth to the M. I. T. for a term of ten years beginning 1912, the sum of $100,000 to be expended under the direction of the corporation of the institute. The condition is imposed that the payment of $100,000 for the year 1917 and four years thereafter shall not be allowed unless the institute delivers requests amounting to $100,000. The purpose of the $100,000 is to furnish 80 free scholarships which are to be granted to residents or minor children of residents, who, upon examination conducted under such rules and regulations the president of the institute shall prescribe, shall be found to possess the qualifications fixed for the admission of candidates.

Two such scholarships shall be allotted for each senatorial district of the state, but if there are less than two the scholarships are to be distributed among other districts.

If three or more properly qualified candidates make application from any senatorial district, the board of education shall, at the request of the senator of the district, grant four half scholarships and one whole scholarship.

Candidates must make application before July first each year and shall forward the approval in writing of the senator of the district.

Properly qualified candidates who are unable to bear the cost of tuition will be given preference among applicants.

There are at present eighty half scholarships in force which shall continue as full scholarships until courses of students are completed.

Misuse of Foreign Flags
Included in the acts passed by the legislature of the current year is an act relative to the misuse of foreign flags and it is of general interest. It reads, in substance, as follows:

Whoever publicly mutilates, tramples upon, defaces or treats contemptuously the flag or emblem of a foreign country at peace with the United States, whether such flag or emblem is public or private property, or whoever displays such flag or emblem or any representation thereof upon which are words, figures, advertisements or designs, shall be punished by a fine not less than five or more than fifty dollars. This act was approved March 5, 1912.

Another "Battle of the Alamo" Has Stirred Passions of Americans

Within the memory of living persons the cry, "Remember the Alamo!" stirred the passions of Americans to anger and aroused thoughts of vengeance and retribution on the Mexicans. Again the cry of "Remember the Alamo!" is heard. With it are now combined others, such as "Preserve the Alamo!" and "Let no new building be erected on the Alamo ground!"

Texas is stirred by the cries. To the patriotic Texan, with a knowledge of the history of his state, with a remembrance of its interesting and heroic past, with a reverence for the names and fame of the men who conquered it from the Mexicans and made possible its inclusion in the American republic, the Alamo is a shrine, a goal of patriotic pilgrimage, to be preserved forever.

It was in the Alamo, or old mission of San Antonio de Valero, in the city of San Antonio, Texas, on March 6, 1836, that the five survivors of 180 Texans and Americans led by Crockett and Bowie and others succumbed to the attacks of many times their number. They had endured twelve days of siege, hardship and wounds, had seen their comrades drop wounded and dying and had not given in. They were now overpowered by weight of numbers and could do no more in cold blood.

It was one of the most wonderful fights in the history of the world. It was the culmination of the Texan war for independence and it furnished the Texans fighting at San Jacinto on April 21, 1836, the battery which sounded the doom of Mexican rule north of the Rio Grande. The battle of the Alamo is known in history as the "American Thermopylae," and it is recorded in pride and in sorrow and in reverence at the names of the heroes and the names of the fallen. The words are inscribed on the Alamo monument in the capital of Texas and are true to those of many another memorial inscription.

The story of the Alamo has been written so often and by pens so able that it is known to all school children and students of American history. Briefly told, it relates that the Alamo consisted of a church, an enclosed convent and a hundred foot square, a plaza covering about two and a half acres, protected by a wall eight feet high and thirty-three inches thick. It was erected about 1722. Here the small company of Texans and Americans took refuge in February, 1835, and awaited attack by General Santa Anna with a vastly superior force. After a bombardment lasting almost continuously from Feb. 23 to March 6, a small breach was made in the wall. On the morning of March 6 the Mexicans assaulted in force. They were driven back with great loss twice, but scaled the parapet in the third attempt and a desperate hand to hand conflict ensued. The Texans, although weakened by privation, fatigue and as it is, since it is impossible to restore it to its original condition, and they favor also the building of an inclosing wall in the old Spanish style. Of the original buildings, only the chapel remains.

By act of the legislature Texas gave the care of the Alamo into the willing hands of the Daughters, after Mrs. Sevier, then Miss Driscoll, had purchased the property to preserve it from destruction and had sold to the state for the price which she had paid. It was enacted that no changes should be made in the property without the consent of the Daughters. They are opposed to the parking of the property and to other changes. They have obtained an injunction to prevent the proposed changes at least until the legislature, which convenes early next year, can pass upon them.

The young woman upon whom the honorable title of "Custodian of the Alamo" has been bestowed, in recognition of her successful efforts to preserve this shrine of patriotism is the daughter of a wealthy Texan and the wife of a direct descendant of General John Sevier, the famous pioneer and warrior of revolutionary days. She is well known as the author of the book of the light opera "Mexicana."

ARMY REORGANIZATION
WASHINGTON, July 12.—Conferences were continued today by the army council at the war department on proposed methods of army reorganization. One of the important matters taken up by the council is the method of quartering troops. It has been proposed that the expensive army posts now maintained be abolished and the army quartered by regiments in the various cities of the country. This it was pointed out, would leave the men discharged after serving a single term in the immediate vicinity of their regiments and would operate to establish an effective reserve.

OUT FOR WILSON

The Springfield Republican, one of the most influential newspapers in Massachusetts, has declared itself in favor of Wilson for president. The Republican is a tower of strength in politics. Independent in politics, though republican in name, it wields a strong influence for the candidate of its choice. Most of all the republican defection throughout the country will go to Wilson as the only genuine progressive. The Roosevelt move to capture the progressives has failed flat and cannot be revived.

What the Republican says on the subject is of interest to all voters and especially to democrats as indicating their excellent choice in nominating Wilson. Here is the statement:—

"An administration with Wilson at its head would insure at least the desirable reduction in the tariff which this country probably could not secure in any other way. The time has come when that task, so long and scandalously delayed, should be performed; and we see no prospect of its being done by the republican party in its disorganized and enfeebled condition. The aggressions of wealth would be checked, the solution of the trust problem advanced, and our foreign relations managed with the purpose of maintaining peace and promoting friendship between nations.

"President Taft is to be released from his heavy burden at the end of his present term. The difficulties in the way of his reelection, created by Mr. Roosevelt's bolt from the republican party, and now still more increased by the strongest nomination the democrats could have made, substantially eliminate the regular republican ticket.

"Entertaining great respect for Mr. Taft and his honest efforts to promote progressive policies under republican auspices and govern without hysteria or demagogism, independents and progressives, who will not consent with Theodore Roosevelt in his third-term ambition, view the candidacy of Governor Wilson with satisfaction and anticipate with confidence his triumph at the polls."

THREATS OF DYNAMITE

The I. W. W. is adopting rather radical measures for the purpose of securing the release of Eitor from an Essex county jail. District Attorney H. C. Atwill has been so bombarded with threatening letters that he has had to call upon the Lynn police for protection. The writers threaten to destroy his home by dynamite and to have his blood under Eitor be released forthwith. Judging from the record of the I. W. W. these threats cannot safely be taken as idle talk. A guard of police has been placed around Mr. Atwill's home and he moves about apparently little concerned over the threats against his life. Had the authorities been contemplating the speedy trial of Eitor this might delay matters as a man who has such confederates must be a dangerous character.

THE THAW CASE

There is something very comical in the efforts of the Thaw lawyers to prove that their client is sane. They have to disprove what they proved by expert testimony at the trial by which he was saved from the electric chair. The object now being to have him released from the insane asylum, expert alienists are found who declare him quite sane and fit to be set free to live as a member of society without a stain upon his conscience so far as a court decision is concerned. The case of Thaw is a typical illustration of how a criminal can escape the penalties of the law by the use of money.

FOSS FOR SENATOR

Governor Foss may be a candidate for United States senator next year. It is reported that he will run for a third term and that Hon. David I. Walsh will be the candidate for lieutenant governor. There is little doubt that Foss can be reelected governor next year, but as to senator that is a different proposition and one that may rest with republican politicians unless the democrats have a majority in the general court. His Excellency is a shrewd politician, however, and can do largely as he pleases in Massachusetts politics.

The tariff is largely responsible for the high cost of living because it is the mother of trusts which establish monopolies and fleece the people as they please. Protected against foreign competition they throttle competition in the domestic market empowering the dealers to fleece the consumer as they please. Of course even under trust direction it may happen that the supply of potatoes or of meat may be rather short. The government should regulate that by removing the tariff where necessary. There should be no tariff on the staple necessities of life. Potatoes and meat should be allowed to enter free of duty and so with many other leading necessities of life.

The occasional evidence of the failure of juries to render just verdicts is one of the strongest reasons against the recall of judges. There should be some authority on the bench that will be protected against popular clamor in the administration of justice. Otherwise we shall have mob rule instead of an administration of justice that is no respecter of persons.

Roosevelt's whim that he was robbed of the nomination has not brought him much sympathy. The republican national committee is to publish a report of the testimony offered. Roosevelt should publish a counter report. His claim for a third term is made on a flimsy foundation.

Roosevelt is conducting a sort of back action campaign. He is planning to steal the Taft presidential electors although he poses as the first and foremost American exponent of the command "Thou shalt not steal."

The frugation of vessels from Cuba to drive out rats that are supposed to carry the yellow plague germs is an innovation at the ports of New York and Boston, but a necessary precaution nevertheless.

During the hot weather horses driven through the city should be protected by some head-covering with a wet sponge underneath. Several horses were overcome on Wednesday because of exposure and lack of any precaution such as here recommended.

Our smoke inspector is generally supposed to be smoking the pipe of peace at city hall, or some other cooler resort. We hope to hear from him before the fall.

The Americans are leading the world at the Olympic games at Stockholm. Victory in such a contest will speak volumes for American brawn and endurance.

SEEN AND HEARD

The weather of the past few days has breathed a spirit of vacation life more than anything else. And that reminds me of an incident that happened to two friends of mine who went from the beach, where they were enjoying a vacation, to Newburyport, last summer. Newburyport, as you doubtless know, is one of those staid old seaport towns, with little to denote progress in any line of human endeavor. Yet within the home of some fine people. But I am digressing from my original theme. The two young men in question left their cottage at the beach one Saturday bent on having some tonsorial work done, for Lowell boys, from time immemorial, are wont to be happy and up to snuff when they have their best Sunday clothes on. In the course of time they sought out a hair-dressing place, and noting the hour, just 10 minutes before the noon meal, they said one to the other, that it would insure their getting back to the beach at 1 o'clock. The proprietor of the shop was standing in the doorway, and as they mounted the steps, he said: "I'm sorry gentlemen but I'm about to close up, for dinner and hence I can't shave you." Both young men stood still stunned at the thought of a man in business turning down a chance to make a dollar because he wanted to eat. One fellow, a very keen chap, and clever in a good many ways speaking about the matter was inclined to philosophize, saying that the quest for the almighty dollar didn't seem to be on in such real earnest as in his home town, and perhaps they live longer than they do here.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the woman suffrage leader, has had occasion to illustrate the natural ability of a woman to deal with a now or extraordinary situation. Says she:

"There was one American husband who was very much displeased because his wife had bought a few puffs of false hair.

"Concocting a little plan of his own, he hid in the hall one day when his better half was getting ready to make some calls.

"Caroline," he said, in a voice of stern reproach, "Why, under the heavens, do you put the hair of another woman—probably a dead one—on your head?"

"Why," replied his wife, without turning around from the mirror, "do you put the skin of another calf—surely a dead one—on your hands?"

Julia Marlowe, the charming Shakespearean actress, tells a story at the expense of the less brilliant members of her profession.

"The late Richard Mansfield's company had been rehearsing more or less faithfully for an hour when the hypercritical star himself arrived unexpectedly.

"For several seconds Mr. Mansfield watched the rehearsal—his expressive

SKIN TROUBLE ON HANDS, ARMS, LEGS

And Feet. Some on Body. Formed Dry Scabs. When He Scratched Water Would Come Out. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Stopped the Itching and Cured Him.

173 Paris St., East Boston, Mass.—"I have a little boy eight years old who had sores on his hands, arms, legs, feet, and some on his body. They formed dry scabs. I had him treated and it looked worse; it was spreading. In the night he scratched so much that in the morning he was all blood and his head also was a mess with blood and scabs. When he scratched the sores, matter and water would come out from them. I bought a box of—, and that did not do any good, and I was discouraged. My aunt said to me, 'Why don't you try Cuticura Ointment and Soap?' She said it would stop that itch and give it a chance to heal. The next day I got a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap. I gave him a good bath with the Cuticura Soap and put the Cuticura Ointment on him all over where the sores were. He slept that night all right. I only had to use two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and two cakes of Cuticura Soap and he was all cured and has never had sores since." (Signed) Mrs. John J. Girdler, Jan. 20, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

face running the gamut of emotions. "Wait a minute—wait a minute!" impatiently called out the pompous stage manager. "Where are those two jackasses that are supposed to come down that hill on this girl's cue?"

"Thereupon Mr. Mansfield abruptly interrupted him.

"Go on—go on with the scene—he ordered, authoritatively. Then he turned to the stage manager, and patted his shoulder. "I don't think it will be necessary to have those two jackasses brought in at all. It looks to me as if there were enough on the stage already."

Mrs. Hetty Green, who is probably the richest woman in America, personally manages her large properties with such marvelous success that one readily understands why she has told the following:

"I have heard of a Scotch storekeeper out in Alaska who was visited by a commercial traveler at Christmas time.

"Here's a box of cigars for you, Sandy," said the commercial man, and I hope you'll enjoy them."

"Na, na!" said Sandy. "I couldn't tak' 'em—I never dae business that way."

"Tut, tut—nonsense, sir!" exclaimed the traveler; "it's a Christmas box."

"Na, na, na!" I never tak' anything fer naething."

"Well, give me a clue for the box. If that will ease your conscience."

"Ay, ay! Well, let me see," said Sandy, opening his gold-dust drawer. "There be a silver quarter here—I'll tak' three boxes."

AS CHILDREN DO

Sometimes when night is creeping down

And all the world about is dim,

And he must go to Sleepytown,

You lie down at the side of him

And whisper soothing little things

In childish words such as you frame

To tell the sound of beetle wings

And how the firefly gets its flame.

And soon the world grows darker yet

And to the little fellow's eyes

Strange, hidden dangers now beset

The shadow places in the skies;

But you speak low and comforting

And tell him none of them are there.

That near him is not anything

But what is good and kind and fair.

Then trembling come his little hands

Out through the dark and find your face.

As though by touch he understands

That he is in the safest place;

And so with fingers on your cheek

He slugs contentedly to sleep—

And you—your never not even speak.

So very, very still you keep.

Some time you, as a little child,

Shall fare to an unknown night

And shall yearn for the stars that smiled.

With all their soothing, drowsy light;

space.

And sigh in peace to sleep, when you

At last have touched your Father's

MILK DEALERS

HAVE DECIDED TO RAISE THE PRICE

WEBSTER, July 12.—A majority of the dealers met today and voted to raise the price of milk to eight cents per quart, the new price to go into effect July 15.

Since the dry spell began, there has been an increased demand for milk and the supply has been considerably less.

Where three weeks ago the Webster milk dealers were taking home from one to four cans a day after making their routes, they are now returning empty-handed and are forced to cut off some of their customers with no milk at all.

Charles Deary, one of the dealers, said at the meeting: "We are going to have a hard time getting enough milk for our customers unless we have some rain right away. One rainstorm will not make a great deal of difference. We have got to have three or four before any material good will result. It has been so dry that the feed is running short and the cows are not giving the quantity of milk that they usually do.

On the other hand, the people seem to be demanding it more and more. The supply is getting shorter every day and only continued rain for several days will put it anywhere near the normal mark again."
